WET-TOPING DRY-VOTING CONGRESSMEN CENSURED

Mrs. Willebrandt Tells of Liquor Traffic in Capitol and Conduct of Drunken Lawmakers

BY MABEL WALKER WILLEBRANDT

(In this article Mrs. Willebrandt takes up the question of the wet-drinking, dry-voting Congressmen. She tells how bootleggers infest the halls and corridors of Congress and asks why it is that warrants cannot be obtained to search government buildings and stop the liquor traffic [illegible] why "freedom of the port" allows the passage of trunks which [illegible] barrels and assorted bottled liquor.)

I have been asked often "How can you have the heart to prosecute a bootlegger, send a man to jail for six months or a year for selling a pint or a quart of whisky, when you know as a fact that the men who make the laws and appropriate the money for prohibition are themselves patronizing bootleggers?

The only reply I can make to this is that I took my oath to uphold the law, and enforce it I must to the best of my ability, regardless of my own disgust with the hypocrisy of personally wet [illegible] who vote dry.

I have not lived in Washington [illegible] years without becoming [illegible] acquainted with the fact that [illegible] Congressmen and Senators [illegible] vote [illegible] the [illegible] to aid [illegible] are [illegible] of the Volstead law. Senators and Representatives [illegible] appeared [illegible] the floor of [illegible] Senate and [illegible] in a [illegible] condition. During the [illegible] days of [illegible] session of Congress, one [illegible] objected to and prevented [illegible] passage of important legislation [illegible] in such a condition of intoxication that he had to hold to [illegible] to keep himself upright. [illegible] argued with him in an [illegible] to persuade him to leave the [illegible], but he refused. His condition [illegible] apparent to every member of the Senate and to hundreds of people in the galleries.

BOOTLEGGERS IN CAPITOL

[illegible] that probably nothing has [illegible] to disgust and alienate [illegible] men and women who originally [illegible] favored the prohibition amendment and its strict enforcement [illegible] than the hypocrisy of [illegible] dry-voting Congressmen. Bootleggers infest the [illegible] corridors of Congress and [illegible] trade there. It is not the [illegible] of the Department of Justice [illegible] cases;" its duty is to [illegible] cases in which evidence [illegible] gathered by the prohibition [illegible] of the Treasury Department. Congress makes all the appropriations for evidence gathering [illegible] Treasury Department.

I have had no agents working [illegible] my direction whom I could [illegible] to gather the evidence. I have urged that the Treasury [illegible] direct agents to investigate [illegible] case thoroughly, even [illegible] it may lead into the halls [illegible], and if real evidence is [illegible] I have guaranteed that the [illegible] of Justice would prosecute [illegible] case just like any other, [illegible] by United States attorneys [illegible] from my office.

[illegible] have no search warrants

ZEPPELIN ON TOKIO HOP

New Take-off at 4:52 a.m.

Weather May Aid Eckener in Perilous Flight Over Uncharted Steppes

Japan Trip of Globe-Circling Quest to Take 120 Hours, Pilot Estimates

NUREMBERG (Bavaria) Aug. 15 (Thursday.) (AP)—The Graf Zeppelin passed near Nuremberg at 6:15 a.m. (12:15 a.m., E.S.T.) Nuremberg is about 150 miles north and east of Friedrichshafen on the direct course to Berlin.

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN (Germany) Aug. 15. (Thursday) (AP)—The air liner Graf Zeppelin left her home port at 4:34 a.m. today (10:34 p.m. eastern standard time, Wednesday) for Tokio, the second stop on her epoch-making flight around the world.

WEATHER FAVORABLE

The morning was almost windless and the clear sky greatly facilitated getting the airship out of her hangar through the west entry.

A perilous flight of 6000 to 7000 miles faces the huge dirigible to the Land of the Rising Sun, much of which lies over territory unmapped and unexplored.

With twenty passengers and a crew of forty aboard, Dr. Hugo Eckener, veteran of four crossings of the Atlantic Ocean, entered upon his longest and most perilous voyage.

The commander of the globe-circling Graf estimates the flight will take 120 hours under the most favorable circumstances. The Graf's greatest test previously was 111 hours on her first trans-Atlantic voyage.

IN TOKIO MONDAY

The Zeppelin will be in Tokio, barring accidents, on Monday night at the very earliest, after crossing European Russia, over some of the wildest territory existing on the earth, the Steppes of Siberia.

Dr. Eckener's immediate course lies northeast of Friedrichshafen to Berlin, Danzig and Moscow. Everything in the latter part of the course will depend on the weather the Zeppelin encounters.

Lady Grace Drummond Hay of London was the first passenger to enter the gondola.

At 4:05 a.m. (10:25 p.m. E.S.T., Wednesday,) the motors of the Graf began humming.

Half an hour later she was off.

In addition to sixty-one human beings, the dirigible carries a cargo of 50,000 pieces of mail and 25,000 kilos of oil, gasoline, baggage and equipment.

She is buoyed by 70,000 cubic feet of hydrogen and supplied with almost 25,000 cubic meters of blau gas.

By the time the Graf's motors were running all the passengers were aboard.

At 4:18 a.m., Dr. Eckener slipped into the gondola.

At 4:49 a.m., orders were given to move the dirigible out of the hangar and a few minutes later she was on the field.

PERILOUS TRIP

Dr. Eckener admitted that the Tokio flight is the most perilous long-distance journey the Zeppelin has yet attempted. He estimated that the Graf should be able to keep moving for 150 hours in an emergency.

The average speed of sixty miles an hour throughout the trip of 7000 miles will bring the Graf into Tokio with at least thirty hours running time to spare.

In case of unfavorable weather, Dr. Eckener has just this margin of thirty hours to count upon.

No attempt to get aboard was made by any stowaways on this departure, Dr. Eckener said. Even the runway along the top of the hangar was guarded.

The only difficulty experienced was with Nelson Morris of Chicago, who had bought a ticket round the world from the Hamburg-American tourist agency but had been forbidden to go on board by the Zeppelin Company.

TICKET NOT HONORED

Mr. Morris appeared with the other passengers and walked up the gangway, but was stopped by Capt. Von Schiller, who explained that when Mr. Morris bought his tickets at Lakehurst he had been told they were only valid if there was space available beyond Friedrichshafen.

Mr. Morris was on the verge of tears as he watched the Graf move out of the hangar. He told bystanders it was the greatest disappointment of his life not to be able to make the Tokio flight.

He controlled himself, however, and remarked. "It just happened to be my bad luck."

He then joined the crowd in cheers as the Graf mounted into the air.

NONREFUEL ENDURANCE PAIR HUM ON

Reid and Bronte Declare Plane Behaving Well After First Sixteen Hours Aloft

LONG BEACH, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—Its first sixteen hours completed at 10 p.m. tonight in an endurance flight which seeks to set a new world mark for nonrefueling, the single-motored Emsco monoplane is circling easily over the municipal airport. The monoplane took off here at 6 a.m. Conditions are perfect for flying tonight.

At 7 p.m. the pilots, Jack Reid and Emory Bronte, dropped a note, as follows: "Motors doing fine. Oil pressure O. K. Making sixteen gallons to the hour."

The endurance flyers expect to decrease the amount used per hour as their monoplane's load lightens.

Reid and Bronte took off with 830 gallons of gasoline and expect to remain in the air about seventy hours. Reid is chief pilot for the Emsco Corporation. Bronte was one of the pilots of the first civilian plane to fly to the Hawaiian Islands.

A plane thought to be that piloted by Reid and Bronte was reported circling over San Diego for a part of today.

Test of Racer Plane Balked

ANNAPOLIS (Md.) Aug. 14. (AP)—A stiff southwest wind which made the Severn River decidedly rough delayed again today the flight test of Lieut. Al Williams's Mercury seaplane racer.

The naval pilot waited all day in the hope that the wind would die down, but it did not and the plane remained covered on the wharf at the Naval Academy. Bad weather also is predicted for tomorrow.

DUTY PUT ON BANANAS

SAN JOSE (Costa Rica) Aug. 14. (AP)—The National Congress yesterday definitely approved the imposition of an export duty on bananas. The export duty will range from 3 centavos to 5 centavos per bunch.

LIQUOR BLOCKADE BROKEN

Detroit Charges Main Streets Being Used by Rum Runners to Deliver Cargoes

DETROIT, Aug. 14. (AP)—The Detroit News today said that downtown Detroit streets have been used by rum runners for the unloading of regular daily shipments of Canadian liquor for several weeks.

The docks, located at the end of Third street, Wayne street, Cass avenue and Clark avenue, thoroughfares cutting through the heart of the business district, are the American depots for smuggled liquor, according to river men and steamship officials who have witnessed the operations. Shipments are made daily at 7 a.m., 10:30 a.m. and at noon, and gangs of armed men take possession of the docks at these times, preventing workmen from venturing too near. The contraband is quickly located into automobiles and rushed away by armed guards, it is said.

Disclosure of these successful attempts to break through the augmented prohibition forces patrolling the river came today after it was learned that a cargo had been landed at 10 a.m., yesterday in full view of scores of rivermen, bystanders and steamship officials at the foot of Wayne street. As usual armed guards were on hand to oversee the unloading operations of some forty cases of liquor. A customs picket boat had just passed down the river when the smugglers' craft made the crossing, it was reported.

Yesterday's successful penetration of the blockade was due to violation of orders, according to Walter S. Petty, acting Collector of Customs. The crew of the customs picket boat stationed in that area left its station to take on supplies of gasoline and oil in violation of orders, he said.

Divorce Action Filed in Nevada by Rhinelander

LAS VEGAS (Nev.) Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—The latest attempt of Leonard Kip Rhinelander, now paunchy scion of one of New York's oldest families, to free himself from his colored wife, Alice Jones Rhinelander, daughter of a New Rochelle (N. Y.) jitney bus driver, became a court action here late this afternoon.

Rhinelander, who has bought much Nevada property and became interested in politics during his six months' residence here, seeks a divorce, charging that Alice Jones Rhinelander "took advantage" of his "youth and inexperience."

He adds that this dusky bride, through "artifices and wiles" so dominated him that she induced him to forsake his family and friends "so that they became estranged from him."

The complaint also says that such conduct on the part of the quadroon girl who married Rhinelander caused such "distress of mind and mental suffering that he separated from the defendant to prevent complete prostration."

Will Rogers Remarks:

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 14. [To the Editor of The Times:] The German Zeppelin is on its round-the-world trip. The German steamship Bremen broke the world's record in crossing the Atlantic. Their commerce is getting back strong. All of these things are the greatest illustration that war is useless.

They were getting too strong commercially for some other nations fifteen years ago, and now the war has been over eleven years and they are excelling in the same things again. It don't do no good to whip a man, if he is beating you at anything. When he gets up he can still beat you at the same things. You only delay him, and you don't stop him.

BRITAIN INVADES LATIN AIR

[Copyright, 1929, by the Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—The Atlantic Airways, British company, registered on June 5, without any flourish of trumpets or roll of drums, has been working silent and secretly for eighteen months in order to prevent America from establishing a monopoly of the air routes to the West Indies and Central and South America. Today it felt confident enough of a successful outcome to explain openly its projects.

H. W. Garraway and George G. Black, London agents of the company, told of negotiations between British, colonial and Venezuelan governments in connection with the projected air routes, which they plan to begin operating early next year. Seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars, necessary to put the first section of the scheme into operation, was pledged to shipping interests through English and Canadian banks. The British, West Indian and colonial governments are being asked to divide between them the burden of paying annual subsidy of $150,000.

Working in secret was necessary to prevent the Americans from forestalling them, the British explained, adding there was danger of the western half of the British Empire having its air routes monopolized by America. Now the idea is to link Great Britain with the West Indies, Canada and Venezuela in gigantic network encircling the North and South American continents.

Plans are divided into three sections. The first provides for opening routes from Trinidad to British Guiana and Venezuela, respectively, in order to link up with the rich oil districts of the latter country. The second is development of services from Trinidad to Barbados and Jamaica by way of the Leeward Isles.

The third and final line will extend the service from Jamaica by way of the Bahamas and Bermuda to Montreal, Can.

NAVAL PACT DUE SOON

Agreement Well Along Way

President Holds Breakfast Conference With Aides on Subject

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—The negotiations between Ambassador Dawes and Prime Minister MacDonald on the question of naval armament limitation have reached the point where a definite and basic agreement is being sought by Great Britain and the United States.

President Hoover and Secretary Stimson are known to feel the negotiations have progressed sufficiently toward a settlement of the question that a specific agreement on basic factors can be hoped for in a few weeks. In fact, the negotiations were said in official circles today to have reached the stage of the formulation of definite proposals, instead of solely informal discussions.

To discuss the subject of naval limitation, President Hoover conferred at a breakfast at the White House this morning with Secretaries Stimson and Adams, Undersecretary Cotton of the State Department and the members of the Navy's general board. The breakfast meeting was in line with the Chief Executive's policy of co-operation between the technical experts of the Navy and diplomatic officials of the State Department, who have been interested in the negotiations on naval limitation.

DISCUSSION DISCLOSED

After the breakfast Secretary Stimson said that both the broad and technical aspects of the whole limitation question were discussed. He added that one of the purposes of the conference was to make sure that differences would not arise between the viewpoints of the technical and diplomatic officials on the problem.

A full and frank discussion of the whole question took place, the Secretary said, with a particular view to procuring the full co-operation of the officials of the two departments. He emphasized that the conference was not called because of any crisis in the situation, as it was feared such an interpretation of the meeting might be drawn.

There was considerable speculation after the conference as to the possibility whether the "yardstick" was discussed or whether the conference foreshadowed the submission of an American "yardstick" formula to the League of Nations preparatory disaramament commission, but it was made known on high authority that the United States as yet has not submitted its formula to the League.

At the meeting of the League commission last spring, Hugh S. Gibson, American Ambassador to Belgium, and head of the American delegation to the commission, proposed the "yardstick" as a formula for measuring relative naval strength, with age, armor, gunpower, speed, etc., considered as factors in a ship's strength as well as tonnage.

The present discussions of the administration officials have not reached the point where the "yardstick" could be put to practical use. The present problem, it is said, is to procure a definite agreement on naval requirements with the application of the "yardstick" in a technical way later in determining relative strength as a factor for the attainment of parity or equality of naval forces.

ITALIAN COUNT SCOFFS AT PARITY PLAN

WILLIAMSTOWN (Mass.) Aug. 14. (AP)—The world is approaching the problem of disarmament from the wrong direction in attempting to reach the solution through naval parity, Count Giovanni Elia of Rome, Italian naval expert, and inventor of a depth bomb, told members of the Institute of Politics today.

Parity of factories producing armaments is the essential factor to be considered, he declared. "It is necessary to do everything possible to avoid a new war and naval disarmament tends toward this end," he said, "but to talk of naval parity is absurd, for naval parity means nothing whatsoever.

"The ideal of establishing an absolute naval parity is unattainable, I am convinced, for even if the fleets of Great Britain and the United States should be made absolutely equal, there would still remain the vastly superior industrial power, and the unassailable geographical position of the United States."

CHINA FACES NEW CRISIS

Manchuria Pot Again Boils

Border Troops in Skirmish as Rail Negotiations Come to Naught

Nanking and Mukden Envoys to Parley Fall Out and Imperil Peace

TOKIO, Aug. 14. (AP)—After weeks of negotiations and alarming but unconfirmed rumors of war, the dispute between Russia and China over Chinese seizure of the Chinese Eastern Railway today became much graver in character.

Japanese News Agency dispatches from Manchuli, Manchuria, report that Russian and Chinese troops engaged in a skirmish on the heights west of the town. Chinese infantry is said to have returned fire by Russian patrols.

From Harbin it is reported that three Russian gunboats landed troops in three Chinese villages on the Amur River above the confluence with the Sungari River.

PEACE EFFORT FAILS

All Chinese attempts to negotiate a settlement of the railway dispute are said at Manchuli to have failed.

Serious disagreements between the Chinese diplomats are said to have been largely responsible for the failure of the negotiations, in Harbin messages. Chu Shao-Yang, the Nanking government's envoy, and Tsai Yun Sheng, representative of Mukden, disputed over the manner in which a settlement was to be reached. The correspondent of the Japanese newspaper Asahi reports that Chu ordered the arrest of Tsai because Nanking charged Tsai with exceeding his authority and playing into the hands of the Russian envoys.

Rengo Agency dispatches merely said that Chu telegraphed Nanking denouncing the attitude of Mukden officials.

ON HUNGER STRIKE

Rengo dispatches from Harbin said thirty-nine Russian citizens arrested in the Chinese raid on the Russian Consulate-General May 27, had begun a hunger strike because they had been imprisoned so long without the semblance of a trial.

GOVERNOR OF MANCHURIA BEGINS BORDER WARFARE

MUKDEN (Manchuria) Aug. 14. (AP)—The Governor of Kirin today reported that Chang Hsueh-Liang, Governor of Manchuria, and Russians began hostilities against each other yesterday.

On the eastern front he reported 300 marines with two airplanes from gunboats on the Sungari River, occupied two small towns, while on the western front, Nordun, near Manchuli, which is in Manchuria, was occupied.

WHITE RUSSIANS REPORTED JOINING CHINESE ATTACK

MOSCOW, Aug. 14. (AP)—Official notice of actual combats on soviet soil growing out of Sino-Russian antagonism in Manchuria, Northeastern China, was given today in an announcement published by Tass, official agency.

The Tass announcement said Russians on Russian soil had been killed and wounded by "White Russians" supported by Chinese troops of the Manchurian garrison. It is said the attacks had been dispersed "by determined actions of our troops."

JEWS IN HARBIN FEAR ACTS OF WHITE RUSSIANS

MOSCOW, Aug. 14, (Jewish Telegraphic Agency)—Disquieting reports of danger threatening the safety of the Jewish population of the city of Harbin, Manchuria, have reached the soviet press.

These reports said many Russian white guards are flocking to the city. They had organized an "actions committee" under the leadership of an officer named Tashkeff, who was responsible for many anti-Jewish pogroms in Russia during the Deniken period. The Jewish population is apprehensive. Heads of families are sending their wives and daughters away from the city.

DODGE CITY (Kan.) Aug. 14. (AP)—James Cafaro and Duke Lovell, both of Youngstown, O., escaped from the Gray County Jail at Cimarron, Kan., last night by making a rope from blankets and sliding from a fourth-floor window to the ground.

They were held for the asserted theft of an automobile in Los Angeles.

FRUIT FLY LARVAE AUDIBLE

Infected Citrus Fruit Owners Can Now Tune in on Dinner-Hour Program With Stethoscope

NEW YORK, Aug. 13. (Exclusive)—The American Telephone and Telegraph Company has announced that anyone who has a grapefruit with larvae of the Mediterranean fruit fly in it and wishes to listen in on the larvae at the dinner hour might do so with the aid of a stethoscope developed for the purpose at the Bell Telephone laboratories.

The larvae of the Mediterranean fruit fly have tusks like those of a walrus though somewhat smaller and the gnashing of the tusks at meal time is what betrays the larvae to the stethoscope listener.

Efforts to devise a microphone attachment which would enable listeners to hear the larva as he rambled about inside the grapefruit proved fruitless so he can be detected by this means only at meal time.

A study is now being made to ascertain whether he is regular in his eating hours.

RUM DRINKING AT CAPITOL DISGUSTS DRY ADVOCATES

POLITICS AND DRY LAW MELON

How the crooked politicians handed enforcement jobs to ward-heelers and sluggers in the early days of prohibition and how the fight to appoint unfit agents is carried right up to the doors of the Attorney-General is related by Mabel Walker Willebrandt in the twelfth article of her remarkable series on prohibition. "The Patronage Curse" appears in tomorrow's issue of The Times.

ever been issued to rout bootleggers in government buildings? I know of no reason in law to prevent searches and seizures for law violations in the Capitol or in the House and Senate office buildings. As a matter of fact, it is my opinion, as a lawyer, that the constitutional immunity protecting a member of Congress from arrest does not apply to criminal offenses committed by him, and that upon a proper showing of probable cause a warrant may issue for the search of the office of such member, either in the Capitol or in the Senate and House office building, and for the seizure of contraband articles found therein.

I know one agent tried to obtain such a search warrant, but it was advised that no warrant could issue to search any spot at the Capitol. That is bad law and bad policy. I believe in using all legal steps for the enforcement of the prohibition law against members of Congress and those who supply them with liquor to the same extent and with the same degree of diligence as against any private citizen and his source of illicit liquor. I believe such enforcement would command respect.

CONGRESSMEN SNEER AT LAW

I have found, however, a curious impression or state of mind among members of Congress and other government officials that they are above and beyond the inhibitions of the prohibition law. Their attitude would be amusing if it were not so tragic in its effect upon the great mass of people who abhor the hypocrisy manifested by dry-wet officials. There is no legal foundation for extending "freedom of the port" or special privileges of that character to Congressmen returning from abroad.

Yet only within the last few months a Congressman wrote to the Undersecretary of the Treasury requesting freedom of the port on his return to the United States, and the request was granted. The customs collector at the port of entry was told by his superiors in Washington to "extend the usual customs courtesies and free-entry privilege" to the Congressman.

MICHAELSON CASE

When Representative Michaelson, another whose case brought "freedom of the port" into the public attention, landed from abroad he declared fourteen pieces of baggage. He was accompanied by four people, one of whom declared three pieces of baggage and the other six. Although the Representative was granted free entry privileges without examination of his baggage at the time of landing, he was asked if he had any liquor, and he replied that he did not. On the nine trunks brought in, three were checked to Washington and six to another destination from which they were rechecked to still another point. Before they were reshipped from the first terminal, however, they were searched and seized.

One trunk contained nothing but a barrel of rum, the interior of the trunk having been cut so that the barrel rested neatly in a hole in the tray made for that purpose. One trunk, which was found to be empty, was likewise seemingly cut, evidently to accommodate a keg of the same size. No doubt a keg had been in this trunk but had been stolen by some one en route. A third trunk containing wearing apparel, in which were packed twelve bottles of assorted liquors, and there was the remains of another bottle which had been broken. It was this broken bottle which attracted attention to the trunk and caused the seizure.

HYPOCRISY AN ENEMY

A few days after the seizure the Representative went to the offices of the head of the prohibition unit in Washington and demanded release of the trunks. The trunks were released, but the liquor was retained as evidence.

The Representative was indicted but recently received an acquittal from the jury in Florida. He denied knowledge that the trunks contained liquor. On the other hand, his brother-in-law who had been a member of the party entering the port testified that the trunks seized belonged to him and another member of the party, and not to the Representative. He refused, however, to answer questions which "might incriminate him." He now is awaiting trial.

CAUSTIC COMMENT

In another case involving a Congressman entering the port of New York, the members of the grand jury of the Southern District of New York made a statement from which I cull the following:

"We regard it as un-American and contrary to the fundamental principle of equality before the law that any citizen, merely because he is a Congressman or other official, should be exempted from inspection of baggage or from the operation of law or departmental regulations, while others who are merely part of the plain people are required to submit thereto. On the contrary, public officials should be the first to set the example of scrupulous acceptance and observance of the burdens of the law. While under the technical rules of the criminal law and in view of the nonexamination of the baggage following the grant of free entry, a criminal prosecution may not be possible in this case, nevertheless an official who prevented examination of baggage by claim of free entry and by threat of causing trouble in Washington cannot complain of the consequences when weighed in the forum of public opinion."

I think that every citizen, whether wet or dry, will agree with that statement of principle. Until politicians are made to obey the laws which they enact, we cannot expect respect for the law by those who are opposed not so much to prohibition as to hypocrisy.

WET JUNKETS

A common form of Congressional relaxation during which numerous legislators seem to regard themselves as beyond the inhibitions of the prohibition law are the so-called tropical junkets—trips of "inspection" to Panama, Porto Rico, Santo Domingo, Haiti, and other spheres over which this government exercises influence.

Of course, it is frequently necessary that those who promote laws pertaining to our possessions should get first-hand impressions of the effect of such enactments and understand local island conditions. Unfortunately, however, the activities of some members of these committees of inspection not always have been confined to that work, and have left inhabitants of our possessions with impressions anything but favorable concerning respect for our laws, and the men who make them.

How greatly disregard for our laws by our own legislators contrasts with the attitude of Sir Esme Howard, who, as ranking member of the diplomatic group, renders a sportsmanlike respect that the law does not compel.

BRITISH FAVORITE CALLED BY DEATH

Cyril Keightley

VETERAN OF STAGE DEAD IN NEW YORK

Cyril Keightley, British Favorite, Succumbs on Eve of Appearance

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—Cyril Keightley, veteran English actor, 54 years of age, died here today.

He had been engaged for a part in "Scotland Yard," a play which is to appear in about a month. He last played in "The Trial of Mary Dugan."

Born in Wellington, N. S. W., Australia, he studied for the bar and left school when about 17 to join a traveling company, playing with Dan Barry in repertoire. After five years in Sydney at His Majesty's Theater he toured Western Australia, Africa and the colonies with Albert Norman.

His first appearance in London in 1902 was in "Magda," with Nance O'Neil. He made his home in England until 1914, playing numerous parts and promoting several companies.

Man Beaten and Robbed by Pair Being Given Lift

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—A strange tale of slugging and robbing told by Lester A. Hunter, 1618½ North Serrano street, Los Angeles, today sent police of San Francisco and San Mateo searching for Hunter's supposed assailants. Hunter appeared at Mills Memorial Hospital, San Mateo, early today suffering from a skull fracture and severe scalp cuts. He said he had been beaten and robbed by two men whom he picked up as he was driving his automobile south from San Francisco.

A few hours later Patrolman Schroeder encountered Joseph Roberts sitting in a parked automobile in front of his home here. The seat of the sedan was splattered with blood.

It was Hunter's automobile. Roberts said he and Hunter went to a "party" and Hunter drove the car into a tree and was injured. Roberts took him to a hospital, he said. Schroeder believed Roberts's story and did not detain him. When Hunter later told his story, police were unable to find Roberts.

Belasco's Niece Seeks Divorce

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—The 1925 elopement romance of Bertille Belasco, niece of David Belasco, theatrical producer, and Byers G. Vanderhurst, San Francisco broker, has come to grief, it was revealed today, when Mrs. Vanderhurst filed suit for divorce.

The couple separated Monday, according to the complaint. A property settlement has been made out of court, the complaint states, and Mrs. Vanderhurst asks custody of their only child, Frederic, and $30 a month for his support. The husband was cold and indifferent, cursed her, stayed away nights, nagged her and was of an overbearing disposition, the complaint stated.

HOOVER GUESTS WORK AT CAMP

President Becomes Engineer and Builds Dams

Old-timers More Determined Than Enthusiastic

Lindbergh Proves Apt Pupil in Moving Boulders

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—A week-end with President Hoover at his Virginia recreation camp is anything but one of rest for the officials and friends whom he invites to share with him the rugged beauties of the Blue Ridge Mountains.

Those unaccustomed to strenuous exercise—that is, most of them—return to Washington with muscles sore and that "all gone" feeling which comes from trying to keep pace with a man of the unusual physical strength and nervous energy of the Chief Executive.

Almost as soon as he reaches the new summer White House, Mr. Hoover sheds his role of President and becomes the engineer, seeking new problems to solve and new difficulties to overcome. There is the spirit of the boy about him as he sallies forth at the head of his "construction gang."

PICKS AND CROW BARS

This "gang" has much the appearance of a real construction outfit going forth to the day's labor. Each has his pick and his crow bar, carried loosely in his hands or swung in workman-like style across the shoulder. The novices go forth eager for what lies ahead, but what might now be called the experienced hands appear more determined than enthusiastic.

The President, now really the boss engineer, leads his associates along the Rapidan River, at the headwaters of which his camp is situated, until he reaches a spot which his trained eye has told him would be ideal for the construction of a dam and the creation of a pool where the mountain trout would thrive.

DAMS BUILT

Just below, or above this spot, all hands wade into the stream, some laboring under the weight of their hip boots and their working outfit. Soon pick and bar are pressed into service to dislodge large stones out of which the dam is to be built. This of itself is no trifling task, but is comparatively easy compared to that of carrying the huge rocks to the dam site.

The President usually picks on the larger ones and will carry a fifty-pounder or one even heavier to the site and put it in place with comparative ease. Few of his guests have been able to achieve this feat, but they frequently try and amusing incidents are the result.

LINDBERGH APT PUPIL

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who was a guest over the last week-end, took almost as readily to dam building as he has to flying, and proved not only an apt pupil, but one of energy, who appeared to enjoy the novel work.

Surgeon-General Cumming of the public health service was another who gave a good account of himself in Saturday's activities. Secretary Hyde and Walter Newton, administrative assistant to the President, are now old hands, but Mr. Newton failed to take into account Saturday the man-made pitfalls in the bed of the stream, and stepping into a hole where a large boulder had been dislodged, he went down over his boot tops, much to the amusement of the President and his co-workers.

After the activities of Saturday the President went on a surveying expedition Sunday, leading his guests down the stream for several miles between the 2500 feet level at the camp to the 1500 feet level. He selected sites for a dozen or more future dams, the construction of which will keep him and his guests busy over the week-ends during the remainder of this summer and much of the next.

Bassity Found Dead in Room in San Diego

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 14. (AP)—Jerome Bassity, for a number of years prominent in San Francisco sports circles, was found dead in his room at a hotel here this morning.

Bassity came to San Diego five days ago on business with a resort which he and associates were endeavoring to promote for a location near Tia Juana, Lower California.

Some years ago he was involved in long and costly litigation with the Tia Juana Jockey Club, headed by James W. Coffroth, former San Franciscan, in an effort to obtain the properties of the Jockey Club. Bassity and his associates carried on the litigation for years, despite numerous adverse court decisions, until finally a Mexican Supreme Court decision was handed down in favor of the Jockey Club.

Coroner S. C. Kelly took charge of the body, pending word from relatives of friends. Death, the Coroner said, was due to natural causes.

SLAIN CHILD IDENTIFIED BY PARENTS

Twelve-Year-Old Girl in Minneapolis Held Victim of Moron Now Sought

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 14. (AP)—The body of a 12-year-old girl, believed by police to have been attacked and slain by a moron, was identified by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rew K. Aune as that of their daughter, Dorothy.

The body, wrapped in gunny sacks, was found in a South Minneapolis street today, twelve hours after the girl was reported missing from her home.

Although the wrappings that concealed the body were not removed pending arrival of the Coroner, the parents were positive in their identification. Clothing visible through the burlap corresponded exactly with that worn by their daughter when she disappeared, they said.

The manner in which the child met death was not determined definitely but Police Captain Einar Johassen said he believes she was attacked and strangled by a moron. Police began a search for a middle-aged man who had been seen making advances to girls in the neighborhood of the Aune home recently.

SEAPLANE SINKS IN LAKE ERIE

Pilot, Woman Passenger and Mechanic Rescued

Copilot Missing Following Wreck on Landing

Hope Expressed That Some Small Craft Saved Him

CLEVELAND, Aug. 14. (AP)—A Cleveland-Detroit amphibian passenger plane sank in Lake Erie after being forced down in a dense fog yesterday and the copilot was missing today, the Thompson Aeronautical Corporation reported. The pilot and two passengers, one of them a woman, were rescued after battling to keep afloat in the water two hours.

Search was under way for John Kasper, the copilot, by plane and boat today but company officials were hopeful he had been picked up by some craft without a wireless.

HEAVY FOG ENCOUNTERED

C. A. Rheinstrom of the Thompson company said the plane took off here at 5 p.m. yesterday. The ship was piloted by Cy Caldwell and carried Kasper, Mrs. Robert Little of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, a passenger, and C. A. Lupold of Paterson, N. J., a mechanic.

About four miles west of Pelee Island, Rheinstrom said, the plane ran into a fog and it was decided to come down until the weather cleared. The fog, however, was so thick that Caldwell was unable to bring the plane down capably and one wing was damaged, causing it to turn over and slowly fill with water and sink.

The four persons aboard went into the cabin and donned life preservers, Rheinstrom said, and in about an hour the plane, which had been slowly turning and filling, sank.

THREE PICKED UP

The three men and the woman swam about for about two hours before the freighters Denmark and Midland King passed by. Mrs. Little and Caldwell were taken aboard the Midland King and Lupold was picked up by the Denmark. Lupold said he and Caldwell had been holding the woman up, and that he thought Kasper had been rescued with her.

The Thompson company sent out an emergency plane and three boats last night and today they reported scouting over surrounding waters and the shore without a trace of Kasper. This led company officials to believe that the copilot had been picked up by some of the smaller craft without a wireless which reached the scene.

PLANE PILOT KILLED AND STUDENT INJURED

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 14. (AP)—Thomas Tobiason, 24 years of age, pilot, was killed and Humphrey Woods, 40, a student pilot, seriously injured in an airplane crash here today.

HAGUE MEETING SEEKS FOR CASH

Delegates Go Into Huddle on Young Plan

Financial Committee Idle Until Saturday

THE HAGUE (Netherlands) Aug. 14. (AP)—The problem of where to get the money to satisfy the claims of Great Britain at the reparations conference is now the chief question before the delegates in session here.

The barometer of the conference went down somewhat today as the sessions of the financial committee again were adjourned until Saturday. From now until then the whole time will be devoted to informal intimate conversations which all the delegates agree for the only means by which a settlement can be reached on the Young plan.

CAN'T FIND MONEY

No one as yet has found the $12,500,000 a year necessary to satisfy the British claims. One suggestion was that the amount which the United States sacrificed in Paris on what is due it for the cost of occupation in the Rhineland might be handed over to the British. However, that sum already has entered into the general distribution to be made and amounts to only $1,000,000 a year, or about one-fifth of 1 per cent of the total annuities.

The small balance of reparations left over in the Young plan after the large slices were apportioned to the principal powers and which was reserved for the smaller creditors also has met with scrutiny by those seeking a solution.

It has been proposed that Greece, Rumania, Jugo-Slavia and Portugal be induced to defer their claims and then to ask Germany to transfer about 30,000,000 marks a year from conditional to unconditional annuities to meet the British requests. This proposal has thus far hung fire.

SNOWDEN STANDS PAT

It was said in British circles today that Philip Snowden, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, had not modified a single one of his demands but that informal talks are still going on.

During today the United States again was mentioned in connection with world trade.

Last week Chancellor Snowden said that cancellation of all the debts and reparations is the only complete cure for the post-war economic problem. Today Louis Loucheur, French delegate, said that unemployment in Great Britain and trade loss is not due to the problem of deliveries in kind of the reparations account, but, rather, the development of the American export trade.

The United States, he said, had taken one-third of South America's import trade away from Europe. He proposed the international control of production and the development of consumption as the only remedy. M. Loucheur ended the speechmaking which had been scheduled and from now on until Saturday the conversations will be informal.

MEET TO SUM UP

The chief delegates of France, Italy, Belgium and Japan met this evening to make an inventory of the results of the private talk of the past few days, to judge the prospects and to see what further can be done toward an agreement with the British. The four powers declared they stand together on the questions raised by the British as their interests are identical.

They decided to have their experts make up a table of partition of the Young annuities showing just where the money will go if the Young plan is adopted. They will go over this table with the British experts on Friday.

PEASANTS GET VAST ESTATE

Feudal Holdings of Doria Family in Italy Given to Workers by Lottery System

[Copyright, 1929, by the Chicago Tribune.]

ROME, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—The 2500 acres of land constituting the feudal estates of the famous Doria family, which gave the illustrious Doges and Genoa and one Pope, Innocent X, to Catholicism, were distributed to the peasants yesterday at picturesque ceremonies held at Roccagorga near the Pontine marsh district, between Rome and Naples.

The colorful main piazza of Roccagorga, which is dominated by a medieval castle, once the stronghold of the noted Guelf family, was thronged with hundreds of peasants when the division was made by lottery in the presence of municipal and Fascist authorities.

PUBLIC JUBILEE

The Doria estates, about which disputes have been raging for twenty-five years, were divided into 230 parcels.

Out of the 230 parcels, 138 were assigned yesterday to those whose names corresponded with the lucky number and the other ninety-two today. It was two days of public jubilee for the whole district.

Distribution of the lands is in accordance with the Fascist policy of splitting up large estates which have been lying idle and turning them over for cultivation by small holders in order to increase Italy's agricultural output. It is carried out by what is known as the Commission for Dividing Land for Civic Usage. The proprietor of the estates, Prince Filipo Doria Panphili, who married an English nurse, Mary Dakes Gesine of New Castle, gets a partial indemnity which, however, it is said, does not cover the value of the land.

DUTY OF PEASANTS

The peasants who take up the land also must pay an annual contribution to what is called the "canone," but otherwise they have a more or less clear title to the land. The peasant also must improve the land, make it productive and assist in general in the work of reclamation of the land in the district.

The new peasant proprietors, whose ancestors probably lived as serfs under the shadows of the sinister castle's towers, will take up the lands as soon as they have paid their "canone" dues.

ALDERMAN'S GALLOWS TO BE HANGAR

Coast Guard Base Picked as Execution Chamber of Slayer in Florida

FORT LAUDERDALE (Fla.) Aug. 14. (AP)—An airplane hangar at the United States Coast Guard base has been designated as the execution chamber of James Horace Alderman, convicted run-runner slayer of two Coast Guardsmen in 1927.

Federal officials said they thus had complied with the order of Federal Judge Ritter, to keep persons other than officials from witnessing the hanging.

A site for the execution twice was denied by State authorities.

Alderman is under death watch guard in the Dade County Jail at Miami. His attorneys unsuccessfully sought stay of execution through habeas corpus proceedings today in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans.

The scene of the hanging is only a few feet from the spot where Alderman was landed from the CG-249 after his high seas battle in 1927 in which he killed two Coast Guardsmen and a Federal agent.

Chinese Wounds Three, Ends Life

DUNSMUIR (Cal.) Aug. 14. (AP)—Wong Lee, Chinese storekeeper, shot and wounded three men and ended his own life today.

Fruit-Fly Zone Quarantine Ends on String Beans

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—Dr. C. L. Marlatt, chief of the Plant Quarantine Bureau of the Department of Agriculture, announced today that string beans have been released from regulation under the Mediterranean fruit fly quarantine applied to Florida and near-by States.

Lifting of the restrictions on string beans is made possible, he said, by the total absence of fruit fly infestation in this crop, and the failure, thus far, to force infestation experimentally.

STEEL MEN WIN TARIFF BATTLE

Manganese Ore Placed on Free-Entry List

Senate Finance Committee Reverses Prior Vote

Shortridge Victor in Fight for Californians

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—The steel industry won an important victory today with the approval by the Senate Finance Committee Republicans of an amendment to the House tariff bill to permit the free entry into the United States of manganese ore.

The majority committeemen adopted the amendment by a vote of 6 to 5, which was taken in reconsideration of a previous vote of 7 to 4 in favor of granting the domestic ore producers additional protection. No explanation for the reversal of position was given.

SHORTRIDGE WINS MATCH TARIFF FIGHT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—Senator Shortridge of California made a successful fight in the Finance Committee of the Senate yesterday to protect the matchmaking industry of California and other United States plants from the competition of low foreign labor, foreign governmental monopolies and private cartels in Russia and Sweden, to undersell all other competitors and eliminate all American production of matches.

After submitting messages and letters submitting that the foreign match monopolies were attempting to ruin the United States producers of matches, Senator Shortridge procured the approval of the Republican members of the committee to advance the present tariff rate on matches from 8 cents to 20 cents.

TWO BANKERS INDICTED

MEAD CONFERS ON DAM'S POWER

Denver Meeting Gathers Data for Price Fixing

Capacity All Spoken for, Commissioner Says

First Contracts Will be for Fifteen Years

DENVER, Aug. 14. (AP)—Boulder Canyon power will not lack for bidders when the time comes for letting contracts, Dr. Elwood Mead, United States Commissioner of Reclamation, said here tonight incident to a conference with the Los Angeles Metropolitan Water District and of private power companies.

Already, he said, the capacity of the projected dam for producing electricity is overtaxed by requests for power, and the mails bring in new applications for current from the $165,000,000 structure. The question of rates to be charged by the Federal government is yet to be answered as the conference here is only for the purpose of gathering data, the reclamation commissioner added.

The dam's capacity is rated by engineers at 550,000 uniform horsepower, or the amount of current which may be expected throughout the year, regardless of rainfall conditions.

URGES CENTRALIZATION

No final conclusions will be reached on the power question for some time to come, Dr. Mead indicated, although the preliminary conversations have yielded valuable information on what the structure may be expected to produce for amortization of its cost. He expressed the opinion that a central organization of the various companies and the communities wanting power from the dam should be formed, in order that the Federal government will have a single agency with which to deal.

The first contract or contracts for power, Dr. Mead pointed out, will be for a period of fifteen years, under the terms of the law and the contracts will be subject to revision at the pleasure of the Interior Department every ten years thereafter.

Dr. Mead this afternoon met representatives of three of the four upper-basin States to discuss possible power revenues from the plant at the dam, and met with the statement that the upper basin is keenly interested in the contracts to be made for the sale of current.

STATES TO BENEFIT

The States of Colorado, New Mexico, Wyoming and Utah will profit from the sale of power after the amortization payments all have been met, as then a revolving fund will be set up, part of which is to be used under the terms of the law for development of the upper river.

Govs. Adams of Colorado and Emerson of Wyoming announced after the meeting that at the proposed conference of the four States in the fall, a preliminary effort will be made to negotiate a compact for the allocation of the 7,500,000 acre feet of water allotted to the basin. The appropriation of $250,000 by Congress for investigation work, authorized in the Boulder Dam bill but not yet actually made, depends on the letting of contracts for power, Dr. Mead told the governors.

Herbert W. Yeo, New Mexico State Engineer, represented Gov. Dillon in the discussions. Gov. Dern of Utah was unrepresented. Charles Ward, a member of the Arizona Colorado River Commission, listened to the conversations as an observer.

DERN WIRES PROTEST ON LOW DAM POWER PRICE

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—Gov. Dern today wired Dr. Elwood Mead, commissioner of reclamation, protesting against any commitments being made on a price for Boulder Dam power which will fail to yield adequate revenues to insure comprehensive development of the Colorado River.

The Governor had received advices that the present conference being held in Denver will not result in any conclusive action being taken. The results of the meetings with potential power consumers will be presented to Secretary Wilbur of the Interior Department, Commissioner Mead replied.

The Utah executive takes the stand that Utah ratified the six-State pact and assented to the Boulder Dam with the understanding that the river should be developed according to a comprehensive plan of which the Boulder Dam was the first unit. It also is the understanding that Boulder Dam power shall be sold at prices yielding a profit to build up a fund out of which additional units may be constructed, Gov. Dern wired.

In view of Commissioner Mead's reply Dern announced that he will defer any further action until the subject can be presented to the several States at the forthcoming conference at Salt Lake.

George M. Bacon, State Engineer, will leave Thursday for California to make some investigation as to what California authorities have worked out on the relationship between the Colorado River Commission and the State Engineer's office.

There is an apparent conflict on overlapping of power in dealing with the Colorado River problems in Utah, according to Bacon. The Colorado River treaty prescribes that the authority in charge of water administration, which is the State Engineer's office in Utah, shall have the power to promote the systematic determination of water rights and the co-ordination of facts as to stream flow, consumption and use of water as well as perform certain other duties.

The last Legislature created a Colorado River Commission and imposed on this board the power of representing the State in all matters pertaining to the Colorado River and its development.

Army Air Fleet Stops at Denver

DENVER, Aug. 14. (AP)—The United States Army fleet of eight bombers and one transport plane en route to their base at Langley Field, Va., arrived in Denver today from Cheyenne, Wyo.

Under the command of Maj. Hugh Knerr the fleet will take off Friday for Kansas City.

SNOOK VERDICT CARRIES DEATH

Jury Unanimous as to Guilt on First Ballot

Ohio Co-ed's Slayer to Hear Sentence Monday

Counsel, Shocked by Haste of Decision, to Appeal

COLUMBUS (O.) Aug. 14. (AP)—A verdict of guilty, carrying death in the electric chair as the penalty, was returned against Dr. James H. Snook, confessed slayer of his young mistress, Theora K. Hix, twenty-eight minutes after the jury of eleven men and one woman received his case this afternoon.

The jury took but one ballot and so speedy was its action that it had to wait ten minutes in the jury room before the defendant could be brought in and the court made ready to hear the verdict.

DEFENDANT STOIC

As the court clerk read the finding the former veterinary professor, with his face set in the stern expression characteristic of him, clutched at the arm of the chair in which he was sitting but showed no other emotion.

The dead quiet of the crowded courtroom as the members of the jury were being polled to ascertain if the verdict was their true finding, gave way to a pandemonium of noise. A few minutes later all eyes began searching the room for a sight of the defendant's wife, Mrs. Helen M. Snook, and his aged mother, Mrs. Abner Snook, who had been with him a few moments before.

KIN IN SECLUSION

But neither was to be found. They were not present when the verdict was returned. The news was carried to them in another room of the Courthouse, where they had gone to await the jury's decision. An hour later they left the building in tears and were whisked away in a deputy's car.

Astounded by the suddenness of the verdict and displeased that the jury had not taken longer to consider the case, E. O. Ricketts of defense counsel announced immediately that a motion for a new trial would be filed within the required three days.

Trial Judge Scarlett tentatively fixed Monday morning at 9 o'clock as the date and hour for a hearing of the motion.

DEATH SENTENCE MONDAY

If it is overruled, Judge Scarlett said, he will impose the death sentence at once and Snook's attorneys may proceed with the preparation of an appeal to a higher court.

The jurors indicated by their verdict that they had accepted as the entire truth the confession which Dr. Snook repudiated on the witness stand when he denied having told anyone that he severed the young co-ed's jugular vein with his pocket knife to end her suffering from hammer blows inflicted during a quarrel at the New York Central rifle range on the night of June 13.

MISSIONARY FREED BY CHINESE BANDITS

MOQUAH (Wis.) Aug. 14. (AP)—The parents of Henry Wesche, Ashland (Wis.) missionary, reported captured by Chinese bandits, today received a message from the National Holiness Association of Chicago saying that he has been freed. Wesche was captured near Tainan-Fu.

Air Mail Pilot Cheats Death

SCRANTON (Pa.) Aug. 14. (AP)—Jack Webster of Hadley Field, Dunellen, N. J., piloting an air-mail plane bound for Buffalo, N. Y., narrowly escaped death at 3:15 a.m. today, when he was forced to land his plane in an orchard a mile from Susquehanna, near here.

Having become lost in a heavy fog and fearing that he would run out of gasoline, Webster threw out two flares in an attempt to find a landing field but the flares died out before he could locate a place. He nosed the plane into a near-by orchard.

The plane struck two trees before it finally came to rest and one of the wings was broken. Webster escaped with minor cuts in the head.

NEW RANGE WAR NEAR IN OREGON

Frontier County Now Faces Bitter Outbreak

Stockmen and Homesteaders Clash Over Fences

Court Holds Humane Officer May Cut Barrier

LAKEVIEW (Or.) Aug. 14. (AP)—Lake county, one of the few remaining frontier outposts of the western country, now faces the bitter, age-old controversy that always has preceded the crowding of cattle from open ranges by the march of population to the westward shore. It is the controversy between open-range cattlemen and homesteaders.

The Wagontire Mountain district is the scene of this latest issue threatening a range war. As in other days, plainsmen and cattlemen here resent appearance of homesteaders whose presence must surely mean fencing of the plains. On the other hand, homesteaders are indignant over attempts of the cattlemen to usurp the great ranges for use of their herds.

FENCES CUT

The controversy flamed yesterday when it was learned that the Justice Court in Lakeview upheld the action of a State humane society officer in cutting fences around a homestead owned by Frank Dobkins, that cattle and horses owned by ranchmen might have access to a water hole on the Dobkins property.

The court held that the humane society representative "had no evil intent" in cutting the fences but that he acted as he did in order that the cattle and horses of the district might have access to water on Dobkins's ranch.

FEELING INTENSE

Feeling among homesteaders is declared to be intense. The Wagontire district is one of the few remaining frontiers where open ranges and open water holes prevail. Dobkins, the homesteader, and now the spokesman for his companions, questioned the legality of the Justice Court ruling, declaring that in effect it holds that the homesteaders have no property rights and that fences can be cut and trespass committed on any pretext.

But those not personally concerned in the quarrel see in it only a repetition of similar incidents throughout the Old West when the range kings battled vainly against the influx of seekers of free government lands.

Who Have Forgotten What Ice Cream Soda Tastes Like

IS ICE CREAM SODA a ladies' drink? Then the ladies have good taste. (No man needs to be told that.)

One thing we have noticed lately...since the new Green Lantern Ice Cream Soda was announced: Almost as many men as women are ordering this delicious treat. Sometimes it is the woman who coaxes the man "to try it just once." Or it is the man who is tempted by the frosty daintiness in his partner's tall glass...and ah!!! he asks to try a sip through the other straw.

And so the number of converts grows, grows, grows.

Such a good drink deserves to be popular. To you men who haven't tried ice cream soda lately we want to tell you that it is different, better, at Green Lantern Fountains.

Big. Cold. A real thirst quencher. More kick. Food value, too...picks you up when energy is running low. Real body to this drink, the way we make it with that fine Green Lantern Ice Cream.

A Green Lantern practice is the serving of fine ice cream in all ice cream drinks and dishes. There is only one quality of ice cream sold and served at Green Lantern Fountains. You get the same high quality in packages, bulk, cups, cones and at the fountain. This Green Lantern innovation is winning many new patrons.

NEW YORK'S WET KETTLE BOILING

Mayoralty Race Promises to be Very Moist

LaGuardia Rolls Beer Keg to Tammany's Doors

Broadway Smiles Smugly at Wide-Open Prospect

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (Exclusive) Fiorello H. LaGuardia, the "little major" selected by the Republicans to pick a fight with Mayor Walker, has rolled a beer keg right through the front doors of Tammany Hall. The fiery Representative who hopes this fall to chase Mr. Walker away from City Hall has offered the voters a Republican slate so wet that it makes the Democratic candidates look like a bunch of prohibitionists and has set the municipal political pot bubbling before the dog days—something that had not happened since the Bowery put out its lights. All of which, political leaders said this afternoon, is likely to result in a bonfire before next November.

This city, for the first time in a municipal campaign, is going to see the two old parties vie with each other to see which can be the wettest. Broadway is putting on a smug smile, for there are whispers in the air of a wide-open town, no matter who sits in the chair across the park from Civic Virtue.

Up until sundown today the Republicans have outsmarted the boys from Tammany Hall on every turn and the 10-to-1 odds that New York is a Democratic town are dropping like the mercury in a blizzard.

The odds and mercury both, however, will have to fall considerably lower before there is any real prospects of a G.O.P. victory.

The Democrats are a mite worried over LaGuardia's lugging in the wet and dry issue, but the dry Republicans are the ones who are kicking up the dust. The LaGuardia card terms itself the Republican-fusion ticket, and is seeking to lure thousands of anti-Tammany Democrats into his ranks.

THE TWO TICKETS

The leaders on the Republican-fusion ticket are:

LaGuardia for Mayor.

Frederick R. Coudert for District Attorney.

Their Democratic rivals are:

Walker for Mayor.

The selection of young Mr. Coudert, 31-year-old son of a famous family of international lawyers, to oppose the dignified 69-year-old Crain, is the smartest move the fusionists have made so far. Mr. Coudert, who is chairman of the committee of the lawyers organized to defend free of charge violators of the Jones five-and-ten law, is expected to support the dramatics of the present campaign as well as to bring in the young anti-Tammany Democrats.

Former Mayor John J. (Honest John) Hylan, who was expected to be a thorn in the side of the Democratic party, has made a right about face, and is supporting his ancient enemy Jimmy Walker and at the same time is saying nice things about Tammany Hall both loudly and frequently.

What for a while looked like a dangerous storm in Republican ranks has calmed down to vagrant breeze. William M. Bennett, the man who has a habit of running for Mayor as an Independent and who in the primaries of 1917 defeated John Puroy Mitchel, has been keen to get into the race. Tonight he still is willing, but had just about decided to wait for a stronger call.

The dry Republican fear "LaGuardia is talking himself out of a job" by stressing the liquor issue. So far Mayor Walker has remained mute since his coy acceptance of the Democratic nomination. LaGuardia has been trying to smoke him out but every move has failed. Jimmy is resting on his laurels—if any.

FLORIDA MAY BE EDEN, BUT NUDE BATHING? -NO

TALLAHASSEE (Fla.) Aug. 14. (AP) Atty.-Gen. Davis believes bathing should be an institution of the individual, and that collective ablutions might be frowned upon under Florida statutes.

His opinion was given in answer to the query by William P. McCoy, of Jersey City, N. J., as to whether "nude bathing" as practiced by certain culture societies in Germany would be permitted in Florida.

The Attorney-General referred to a State law prohibiting establishment or maintenance of any "building, booth, tent, or place which tends to annoy the community, or become manifestly injurious to the morals or manners of the people." He cited the law prohibiting indecent exposure of the person, but explained that this section is not construed to prohibit exposure of the body in any place provided for that purpose.

One Dies When Auto Collides With Trolley

TACOMA (Wash.) Aug. 14. (AP)—Tom Angell, 32 years of age, Seattle, died in the Pierce County Hospital at 5 a.m. today from injuries received two hours earlier when an automobile in which he was riding with another man and two women crashed head on into a street car operated by A. J. Wise at Twenty-first street and Pacific avenue.

Mrs. Shirley Manus, 31 years of age, a barber living at 1807 Ninth avenue, Seattle, the driver of the automobile, is in the Pierce County Hospital suffering from a dislocated hip and body bruises. Her condition is not considered critical.

The other two occupants of the car, Grace Fletcher, 25, a barber, Reynolds Hotel, Seattle, and Charles B. Hill, 25, Richmond Beach Auto Camp, are being held by the police as material witnesses. Both suffered slight injuries. Police indicated they will be released.

Fly Quarantine Critic Resigns

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—As the result of a controversy over a letter he wrote to an Arizona newspaper criticising the State Department of Agriculture for the border inspection service maintained to prevent the introduction into California of the Mediterranean fruit fly, Harry M. Standerwick, book-keeper in the office of the Secretary of State, tendered his resignation today.

Standerwick handed his resignation to Secretary of State Jordan after the latter received a committee of the California State Chamber of Commerce which protested Standerwick's action. Jordan announced that he is heartily in favor of the State's quarantine against the fruit fly.

GRAND JURY QUIZ SOUGHT ON LOW FINE

Assemblyman Will Insist on Airing of Case Despite Libel Charge Dismissal

SAN JOSE, Aug. 14. (AP)—Although libel proceedings against Hyland L. Baggerly, publisher of the Los Gatos Mail-News, have been dismissed, Assemblyman Wright, San Jose, announced today this will not see completion of the matter.

The Santa Clara County Law Enforcement League, which Wright heads, still will continue to demand a grand jury investigation into the reckless-driving case of Miss Josephine Grant, San Francisco heiress, Wright said.

Miss Grant was released on a suspended fine of $50 when convicted of reckless driving by Police Judge O'Connor. Criticised for leniency by Baggerly, O'Connor filed criminal libel proceedings against the editor, who asserted the judge was influenced by the wealth and position of the accused.

Wright said other organizations, including the Women's Christian Temperance Union, are to continue demands for a grand jury investigation.

EIGHT KILLED IN CRASH OF TOKIO PLANE

TOKIO, Aug. 14. (AP)—The most disastrous accident in the history of Japanese military aviation occurred at Tachikawa Airfield, near Tokio, this morning resulting in the deaths of eight men, four of them general staff officers.

A new bombing plane in which the officers had started an inspection trip crashed from 900 feet, and all eight occupants of the plane met death. An investigation was ordered immediately, but with no survivors the cause of the disaster is likely to remain a mystery. The bomber went out of control attempting to bank less than a mile from the take-off.

The dead include Maj.-Gen. Tsunes Aburo, chief of operations staff, a colonel and two majors of the general staff, three junior officers and one noncommissioned officer.

Another plane which started simultaneously carrying Gen. Susuki, chief of the general staff, and other high officers, continued its flight to Hamamatsu safely, the occupants not knowing the fate which had overtaken their fellow-officers.

Divorcee Plays 'Girl Men Leave;' Now She's Suing

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (Exclusive) Picturing herself as the victim of a whole series of broken promises of marriage, "social engagement" contracts and even business deals, Mrs. Perle McLaren Howard, 29 years of age, former wife of David Howard, wealthy advertising man of Chicago, today brought suit for $455,000 against Leonard Erlanger Bergman, millionaire nephew of A. L. Erlanger, theatrical producer.

Mrs. Howard says that when she divorced her husband she declined a settlement of $50,000 he offered her because Bergman asked her to do so, promising to give her an equal amount out of his own pocket.

Mrs. Howard said she met Bergman here in 1923 and that some time afterward she decided to stay here and began her association with him.

She said in her complaint that she did not know Bergman was married and that on January 18, 1925, and many subsequent dates he promised to marry her. Later, she charges, when she learned he was married he promised to divorce his wife and wed her.

Suspects Admit Attacking Girls

DENVER, Aug. 14. (AP)—Gordon W. Frost, 22 years of age, of East Pepper, Mass., and Wayne C. Allrich, 18, of Chicago, arrested here last night as deserters from the Army, confessed tonight they attacked two girls near Hoxie, Kan., Sunday night and stole their car after leaving them tied in a field near there.

The car has been recovered and three suit cases belonging to the girls have been found by the police here.

POLICE CHARGE CROWDS IN PARK

Toronto Fresh Air Seekers Hustled by Officers

Communist Orator Cause of Indiscriminate Attack

Seven Arrested in Fighting; Reporter Jailed

TORONTO, Aug. 14. (AP)—Efforts to prevent a Communist meeting in Queens Park resulted in a riotous scene last night when thousands seeking fresh air were driven from the park by police.

Seven persons were arrested, one of them a woman. Five of the men were freed under $200 bail each on charges of disorderly conduct. The woman was charged with vagrancy, and a newspaper reporter was held following a scuffle with a police officer.

Police officials said the park was cleared because Jack MacDonald, leader of the Communist party in Canada, attempted to speak in defiance of a police order.

At a given signal police on horseback, motorcycle and foot, uniformed and in plain clothes, charged the crowd. Witnesses said clubs and fists and feet were freely used by the officers on those inclined to move slowly. No attempt was made to distinguish between Communists and others.

As the men, women and children scurried to the roadway they were confronted by a solid stream of automobiles that made crossing the thoroughfare impossible. They jostled one another on the curb with police behind and the packed roadway in front until officers stopped the traffic and hustled the frightened pedestrians through.

Officials of the Communist party gathered at their headquarters after the disturbance and expressed their determination to continue their protests for "recognition of their rights of free speech."

Four were made members of his executive council as heads of the new departments of Investment Regulation, Professional and Vocational Standards, Penology and Military and Veterans' Affairs. Then the Governor reappointed members of the civil service, accountancy and crime commissions and chief of the narcotic enforcement division.

Bert B. Meek, director of the Department of Public Works, Frank G. Snook, chief of the Motor Vehicle Division and Secretary of State Jordan also announced appointments or reappointments to the Division of Water Resources, Motor Vehicle Division and the Secretary of State's office.

The four new members of the Governor's council are as follows:

James F. Collins, Long Beach engineer, director of the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards.

SALARIES SET

John R. Quinn, Los Angeles, director of the Department of Military and Veterans' Affairs.

James A. Johnston, San Francisco, director of the Department of Penology.

E. Forrest Mitchell, Sacramento, director of the Department of Investment Regulation.

Collins and Quinn are to receive $8000 salary a year. Johnston, whose position is rated as a "part-time job," is to receive $3600 a year.

Mitchell was named a member of Gov. Young's council after commissioners of divisions to comprise the new Department of Investment matched coins in the Governor's office to determine the order in which they should draw numbered slips from a waste basket.

Will C. Wood, Banking Commissioner, won the draw, but not the slip No. 1. Mitchell drew the winning slip and is to serve for six months as a member of the Governor's executive council. He then will be followed by the other commissioners in this order: Fred G. Athearn, Corporation Commissioner; Wood was third; Charles Whitmore, Building and Loan Commissioner, and Stephen Barnson, Real Estate Commissioner. Mitchell heads the Insurance Commission.

OTHERS NAMED

The Governor announced reappointment of Frank H. Benson, San Jose, as chief of the division of narcotics enforcement. Benson's division is to function as a part of the department of penology under the new State law.

The personnel of three commissions was named by the Governor as follows: All are reappointments:

Crime Commission: J. A. Johnston, chairman; Buron Fitts, Los Angeles, District Attorney; Atty.-Gen. Webb, Justin Miller, dean of the University of Southern California law school in Los Angeles; Judge W. A. Beasley, Berkeley, former Santa Clara county judge.

BISCAILUZ'S AIDE

Meek named Edward Hyatt, State Engineer, as chief of the newly created division of water resources; J. J. Haley, deputy in the division of engineering, was designated administrative assistant to Hyatt; Harold Conkling, in the Bureau of Water Rights, was named deputy chief of the water resources division; R. L. Jones of the Reclamation Bureau was made chief of flood control and reclamation, and A. D. Edmonston was named chief of the Bureau of Water Resources Investigation.

Secretary of State Jordan named Robert V. Jordan, his son, assistant Secretary of State and Charles J. Hagerty as Deputy Secretary.

After Meek reappointed Snook chief of the motor vehicle division, Snook appointed William J. Gallagher of Hayward, secretary to Eugene Biscailuz of Los Angeles, recently named enforcement chief of the division. Biscailuz was sworn into office in Los Angeles today, Snook said, and will take up his duties in Sacramento next Monday. The motor vehicle division was transferred by the Legislature from the Department of Finance to Meek's control.

Snook announced that traffic squads in San Bernardino county, headed by Capt. C. J. Boon, and Santa Cruz county, headed by Capt. John E. Peyton, are included in the State-wide control system. These squads were accepted by the State as named by the county Boards of Supervisors.

Franchise Bids Presented for New Bridges

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 14. (AP)—Applications for franchises to build two bridges across San Francisco Bay, one from Rincon Hill, San Francisco, to Alameda and a second from Dillon Point, Sonoma county, to Eckley, Contra Costa county, today were filed with Bert B. Meek, director of the State Department of Public Works, into whose hands toll bridge authority passes under a new law today.

Meek received the first application from Paul Fratessa, attorney for Barrett & Hilp, San Francisco contractors, for the Rincon Hill-Alameda bridge. The application states Barrett & Hilp will be glad to accept the franchise until the State makes arrangements to finance a publicly owned bridge, and agrees to turn the franchise, should it be granted, over to the State at any such time.

LONDON, Aug. 14. (AP)—The Mail today says the monoplane S-5, which won the Schneider Cup race in 1927, covered the three miles between Calshot and Southampton yesterday in thirty-six seconds. The plane later reached an estimated speed of 330 miles an hour. It was piloted by Lieut. Stainforth.

Yesterday Squadron Leader Orlebar of the Royal Air Force and captain of the British race team gave a new airplane racer, the S-6, a ten-minute trial over the Isle of Wight.

MELLON WON'T QUIT, SAYS AIDE

Assistant Asserts of Rumor, "Nothing to It"

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—"There is absolutely nothing to it," was the statement of A. E. Sixsmith, private secretary to Secretary Mellon, today, regarding the latest rumors originating in Wall Street that Mr. Mellon is about to resign.

"Mr. Mellon is not in the city, but I've talked to him twice today and these reports are without any foundation whatever." Sivsmith said.

The current report, which has been considerably agitating New York financial circles, had it that Mellon was on the verge of resigning, and that Dwight W. Morrow, Ambassador to Mexico, would succeed him.

The best information remains that when Mr. Mellon does step out, his successor will be Henry M. Robinson, Los Angeles banker, former member of the Reparations Commission, and intimate friend of President Hoover. It is generally understood in political quarters here that an "understanding" exists between Hoover and Robinson whereby the Californian will assume the Treasury post when and if Secretarl Mellon finally lays down the reins.

Liner Revamped to Beat Bremen

LONDON, Aug. 14. (AP)—A Belfast dispatch to the Daily News today says the keel of the new White Star liner Oceanic has been demolished completely to make way for a new vessel to take up the speed challenge of the new German liner, Bremen.

The keel was laid last October and nearly was completed when work suddenly was ordered stopped July 23, last. It is understood that a new ship, to be even greater in length than the 1000-odd feet originally proposed for the Oceanic, is to be built. The old plans called for a ship of 60,000 tons.

NEW CALENDAR PLAN ADVANCES

Report Given Stimson for Submission to League

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—A report favoring revision of the calendar by the formation of thirteen months of equal length was presented to Secretary Stimson today by the National Committee on Calendar Simplification for transmission to the League of Nations.

The committee was organized in 1928 under the chairmanship of George Eastman, Rochester, N. Y., at the suggestion of the League of Nations.

The religious aspects of a calendar change, the experience of business concerns with private calendars, and an analysis of the "grave defects" of the present system all are set out in a lengthy report, which declares that any inconvenience in making the change will be outweighed by the permanent advantages of a more simple calendar.

Under the plan of thirteen months of twenty-eight days each, the new month would be placed between June and July.

"The 365th day of the year would be dated December 29," the report explained, "with the suggested name of 'peace day' or 'year day' and observed as an extra Sabbath. Leap day would be placed on June 29 and observed as an extra Sabbath or holiday."

WEST'S FUTURE WRIT IN WATER

Secretary Wilbur Thus Sums Up Four Problems

Floods, Reclamation, Power and Navigation Linked

"Broad Strategy" of Hoover Told by Aide-de-Camp

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—The biggest problem of the West from Nebraska to the Pacific Coast, excepting only the Cascade Mountains section, is that of water, and upon the proper handling of the problem depends the future of the West.

Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, thus sums up the reasons that led President Hoover to announce on Tuesday the formation of a commission to study the correlated problems of irrigation, flood control, power and navigation.

Wilbur, like the President, has long been a student of western economics and the two men probably have as keen an interest and as close personal knowledge of the problems of the West as any two men living.

WILBUR'S SUMMARY

"Conservation of water is the basic fact of our problem," said Wilbur. "Back East the people are 'rain-minded'—that is the farmer depends upon rain for nourishing his crops. In the West we must store our water and hold it until needed.

"It, therefore, becomes a question of broad strategy. Water conservatism is not a local issue or even one confined to individual States, for rain and snow that falls in the mountains of one State may be the living factor in a State hundreds of miles away.

BIGGEST NEWS

"The biggest and most important item of news during the winter in California is the amount of snow and rain in the mountains. Our San Francisco newspapers appreciate that fact and play up with big headlines the snowfall and weather conditions at points hundreds of miles away.

"That shows we are appreciative of our problem. It makes it fairly easy to bring together all communities and all sections and thus make possible the adoption of that broad strategy with which we must meet the problem."

The Secretary then went on to explain how the questions of irrigation, flood control, power and navigation are correlated and why the proposed commission will consider the four problems as one.

He said:

DAM'S SOLUTION

"The big physical fact is that of dam construction. Behind these huge dams the rains and snows of the mountains will be held in storage. That, in a large measure, takes care of flood control. It also prevents the wastage of water and gives a supply for the next summer's irrigation. Releasing the water into the irrigation ditches means generation of power. And an even flow of water thus released means better navigation upon our streams deep enough for transportation. In California the question of transportation on the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers is a vital one and if properly handled, it seems to me, the answer to the problem of salinity will be found."

Declaring that "the future of the valleys lies on the mountain tops," Wilbur also emphasized the importance of protecting the forests from fire and from excessive grazing, saying:

PROTECT FORESTS

"We must become watershed-minded. We must look with horror upon acts of vandalism in destroying the forests, either by fire or grazing. The protection of the watersheds is one of the most essential factors in the water problem.

"Fortunately, Californians have learned to work together. Most of us understand that the problems of one county are closely related to those of other counties. Most westerners are like that, and if through the President's commission a better understanding and better co-operation can be brought about we shall do much toward solving our problem of water.

"There is enough water to meet our common enemy, drought, and if we intelligently handle the question we need have no fear of the future, but we must act soon and, as I said before, adopt a program of broad strategy."

LOCAL APPLICATION

Wilbur in a conference this morning with representatives of the Iron Canyon and Sacramento River irrigation projects made practically the same explanation on the question under discussion. He said that the construction of the Iron Canyon dam might possibly be the solution of the problem of salinity in the Sacramento delta and urged a concentration of effort upon that one phase at this time.

"Iron Canyon illustrates how community of interests controls the whole problem. We must consider first what shall be the broad strategy to be followed on the Sacramento," said Wilbur.

The Federal government's interest in the problem is largely due to the fact that the government owns and controls the watersheds in all Western States and has, through its Land Department, the Forestry Service and the Power Bureau a vital interest and first-hand understanding of the big problems of the West, it was explained by the Secretary.

Coast Guard to Begin Inquiry on Gunplay Charge

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—Coast Guard headquarters said today a thorough investigation will be made of charges by Senator Metcalf of Rhode Island that members of a Coast Guard patrol boat had "endangered the lives of innocent American citizens" while firing on a suspected rum boat.

Capt. B. M. Chiswell declared an inquiry will be undertaken.

Senator Metcalf protested against the reported firing on a suspected rum boat by the Coast Guard patrol boat 290 during which a bullet is said to have penetrated the wall of the home of William B. Freeman at Fogland Point, R. I.

SUICIDES END HOUSE PARTY

New York Hostess and Guest Take Lives After Row; One of Crowd Los Angeles Woman

POUGHKEEPSIE (N. Y.) Aug. 14. (AP)—Miss Montell Mansfield, 27 years of age, and Gail Hamilton, 33, both of New York, died today in what a Dutchess county Coroner said was a double suicide. Miss Mansfield was found by her guests dead on a bed at her country home, Springtop Farm. When they went to telephone a doctor they heard a shot and returned to find Hamilton dead on the floor with a 32-caliber revolver lying near him.

Visiting Miss Mansfield in addition to Hamilton were Rudolph Backert, Fred Navarre and Miss Elizabeth McCune, all of New York, and Mrs. Henriett Varvulis of Los Angeles.

According to their story, Backert, Hamilton and Miss Mansfield went for an automobile ride early today, during which Hamilton and Miss Mansfield quarreled. Miss Mansfield went to her room on returning and Hamilton did likewise a few minutes later. The guests said they heard him cry out: "Why did you ever do it, Monty?" and rushed upstairs to find Miss Mansfield lying on the bed and Hamilton attempting to arouse her.

In the house were found checks drawn on a Reno bank and friends said Miss Mansfield had obtained a divorce in Reno in December, 1928, under the name of Mrs. Montell Ovington.

Hamilton is said to have had a wife, Mrs. Elise Hamilton, at present in Paris with their 8-year-old daughter, Betty. Miss Mansfield's father, W. E. Mansfield, is said to live in Farwell, Tex., while her mother, who has remarried, lives in Toronto, Ont.

FAMILY HAS LIVED IN FARWELL FOR YEARS

AMARILLO (Tex.) Aug. 14. (AP) Miss Montell Mansfield, reported to have committed suicide in New York today, was the daughter of W. E. Mansfield of Farwell, Tex. The Mansfield family has lived in Farwell about fifteen years. Miss Mansfield went to New York a little more than a year ago, friends said. A sister lives in California.

LOS ANGELES ADDRESS OF WOMAN GIVEN

FATHER SAYS BODY WILL BE RETURNED HOME

FARWELL (Tex.) Aug. 14. (AP)—W. L. Mansfield of Farwell, father of Miss Montell Mansfield, today declined to discuss the suicide of his daughter in Poughkeepsie. He said he has telegraphed authorities at Poughkeepsie to send his daughter's body to Farwell.

Gale Hamilton, who shot himself after the woman's body was found, was a great-grandson of Alexander Hamilton. Miss Mansfield had lived in Clovis, N. M., Mansfield said, until a few years ago.

WARRANT TO AIR MYSTIC FUNDS

Business Acts of Milwaukee Man Under Fire

Charges of Using Mails to Defraud Filed

Investments of Millions May be Explained

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 14. (AP)—The nature of a mysterious business enterprise into which hundreds of investors are purported to have placed millions of dollars came a step nearer revelation today when it was learned that Elmer S. Huckins, 60 years of age, head of the enterprise, is named in a Federal warrant charging use of the mails to defraud.

Huckins left Milwaukee, where he maintains an office, Monday and his whereabouts have not been learned. The warrant was issued secretly Saturday. Monday Huckins, accompanied by two attorneys, appeared before the Federal tax inquisitor to explain why he had not filed an income-tax report. He was granted a continuance until later this month.

Neither Huckins nor his son and associate, George Huckins, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, will reveal the nature of the business they head.

The Wisconsin Railroad Commission sought to ascertain the details of the enterprise. It failed when Huckins stated he is not dealing in stocks or securities and cannot be questioned under the blue-sky law.

ROADS IN FIRE BELTS CLOSED

Emergency Measures in Washington Taken

Life Race With Speeding Blaze Described

Kern County Fighters Win Five-Day Battles

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 14. (AP)—Emergency measures to combat the forest fire situation in Chelan county and the Chelan National Forest in Washington were taken today by the Federal Forestry Department in issuing an order, effective today, closing all stop and branch roads in the county.

RACE OF FIRE DESCRIBED BY FIGHTERS

WENATCHEE (Wash.) Aug. 14. (AP)—How the "raging inferno" which has burned over 12,000 acres of timber in the Chelan National Forest spread a mile in about four minutes was described here today by E. P. Flynn, Federal forester from Portland, who was rushed here by airplane Saturday.

Flynn told of the "sheet of fire" from a bed in a hospital here where he is recovering from bronchitis as the result of exhaustion, and inhaling smoke while leading fire crews to safety when the wind suddenly turned and trapped them in their camp Sunday.

SLEEPER SAVED

"Nature was stacked against us," Flynn declared. "I saw one mile of timber burn in about four minutes. Everything was very dry and burned like gasoline. The wind switched on us and all canyons were like flues. I had a crew on a five-mile front and all had to get out in a hurry when the wind changed suddenly. I went back to camp to see that everyone was out and found a patrolman asleep. A few minutes afterward the flames licked up the camp. After the fire swept our camp our knives and forks were melted together.

"I am sure the patrolman would have perished had I not arrived in the nick of time. The camp was in an open space at an elevation of about 7500 feet. The fire swept down into the Methow Valley side, where the fire fighters intended to attack it yesterday.

VETERANS TERRIFIED

"We backfired and thought the Methow side was safe with no fuel to burn, but when that wind came up Sunday it seemed that there were no fire lines at all.

"Old and hardened fire fighters were terrified and all said they had had enough. One narrowly escaped being burned to death."

POWER PLANT'S FLUME DESTROYED

STOCKTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—Part of the Melones power plant flume was destroyed by fire which swept over 100 acres of brush and grass near the old mining camp of Melones, Calaveras county, yesterday. One hundred volunteers were rushed to the scene. Near the Ozark mine 200 acres were swept by flames. In the vicinity of Ione the large brush fire has been checked.

KERN COUNTY FIGHTERS GET LULL

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—After an intensive five-day battle, a lull came in the forest-fire situation in Kern county today, with the last of several serious blazes reported extinguished. Developments today, announced by County Fire Warden J. C. Farley, are as follows:

Fire north of Cameron, in Tehachapi district extinguished late Tuesday.

Fire in Sequoia National Forest near Fairview, on upper Kern River, under control, according to report by National Forest Service, which directed fire fighting.

W. A. Smith of Arvin fined $20 for burning rubbish without a permit.

C. Yonce of Maricopa fined $5 for throwing lighted cigarette from automobile.

The Cameron blaze was extinguished after it had burned over 200 acres of brush and grass-covered land, Warden Farley reported. For a time it threatened to grow into serious proportions but a fire-fighting crew recruited from the Hill ranch near Tehachapi fought it to a standstill, the warden said, and soon had the blaze under control.

The army of 350 fire-fighters which has been battling the Fairview fire in the national forest since last Sunday will be returned tonight.

Plane Saved in Forced Landing

NOGALES (Ariz.) Aug. 14. (AP)—Forced down because of faulty ignition, L. O. Goldsmith, pilot of a westbound Pickwick Latin-American plane, made a perfect landing this morning near the Nogales-Tucson highway, a few miles north of this city. The plane is undamaged, according to mechanics.

The forced landing was the second one to occur in two days, another plane of the company having been compelled to land yesterday afternoon at Ortiz, Son., because of an overheated motor. The pilot, H. J. Lucas, while attempting to land on a military field, was forced to sideslip because of an automobile crossing the field, and crashed into a mesquite tree, damaging one wing of the plane. The pilot and passengers reached Nogales this morning by train.

Harvest Worker Killed by Fall

WALLA WALLA (Wash.) Aug. 14. (AP)—Losing his balance on a harvesting combine when it was going down a steep hill on the Louis Kerckhof farm at Prescott near here, John Jepsen, 39 years of age, was killed yesterday. His neck was broken in the fall, and he died fifteen minutes later. He was said to have relatives in Oakland and Los Angeles, Cal., and in Bellingham, Wash.

NEWBORN BABY GNAWED BY PARIS HOSPITAL RAT

PARIS, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—A newborn babe was nearly devoured by a giant rat in the Baudelocque Hospital last night in the worst of many cases of negligence thus far reported in Parisian hospitals.

Mme. Jeanne Genelat, who gave birth to a girl yesterday, was awakened during the night to find the rat perched on the child's head in the cradle beside the bed. In response to her screams physicians came running and one killed the rat.

Chicago Bombing Motives Veiled

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. (AP)—The seventy-second bomb of the year exploded last night at an automobile sales agency, shattering glass and doing other damage to buildings and motor cars.

Police found no explanation for the bombing.

ALIENS BRAVE NIAGARA ONLY TO BE CAUGHT

BUFFALO (N. Y.) Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—Nine aliens who had crossed the Niagara River safely in an outboard motor boat were apprehended last night when they landed beside the Niagara Gorge River tracks, just below the lower whirlpool rapids.

SLAYING CLEWS POINT TO SEVEN

Men and Women Believed in on Reynolds Death

PHOENIX, Aug. 14. (AP)—Seven persons, five men and two women, are believed implicated in the slaying of Paul E. Reynolds, Department of Justice agent, near here Friday night, and the subsequent disposal of his body in the Arizona Canal. Disclosures to this effect were made today by investigators working near where Reynolds's body was found.

A careful examination of Reynolds's car, which was found last night parked in a downtown street here, was made by experts today and a number of fingerprints obtained.

Ex-Mrs. Gibson Sought for Quiz

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 14. (AP)—Mrs. Helen Gibson, said to be the divorced wife of "Hoot" Gibson, well-known cowboy film actor, is being sought by the District Attorney's office here on charges of passing three fictitious checks. Complaint against Mrs. Gibson was made by the manager of one of San Diego's leading hotels, who asserted that he was given three bogus checks totaling $250.

Mrs. Gibson recently visited at the hotel with an asserted wealthy Honolulu and Hollywood plantation owner, to whom it was reported she is engaged to marry. Mrs. Gibson, during her San Diego visit, denied truth of the report and declared she had not thought of marriage. Gibson and his wife were divorced in Los Angeles last February.

ANOTHER TOWN WASHED AWAY

San Marcial, N. M., Wrecked by Rio Grande

Dike Gives Way and Only Two Buildings Remain

Flood Writes Final Chapter in 100-Year Story

SANTA FE (N. M.) Aug. 14. (AP) The levee at San Marcial, N. M., broke today, and as the flood waters of the Rio Grande raced through the gaps all the buildings in San Marcial with the exception of the Harvey Hotel and the Santa Fe depot were swept away.

This report was made to the State Bureau of Public Health from Mrs. Fitch, vice-president of the Socorro Chapter of the American Red Cross.

SAN MARCIAL'S STORY ONE OF WOE

EL PASO (Tex.) Aug. 14. (AP)—The assault of flood waters on San Marcial, N. M., apparently gave Nature the victory in a fight waged with man there for more than 100 years.

Three hundred years ago the Spanish padres, marching north to Santa Fe, established the little settlement in the Rio Grande Valley and built it into a prosperous farming community, using the waters of the river to irrigate their crops.

Then came floods. Dikes were built to hold the water in place, but during the period of more than a century the river flowed between these dikes, gradually filled its bed with silt, thus rising to a higher level than the town. Fertile fields became pools of stagnant seepage water.

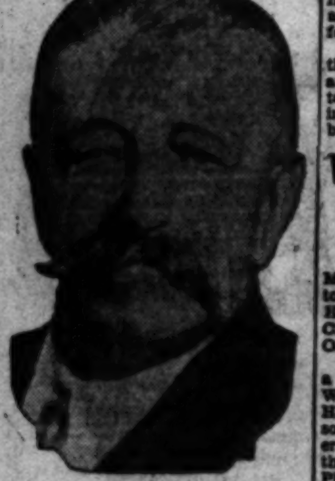
When the railroad came through the district many years ago the town was moved nearly a mile from the original Spanish settlement. But here again the river changed its course so often that it was necessary to build dikes. Again silt slowly filled the bed until the surface of the stream was ten feet above the main street of the town. The result was that it became almost impossible to keep the streets drained.

Gradually the new San Marcial became a deserted village of sinking adobe houses. The Santa Fe Railroad is said to have been contemplating moving its division headquarters because of the water.

"Just Have 'Em Phone Me," Says Robt. Giesler

"When I say I feel twenty years younger and twenty years stronger, since I started the Sargon treatment, I am just telling the plain truth, and giving this wonderful medicine only the praise it deserves.

"I suffered for eight years with stomach trouble and rheumatism.



ROBT. W. GIESLER

My stomach was so acid that I could hardly eat anything, and I had been trying to live on practically nothing but fruit juices for years. No matter how light the food was, it gave me severe stomach distress, and instead of better I seemed to get worse all the time. Then, rheumatism came on so bad, that when I think back now of how I suffered, I honestly don't see how I stood it. My joints actually felt like they had knots tied in them. I was stiff and sore through my back and both shoulders, and when I stopped over or would get in one position, it was all I could do to move out of it. My liver was inactive and I was nearly always constipated, I was so nervous I couldn't half sleep at night and it seemed like I got weaker and weaker all the time.

"I don't know how many different medicines and treatments I took during those eight years. When I started on Sargon, I knew the medicine had a real job to get me well again. But it surely did it! I have taken seven bottles, and if anybody wants to know what it did for me, just have them phone me at MUtual 9848 and I'll certainly tell them. It was simply marvelous! I eat now like I did when I was a school boy, and every trace of stomach trouble is gone. Best of all, every bit of my rheumatism has disappeared, and I haven't got an ache or pain in my body! I never did sleep any better than I do now, I do my work with a will and vigor I thought I would never have again, and I tell you I just feel fine all the time.

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills are the greatest treatment for constipation and biliousness I ever saw in my life. They completely ended both of these ailments, and have never made me sick or upset me in any way. It will be a pleasure for me to tell anybody all this treatment did for me."

The above statement was recently made by Robt. W. Giesler, 241 South Main St., the well-known Los Angeles horticulturist and landscape gardener.

The special Sargon representative at the Owl Drug Store, 6th and Broadway, is personally meeting hundreds of people daily who call to learn first hand of its wonderful powers. Sargon may also be obtained at all Owl drug stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.

STRIKE MOBS QUIET DOWN

Union Leaders Apologize to New Orleans Council; Street Cars Damaged by Bombs

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 14. (AP)—Violence in the street car strike gave way almost completely here today to efforts to smooth over the breach between Commission Council and the union car men's leaders caused by the mobbing of the Commissioners in the Council chamber yesterday and the shooting of four men at City Hall.

Union-labor leaders, with their counsel, Edward Richter, received by the Council at City Hall, expressed formal regret over the disturbances and repudiated Gus Williams, City Recorder of Mortgages, and John Banville, a union-labor leader, for their activities in the strike.

The members of the Commission Council told the union chieftains that they felt "worse at heart than physically." After their beatings at the hands of the mob, and that the "whole occurrence has given the city a black eye which it will take a long time to live down."

The Council still held itself in readiness to seek some solution of the difficulty between the union and the public service, while the union leaders announced their willingness "to try and forget the past and go into the matter with an open mind."

The conference discussed the possibility of renewed violence if the City Commission Council puts into effect its intention to enforce the ban of jitneys at noon tomorrow, while the street cars are being operated with nonunion men.

Two street cars were damaged by dynamite or bombs today, and a bomb thrown at a Third-street car missed the car and blew a wheel off an ice wagon. No one was hurt.

DEATH PLOT GRAVE WILL BE OPENED

Georgia Authorities Act in "Insurance Murder" Case Investigation

OCILLA (Ga.) Aug. 14. (AP)—Contents of a modest South Carolina grave with a headstone bearing the name of one of three men indicted yesterday for murder, today were ordered exhumed by Solicitor-General Foy, in his effort to connect the men definitely with what the State has described as an "insurance murder plot."

Sheriff Tyler said action of the Solicitor followed "general talk" that the grave holds only the charred bones of a goat. By thorough examination the State will attempt to prove that in the grave in reality is buried Harry Loving, Huntington (W. Va.) youth, assertedly the insurance-plot victim.

Harry K. Slight, Irwin county farmer, whose name is inscribed on the headstone, and who disappeared after the burning of his home two years ago to be located several months later following futile efforts to collect $90,000 insurance on his life, and two brothers, James, and Aubrey Hoover, were charged formally with slaying Loving.

The State contends Loving and the Hoover brothers spent the night at Slight's home near here in September, 1927, and the night following Loving was killed and his body burned in Slight's home.

SURVEY OF INDIAN LAND PROTESTED

Secretary Wilbur Hears Arguments Against Move to Correct Boundaries

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14. (AP)—Protests against a resurvey of the northern boundary of the Hoopai Indian reservation in Humboldt county were voiced here today at a hearing conducted by Secretary of the Interior Wilbur.

Arguments during the hearing centered upon a strip of "no man's land" six miles long, at the northern boundary of the reservation which is included in the domain of the Indians under 1925 survey made by the government. The hearing resulted from an appeal of John Gist of Weitchpee, Humboldt county, the owner of mining claims in the "no man's land," who contended that the new survey did not jibe with previous surveys of the Klamath River country. Under the new survey, Gist said, a portion of his holdings are included in the reservation, thus making his land Federal property.

Indians and sportsmen, supporting Gist's contention, expressed the fear that if Federal jurisdiction should be established over the land power sites could be bought, dams built and other projects developed with a resultant spoliation of the Indians' fishing grounds.

WOMEN ACCUSE CHURCH DOCTOR

Sex Abuses Charged Against Temperance Secretary

Girls Report Indignities in Guise of Examinations

"Health Education Society" Finally Put to End

[Copyright, 1929, by New York Times]

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (Exclusive) Charges "of grave sex abuses" against young women and the practice of medical quackery, all under the cloak of assumed affiliation with the Episcopal Church, have been forwarded from the official files of the Department of Health to Bishop William T. Manning.

The charges, it was learned tonight, involve Dr. James Empringham, national secretary of the Church Temperance Society, composed of clerical and lay members of the Protestant Episcopal Church, and particularly the now defunct Health Educational Society, Inc., of which Dr. Empringham was national superintendent.

Assertions by young women patients that they were forced to appear before Empringham, attired only in their stockings and shoes and that they submitted to physical examinations in the mistaken belief that the Episcopal official was a medical doctor are incorporated in the report.

Dr. S. Dana Hubbard, chief of the legal bureau of the health department, over the telephone from his home in Freeport, L. I., admitted that copies of the charges against Dr. Empringham and a record of the health department's successful prosecution of the religious-medical institute which once flourished here have been forwarded to Bishop Manning. He added:

"After great difficulty we have ended Dr. Empringham's activities as a doctor and that of the 'Health Education Society.' We have received assurance from the Church Temperance Society of the Episcopal Church that 'they will not be resumed.'"

CHICAGO RACKET LOUDER IN BOMB BUSINESS GAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. (AP)—The bomb and the racket, twin terrors to small merchants and tradesmen, have shown a sharp gain this year over last, the Employers' Association has found out.

Rackets cost the city $136,000,000 in 1928, according to computations by Joseph Neilsen, assistant secretary of the association. This represents an average cost of $36 for every man, woman and child in Chicago. Figures for 1929 indicate the final total for the year will be even higher.

The bomb, which serves racketeers as a lash to whip racket victims into line, is more dangerous than the bomb of a year ago. The average damage of each bomb in 1928 was $1214. The seventy-first bomb of 1929 was thrown Sunday night, forty-six days earlier than bomb No. 71 was set off last year.

DeRivera Waits for Action on Rebuff to Rule

MADRID, Aug. 14. (AP)—The government of Premier De Rivera today awaited the public reaction to the rebuff and public denunciation leveled at it by the General Labor Union and the national council of the Socialist party and of the Premier's formal comment on the unexpected development.

Close friends of the government said a manifesto to the labor union, and subsequent action by the Socialist National Committee will be considered by the Cabinet meeting Monday at Oviedo. The Cabinet meeting is regarded as most important, but it was said its proceedings will not be made known until after another Cabinet meeting with the King at Santander, shortly afterward.

Los directores de la compañía se proponen establecer un servicio de trece horas entre Los Angeles y la ciudad de Méjico, y de quince entre San Francisco y la misma ciudad, lo que sentaría un record de tiempo para dicho viaje.

Estaba contratado para un papel en "Scotland Yard", pieza que se estrenará dentro de un mes, aproximadamente. Su última actuación fué en "The Trial of Mary Dugan".

Nació el actor muerto en Wellington (Nueva Gales del Sur). Estudió leyes; pero abandonó la escuela a los 17 años para incorporarse a una compañía ambulante, en la que representó con Dan Barry piezas de repertorio. Después de haber estado cinco años en His Majesty's Theater, de Sidney, recorrió con Albert Norman la Australia occidental, el Africa y las colonias.

Pisó por primera vez las tablas en Londres en 1902, trabajando en "Magda" con Nance O'Neil. Vivió en Inglaterra hasta 1914, representando numerosos papeles y fomentando varias compañías.

Antes de venirse a Norteamérica de manera permanente, en 1914, el señor Keightley había estado dos veces aquí. Su papel favorito era el de "Hotspur" en el "Enrique IV" de Shakespeare.

En Su Cuarto de Hotel Fué Hallado Muerto Bassity

SAN DIEGO, Agosto 14.—Esta mañana fué encontrado sin vida en su cuarto de un hotel de esta ciudad, Jerome Bassity, preeminente desde hace años en los círculos deportivos de San Francisco.

Bassity llegó hace cinco días a San Diego, donde tenía negocios relacionados con una estación de recreo que él y sus socios estaban tratando de fundar no lejos de Tijuana (Baja California).

Hace algunos años se había envuelto en largo y costoso litigio judicial con el Jockey Club de Tijuana, del que es presidente James W. Coffroth, ex-residente de San Francisco. Bassity pretendía quedarse con las propiedades del citado club. El y sus socios llevaron adelante el litigio por varios años, a despecho de numerosos fallos adversos, hasta que, finalmente, dictó la Suprema Corte de Méjico el último, inapelable, en favor del Jockey Club.

El forense S. C. Kelly se ha hecho cargo del cadáver de Bassity, mientras se reciben instrucciones de sus parientes o sus amigos. El forense declara que la muerte se produjo por causas naturales.

NOTAS LOCALES

Los Parientes del Muerto Suspenden su Incineración

Ayer fué suspendida una incineración para dejar a los parientes de Stephen Ackerman traer un médico que examinara el cadáver de su deudo. Ackerman falleció repentinamente esta semana en su casa, sita en el 2510 de North Beachwood Drive. Tenía 78 años. El doctor John H. Shaeffer, del departamento de autopsias del condado, practicó la del difunto en cuestión y dictaminó que el fallecimiento se debió a una afección cardiaca. Fué enviado el cuerpo a la funeraria de Mead & Mead.

La señora Mabel Thomas, hija de Ackerman, visitó el martes al forense, identificó el cadáver de su padre, y recibió informe oficial de que la defunción fué debida a causas naturales. Aparentemente, quedó satisfecha; pero en los funerales de ayer, y de modo intempestivo, mandó suspender la incineración. Súpose en la oficina del forense, que ella y otros parientes dudan de que la muerte haya sido natural, y se proponen llevar un médico particular que dictamine sobre el caso, antes de que se proceda a incinerar el cadáver.

Pero mejor tiraban los cazadores que vivían en los bosques (But the hunters who lived in the woods could shoot better). Prendían una vela; luego, uno de los cazadores tomaba su fusil y se alejaba cien pasos de la vela (They would light a candle. Then one of the hunters would take his gun, and go a hundred steps away from the candle). Entonces, disparaba sobre la vela; pero tiraba sólo a despabilarla, no a apagarla (He would then shoot at the candle. He would shoot so as to snuff it. He would not put out the candle). Sólo arrancaba con la bala un pedacito del pabilo; pero dejaba ardiendo la vela (He would only cut off a bit of the wick with the bullet. But he would leave the candle burning).

RESIDENTIAL properties are of varying value. Their intrinsic worth is based on very definite and obvious fundamentals.

Guesswork, prejudice, sentiment and persistent sales-effort have no place in the vital selection of your homeplace.

You may buy for an investment. You may plan to build immediately. You may be planning for the future. In any event, it is important that you check your contemplated selection against these ten Favorable Factors. Upon them the happiness and contentment that you anticipate depends.

Each of these Favorable Factors will be dwelled upon individually in the series of messages we have prepared.

While we believe that Huntington Palisades represents the nearest to the ideals of all Southern California homeplace property, we aim to guide your selection, wherever it may be, into channels that will bring you as much of the ideal to which you attain as possible.

Experts have carefully weighed Huntington Palisades against these Favorable Factors. That it comes closer to an average of 100% in every instance than any other property anywhere, is indicated by their findings.

In view of this, it is logical that before you buy a homeplace you should at least consider and investigate Huntington Palisades.

We will be glad to assist you in an inspection of this property. Our sales department is manned by gentlemen who are more desirous of seeing you pleased than in simply making a sale. We do not tolerate 'high pressure' methods, neither do we assume a 'high hat' attitude. We do urge an early visit. Sales are increasing because of the many beautiful homes already established and many others contemplated and each sale means a narrowing of choice.

RICHFIELD BUYS OIL PROPERTIES

With Associates Purchases Universal Consolidated

Talbot to Take Presidency of Company

Deal Involves Production at Santa Fe

Purchase of the controlling interest in the Universal Consolidated Oil Company by the Richfield Oil Company and a group of Los Angeles and San Francisco capitalists was announced yesterday. James A. Talbot, chairman of the Richfield board, will succeed Roy N. Bishop as president and other Richfield executive officers will take the place on the board of the San Francisco Crocker interests, the former controlling owners, and will be in executive charge.

The stock of the Universal Consolidated Oil Company showed marked activity on both the San Francisco and Los Angeles curb exchanges as reports about the deal were circulated. In San Francisco the stock opened with a transfer of 9300 shares at $2.10 a share, up 25 cents, while in Los Angeles the first sale of 1600 shares at $1.95 was up 10 cents. A total of 106,500 shares changed hands on the Los Angeles Curb yesterday at prices ranging from $1.95 to $2.25, with a closing price of $2.15.

Universal Consolidated Oil Company has an authorized capitalization of $10,000,000, with 3,396,870 shares of $1 par stock outstanding. The company has no funded debt. It is one of the oldest producing companies in California, having started operations in its Lost Hills property in 1910. Its operations were later extended to other fields, and in Santa Fe Springs, under the direction of Edward Stearns, it has been an important producer. Mr. Stearns, it was stated, will remain in charge of the field operations of the company.

According to the statement issued in connection with the deal, earnings of Universal for the first six months of this year were, after all charges including depletion, depreciation and Federal taxes, approximately $1,000,000.

The company's holdings, according to latest available statistics, consist of 2170 acres owned in Kern and Fresno counties and 1175 acres leased in Kern and Los Angeles counties. It owns a majority of the stock in the Lost Hills Water Company. It also has the drilling right on fifteen acres at Santa Fe Springs belonging to the Occidental Petroleum Company, on which it receives 55 per cent of the net receipts after the cost of drilling.

MERGER OF LAUNDRIES PROJECTED

Home Service and United Linen Plan Formation of Holding Company

Confirmation was given yesterday by executives of the Home Service Corporation and United Linen Supply Company to the rumor that negotiations are under way for the formation of an extensive holding organization embracing these companies and several others engaged in various lines of public service in Los Angeles.

Ingall W. Bull, secretary-treasurer of Home Service, while declining to discuss details at this time, stated that negotiations thus far have been progressing rapidly and prospects are favorable for successful completion of the deal. He is at present engaged in the formation of a holding company, the terms of which are favorable to shareholders of the companies involved, he said.

While the names of the other companies to the deal were not divulged, it is understood that the holding company will have assets of about $20,000,000 and an announcement will be made within the next ten days, when it is expected, all details will have been completed. John Morris, president of United Linen Supply, confirmed the report that United Linen is included in the negotiations, but declined to make other statements at this time.

United Linen is the outcome of a combination of a number of towel and linen supply businesses which service buildings, factories and hotels, etc. It has assets of nearly $2,000,000 and is listed on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange. Home Service has assets of more than $6,000,000, and is reputed to be the second largest laundry company in the United States. It operates a chain of about fifteen laundries.

Telephone Split Again Rumored in Market Place

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (Exclusive) Information was circulated today from usually well-informed quarters that a capital readjustment in the American Telephone and Telegraph Company is to be announced shortly. It is generally supposed that the move will be a split-up of the common stock, possibly on a four-for-one or five-for-one basis.

This would appear to be logical, it is said, in view of the 100-point advance of the shares from the low of the year. At the recent high price of 292 the stock is considered too high to interest the average investor. The necessary legal papers incident to a split-up have been drawn up, reports state.

The company may offer additional stock rights immediately, since after January 1, 1930, funds will begin to pour in as the result of the conversion of the 4½ per cent debentures offered to stockholders in May of this year.

Offerings of the bonds, which total $219,000,000 principal amount, will result in an aggregate of $400,000,000 to the company within ten years if all the bonds are converted, Walter S. Gifford, president, has estimated. During 1930 each $100 par bond and $80 in cash will entitle the holder to one share of stock.

STOCK INCREASE DUE FOR BEST & COMPANY

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (Exclusive) Stockholders of Best & Co., Inc., will vote September 9, next, on increasing the authorized capital from 150,000 to 500,00 no par shares and on exchanging two new shares for each present one. The company's net income for the first half of 1929 was $527,531 after depreciation and taxes against $316,078 in the 1928 period.

BOND ISSUE PLANNED BY EDISON COMPANY

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14. (AP)—The Southern California Edison Company today applied to the Railroad Commission for authority to issue and sell $15,000,000 worth of refunding mortgage gold bonds bearing 5 per cent interest. The company proposed to use the money to refund outstanding 5½ per cent bonds and also to reimburse its treasury for capital expenditures.

UTILITY REPORTS

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—Shasta Water Company reported today net profits for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1929, after provision for Federal taxes, of $28,844, equivalent after preferred dividends to 7 cents per share on 20,000 shares "B" stock.

AIR TRUST SHOWS STOCKS

Investment Company Ranks Transport Shares First; All Branches of Industry Represented

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Traders and long-pull investors interested in the aviation stocks may profit from a comparison of their stocks with those owned by Air Investors, Inc., an investment and holding company concerned primarily with the shares of companies operating in the aviation industry. Officers and directors of this company are affiliated with large airplane, airplane accessory, banking and other enterprises, and presumably are well posted on investment and speculative possibilities in the industry.

Like the general investment trusts, Air Investors, Inc., has attempted to distribute its investments among all divisions of the aviation industry. The list includes manufacturing, transport, airport, motor, accessory and allied companies. Investments are divided as follows as of July 31, last:

DISTRIBUTION SHOWN

Aircraft manufacturing, 18 per cent; transport and affiliated operations, 30 per cent; allied industries, 29 per cent; motors and accessories, 14 per cent, and airports, 9 per cent.

In the transport group, in which Air Investors has placed the greatest percentage of its capital, are such companies as the Aviation Corporation, Aviation Corporation of the Americas, Embry-Riddle Aviation Corporation, United Aircraft and Transport, Curtiss Flying Service, National Air Transport, Southern Air Transport and Stout D. & C. Air Lines. These investments are well distributed over the domestic field, and through Aviation Corporation of the Americas extend into Central and South America.

Airport stocks include Roosevelt Field, Inc., Central Airport, Inc., Federated Airports, Inc., and Embry-Riddle Aviation Corporation, the last of which also operates a transport line.

Among the motor and accessory stocks are Curtiss Airplane and Motor, Kinner Airplane and Motor, Comet Engine Corporation, Wright Aeronautical, and Winton Engine Company. The accessory stocks include Bendix Aviation Corporation, Viking Pump and Standard Steel Propeller.

LIST WELL SPREAD

Listed in the airplane-manufacturing group are Curtiss Airplane and Motor, Keystone Aircraft, United Aircraft and Transport, Bellanca Aircraft, Fairchild Aviation, Pittsburgh Metal Airplane Company, Towle Aircraft Company and Travel Air Company.

Allied companies in which Air Investors is interested include Bohn Aluminum and Brass, Thompson Products, Inc., Aviation Credit Corporation and Aluminum Company of America.

Since July 31, last, the date on which Air Investors owned these stocks, important changes have taken place in the physical and financial ramifications of aviation companies. Many of the companies listed are now combined with others, with the effect on creating holding companies with diversified interests and possible serving all the purposes so far as the investor is concerned as the avation investment trust.

For example, Curtiss and Wright are now combined, which creates a company operating in airplane manufacturing, motor manufacturing, airport, transportation and other branches of the industry. United Aircraft and Transport and the Aviation Corpoartion are similarly situated.

Bank Announces New Trust Plan

Creation of a new trust plan to combine the facilities of the bank and the life insurance company was announced yesterday by E. J. Nolan, president of the Bank of America of California. Known as the composite trust, the new plan combines the advantages of an investment schedule, a program of accumulation and a life insurance trust, according to the announcement. The bank, Mr. Nolan said, neither sells insurance nor participates in the commissions earned by any underwriter.

Whitlock Plans New Expansion

Announcement of a $1,000,000 expansion program during the next year was made yesterday by the Whitlock Manufacturing Company, the company formed recently to manufacture the Whitlock postal meter mailing machine.

Additional acreage has been acquired at the present location on East Pico Boulevard, and work will be started in the near future on a six-story building to provide additional floor space. The program of expansion provides for the increase of plant facilities to handle the manufacture of 1000 complete machines monthly. Present production capacity is 500 machines monthly. Production was stepped up to 500 machines in May of this year.

Local Industry in Expansion

Manufacturers in Southern California during the past two years have greatly enlarged their market particularly in the ready-to-wear field, where today this industry is selling profitably in practically every State, according to Bradstreet's weekly summary on business in Los Angeles, issued yesterday.

Republic's Earnings for Nine Months Exceed Fiscal Year of 1928

Net profits of the Republic Supply Company for the first three quarters of its fiscal year ended July 30, last, amounted to $733,700 after all charges including Federal income taxes, equal to $3.67 a share on the 200,000 no-par capital shares outstanding, J. A. Crawford, president, announced yesterday.

For the full fiscal year ended October 31, 1928, the company reported earnings of $517,560, equal to approximately $2.59 a share on the same capitalization.

MOTOR PRODUCTION HOLDS GAIN

Seasonal Decline Negligible

While the last two months have brought a seasonal contraction in the volume of automobiles produced in this country and Canada the total output holds substantially above that for a year ago. As will be seen from the above chart, the 1929 production has been maintained constantly above corresponding levels for 1928 or 1927. The time of the year is at hand when seasonally some reaction in production is anticipated. A new high record for all time this year is definitely indicated.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—Following publication of crude rubber consumption figures for July, which were several thousand tons higher than estimated by rubber interests, futures at the opening of business on the New York Rubber Exchange today opened as much as 60 points over the previous finals on scattered sales. This strength, however, was of short duration for as the morning wore on prices began to react as selling orders made their appearance and before the early afternoon had arrived a good deal of the overnight gains were cut off the morning highs. Trading quieted down in the fourth hour of business, but in the final hour when the representative of a large Wall street commission house began offering the December delivery prices sagged to new low levels for the day to result in turning of gains into losses. The operator for an important uptown unit was reported to be lending support to the market near the low levels. Final range was unchanged to 20 points lower, with the near-by positions displaying a rather firm undertone, with the exception of October, which showed a loss of 20 points on a nominal quotation.

The final tone of the market was barely steady, after a turnover of 375 contracts, or 937½ long tons, of which a large part was transacted in the final hour, when most of the selling appeared.

London spot was quoted at 10¾d for a gain of 1-16d in a quiet market, while Singapore was unchanged at 10 1-16d, with the market dull. Outside spots were ⅛c higher at 20⅛c. Outside values were:

Canada Frost Forces Wheat Prices Upward

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. (AP)—Lively jumps in wheat prices today accompanied reports that frost is menacing what drought has left of the wheat crop of Canada. Decided falling-off in the amount of rural marketings of wheat in the United States tended strongly further to swing the wheat market upward, and so likewise did a big increase of flour trade, as well as notably higher price for corn.

Closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, 2⅜@2⅞c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 2⅛c to 3⅛c up, oats ⅝c to 1⅜c advanced, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 10c.

Official reports of freezing temperatures in Canada last night were supplemented by predictions of a recurrence of frosts there tonight, threatening to damage the quality of wheat yields if not also the quantity. Moreover, extremely pessimistic advices regarding the Canadian wheat crop in other respects were also current to the effect that regardless of what railroads or banks may say, the Canadian Northwest has suffered as the result of drought a crop disaster of magnitude unapproached in twenty-five years. It was asserted that a person may travel all day through Canadian wheat territory and see nothing but miserable stretches of grafts that on the eve of harvest average hardly a foot high.

Even allowing a maximum estimate of 225,000,000 bushels as the 1929 yield of wheat in Canada, it was stated that a large part of this total is fit only for cattle feed, and not for use as flour material. Meanwhile, Minneapolis reports were at hand telling of flour purchasing that exceeded the aggregate for any week heretofore this season. Southwest Mills having sold 500 per cent of their weekly capacity and the Northwest 230 per cent. Indications were also that export buying of North American wheat is continuing, and it was shown furthermore, that domestic primary receipts of wheat in the last three days have dropped to 12,256,000 bushels, compared with 18,671,000 bushels for the corresponding time last week.

Corn prices advanced almost vertically. Oats sympathized with the upward trend of corn and of wheat as well.

Influenced by the action of grain, provisions recovered from early losses, notwithstanding that hog values averaged lower.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Transamerica Corporation, on a spirited turnover, held the center of interest in the dealings yesterday on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. The issue bounded up 3 points to a high and close at 141, within 2 points of the record high, and at the end of the session had recorded sales in excess of 2000 shares. Oil stocks strengthened generally while the balance of the list exhibited a weaker undertone.

Standard Oil of California, trading briskly, sold ex-dividend and advanced 1 1-2 points to a high at 74 and ended at 73 1-2. The net gain, making allowance for the dividend, was equivalent to 1 5-8 points. Rio Grande firmed up fractionally on a continued active transfer. Richfield added 1-2 to end at 41 1-4 and Union improved slightly to 47. Macmillan yielded 3-4 to 34 and with Bolsa Chica, which lost 5 cents to 1.95, was the only oil issue to lose ground on the day.

Golden States Milk again held the spotlight with an advance of 1 point to another new high at 63. Pacific Finance reacted 3 points to 136 1-2, while International Re-Insurance closed up 1-2 to 62. California Bank, on light sales, slumped 3 1-2 points to 135 and Security-First National much less active than on the previous session, yielded 1-2 to end at 130 1-2.

Southern California Edison again led an active utility division and at the close was off 1-8 at 73 3-4. Pacific Lighting dropped back 3 points to 122. Byron Jackson, selling ex-dividend, was fractionally lower at 34 1-2. Douglas Aircraft at 36 and Emsco Derrick at 32 were also slightly depressed. Republic Supply gained 1-4 to 35 1-2.

LATE REACTION HITS EXCHANGE

that today's easy money was only temporary.

Announcement of a renewed flow of gold from London to New York with takings of approximately $5,000,000, made an increase in the Bank of England's discount rate seem inevitable. The directors of the Boston Federal Reserve Bank, meeting today, failed to follow the New York bank in putting up its rediscount rate, but it is felt that such action may be taken by the Chicago directors, meeting Friday.

Prominent in the day's news was the estimate of the American Petroleum Institute that crude-oil production last week declined 12,-[illegible] barrels, the first decline after several weeks of successive establishment of new high records. Earlier estimates had placed last week's production higher. Iron Age stated that seasonal curtailment now is making itself felt in the steel industry, but thus far the chief effects have been a decline in backlogs and shortening of deliveries. The two largest manufacturers were said to be still operating at close to capacity. The Iron Age composite price for finished steel, however, showed a slight decline from the level which had been maintained since March.

STEEL AGAIN HITS PEAK

United States Steel was sent up 8 points to another new high record at 245, but closed at 238. Westinghouse Electric and General Electric were sent up 16 and 10 points to record prices at 280 and 399, but lost much of their gains. American Can was a strong feature, selling up 7 points to a new high above 170, and closed near the top. Strong buying also came into Continental on report of expansion of its Chicago plant. Auburn Auto, Johns Manville, Cuyamel Fruit, Curtiss Aero, Radio and United States Industrial Alcohol were also strong.

The grade production figures brought heavy buying into the oils, Standard of New Jersey rising about 5 points to a new high.

Several utilities and rails made substantial headway. Stone & Webster made an extreme gain of about 4 points on rumors of an important announcement forthcoming from the management within a few weeks, and Consolidated Gas mounted about 8 points to a new peak above 171. In the rails, Nickel Plate and New Haven rose about 3 points to new peaks, and Hocking Valley, a comparatively inactive issue, shot up 45 points to equal its record of 525. Chesapeake and Ohio mounted about 6 points.

RAILS DEPRESSED

Several of the rails, however, were under pressure, Union Pacific losing 10 of yesterday's 13-point gain, and Delaware and Hudson losing nearly 8. Frisco lost 4 and Atchison sagged 2. Other shares displaying heaviness included Case Threshing, dropping 15 points in a small turnover, A. M. Byers, off 9, American Tobacco, off 7, and Allied Chemical, American and Foreign Power, American Smelting, Commercial Solvents, Du Pont, Electric Auto Lite, Eastman Kodak, Goodyear, International Harvester, Liggett & Myers, Pacific Lighting, F. G. Shattuck, Otis Elevator and United Aircraft, off 2 to 5 points.

In the commodity markets grains were strong, wheat futures gaining nearly 3 cents on reports of frost in Canada, and corn mounting 2 to 8 on unfavorable weather. Cotton, however, lost most of yesterday's gains, falling 55 to 90 cents a bale.

Foreign exchanges were steady to firm, sterling cables ruling a little higher at $4.84 7-8, probably reflecting payment for the shipment of gold to New York.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—Trading on the Curb Exchange ruled irregular all day in the face of easier money rates and favorable news developments. The investment trusts, oils, air stocks and a few high-priced specialties were the leaders on the rising side of the market. The utilities and mining shares displayed mixed tones. A few scattered issues made new highs.

Sales were well under the 2,000,000-share mark, with trading turning dull when persistent selling was encountered. Call money renewed at 7 per cent and dropped to 6 for the first time in six weeks. The improved tone in the oils followed announcement of a reduction in crude petroleum production.

Strong spots in the utility list were United Gas Improvement, Middle West Utilities, old, and 6 per cent preferred, and Central States convertible preferred, rising 3½ to 10 points. Electric Bond and Share after wavering around 138 advanced in the late trading to close at 140 for a net gain of 1½. Electric Investors opened strong at 275, and then dropped to 265½ and closed at 270 for a net loss of 2½. Duke Power lost 4 points.

Transamerica Corporation, holding company for the Giannini interests, and Interstate Equity, sponsored by Transamerica's subsidiary, Bancamerica Blair Corporation, were the leaders of the investment trusts, closing up 3 and nearly 2 points, respectively. Mayflower Associates established a new high on a fractional rise, and National Investors warrants closed up 9½ points at 180½ after touching a new high at 189. Tricontinental Corporation issues sold down from their record high prices on profit-taking. Goldman Sachs turned an early gain into a loss of 1⅝.

Aviation Corporation, which is moving up to the "Big Board" tomorrow, wound up at 18½, up ½ a point. Aero Supply "A" jumped 7½ points on a few sales to a record high at 67½. Dayton Airplane Engine also established a new top.

Gulf, Humble and Lion Oil picked 1½ to 2⅝ points. Oils on the "Big Board" were fairly strong.

Crocker Wheeler again broke into new high ground. This stock almost daily has been selling at record prices. Yesterday it rose 50 points. Today it closed at 480, up 10 points, after touching 485.

U. S. Freight, which is making its debut on the New York Stock Exchange tomorrow, was firm around 101. Pittsburgh Screw and Bolt also is being moved up to the "Big Board."

Standard Screw soared 16¾ points, falling a fraction short of its year's high. Reliance Manufacturing on a rise of 11 points climbed a new peak. The Ford issues were active, the English stock selling above 20 on a turnover of 45,500 shares. Aluminum Company rose 6.

The first order to reach the Curb Exchange from a trans-Atlantic liner at sea was received today by Gould, Avery & Co., members of the New York Stock and Curb exchanges, from the Ile De France. The order was for the closing price on American Superpower, which opened today at 38⅝ and closed at 37⅞ for a fractional loss. The Ile De France was the first of several liners on which brokerage offices have been sanctioned by the New York Stock Exchange.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—Reactions followed yesterday's advance in the cotton market today, with liquidation or reselling reported on the failure of bullish features in the weather or crop news to have a more stimulating effect on demand. Trading was quiet, however, with the market correspondingly sensitive to comparatively small orders either way and, after showing net losses of about 13 to 20 points, fluctuations were somewhat irregular. The midafternoon market was quiet at net declines of 10 to 18 points. Futures closed steady, 11 to 18 points lower; October, 18.13@18.15; December, 18.45@18.46; January, 18.50; March, 18.73; May, 18.90; spot, quiet; middling, 18.15.

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

The Bankline Oil Company is reported to have purchased a 5000-foot right of way from Hollister avenue to the ocean bluff across land owned by the Thomas B. Bishop Company.

Pending acquisition of further right of way, Bankline still is barging in the equipment for construction of a 500-foot pier, which is nearly complete, and work on a derrick starts within a week, it is asserted. Its seventy-acre tideland permit is bounded on the west by the Barnsdall-Rio Grande combination and on the east by a 100-acre lease belonging to the Elwood Consolidated, a subsidiary of the Honolulu Consolidated.

According to field reports, the Barnsdall-Rio Grande combination declined to allow other operators to cross their property. Atty.-Gen. Webb recently started proceedings to open a road along the ocean.

At least eleven wells will be drilled along the shore line at Elwood. The Pacific Western Oil Company, one of the first operators to complete an 1100-foot pier, is drilling ahead on Permit No. 92. The Barnsdall-Rio Grande combination has four permits to drill, Bankline has one, and Elwood Consolidated has two permits.

Bankline is reported to have leased forty acres on the bluff where a tank farm will be built for handling its expected output from the tideland permits. An 8000-foot pipe line will be constructed along the high tide land, by Bankline, to its pier.

New Location

The Shell Oil Company has just made location for its Union-Sugar No. A-8 in the Betteravia district in search of commercial production.

Shell's No. A-5 core-hole was drilled to about 1500 feet and no promising formation is yet in evidence, according to reports.

Abandonments

Failing to develop production, the Shell Oil Company has abandoned its Pack No. 1 at 5925 feet and its Ozanne No. 1 at 6100 feet, in the Lawndale field.

J. M. Cummings's Hokum No. 1 has been abandoned, with bottom of the hole at 5941 feet, and the Union Oil Company has announced its intention to abandon Johnston No. 1, drilled to 6460 feet.

To Drill Two More

The Marland Oil Company's location for its Bixby No. 31 at Seal Beach is being prepared. Concrete for foundation is being poured. Derrick for Bixby No. 30 is under construction, and reports are that it will spud in within the next ten days.

Sespe Elusive

Failure to locate the Sespe formation where it was expected, has led operators to believe that a lower sand may still be penetrated by Reggie & Coffman's deep test in the Palisades field, three miles west of Santa Barbara.

This project is drilling ahead below 2700 feet, it is asserted, in a brown shale formation. No favorable showings are in evidence, but field reports indicate that the well will be deepened as a thorough test for that area, based on recent findings in the General Petroleum Corporation's More No. 1 wildcat, three miles southeast of Elwood.

The More No. 1, which blew in two weeks ago, now is under control. It got slight showings, and when the cement plug was drilled out at about 2600 feet, it blew for some time, approximately 60,000,000 cubic feet of wet gas per day from a depth of 4533 feet.

Daily Average Up

Last week's average daily output of oil at Santa Fe Springs increased 14,000 barrels over the preceding week. The average daily production was 279,000 barrels for the week, with fifteen idle and 280 active projects. Following are the week's completions:

Associated Oil Company's Dellugge No. 7, 1850 barrels, cutting 27 per cent; General Petroleum Corporation's Santa Fe No. 232, 2400 barrels; George F. Getty's No. 19, for 700 barrels and Getty No. 31 for 1600 barrels; Shell Oil Company's Slusher No. 13, for 700 barrels; Standard Oil Company's Hepler No. 1, for 3800 barrels, cutting 10 per cent; and Gertrudes No. 12, for 2600 barrels; Superior Oil Company's Wardman No. 6, for 4000 barrels; Texas Company's Foix No. 6, 2000 barrels, Lamb No. 2, 3500 barrels, Steinly No. 6, 2500 barrels and Weaver No. 5 for 2400 barrels; Union Oil Company's Farwell No. 14 for 500 barrels and Howard No. 12, for 2500 barrels.

Lower Clarke Promising

Possibilities of the lower Clarke sand at Santa Fe Springs are showing up better than was at first expected as a result of recent completions. The Standard Oil Company's Santa Gertrude No. 12, which came in with an initial output of 2108 barrels of oil per day, has increased its flow to 2600 barrels, from a depth of 8004 feet.

Standard's Hepler No. 7 was completed yesterday for a yield of approximately 3600 barrels of 30.5-deg. gravity oil per day with a cut of 10 per cent, with bottom of the hole at 8053 feet, in the lower Clarke sand. This completion is just south of Telegraph Road, a short distance west of Four Corners, and in the same area where the Santa Gertrude No. 12 was brought in.

Production Test Seen

The Southern Exploration Company will shortly drill out the cement in its Twitchell No. 1 well, at the extreme western end of the old Summerland field for a production test.

Due to water difficulties a short string of eight and five-eighth-inch casing was set and cemented at about 295 feet for a water shut-off test. The project was then drilled considerably deeper, but failed to pick up commercial production, and has been plugged back where favorable showings are said to be in evidence. It is situated on the bluff, overlooking the ocean and only a short distance from where wells have been producing from shallow depth for thirty years.

The Lincoln Drilling Company's Williams No. 2 has derrick constructed, and it will spud in tomorrow in an effort to find the sand penetrated in the Williams No. 1, which is pumping approximately 225 barrels of 20-deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 1350 feet.

About 130 feet due east of the Williams No. 1, George F. Getty, Inc., has cemented surface casing at about 600 feet in its Becker Fee No. 1, at the edge of the surf.

Permits Increase

A gain is noted in the number of permits to drill issued last week by the State Mining Bureau, in relation to the number issued the preceding week. Two weeks ago only eleven were issued, while twenty-nine were issued last week, four being for Signal Hill, two at Huntington Beach, two at Santa Fe Springs, two at Seal Beach, one each at Dominguez, Inglewood, Potrero and Richfield fields, four in Santa Barbara county, one in Monterey county, and ten in the fields of Kern county.

Following are the permits for Santa Barbara county: Standard Oil Company's Sudden No. 1, Shell Oil Company's Union-Sugar No. A-6, Gaviota Oil Company's No. 1, General Petroleum Corporation's Erburu No. 1.

Richfield Oil Company's Dieter-Golay No. 1 and Rex Oil Company's No. 14, at Huntington Beach; Marland Oil Company's Bixby No. 30 and No. 31 at Seal Beach; Standard Oil Company's Standard-Wardman No. 1 and Walker Community No. 22 at Santa Fe Springs; Superior Oil Company's Guarantee No. 3, at Richfield; Shell Oil Company's Childs No. 3, at Dominguez; Congress Petroleum Corporation's Butler-Holcombe No. 1 and Hancock Oil Company's Signal No. 20 and No. 21, at Signal Hill; Parker No. 1, of George F. Getty, Inc., at Potrero; Standard Oil Company's Vickers No. 1, at Inglewood; Barhow Oil Company's No. 1 at Signal Hill; Standard Oil Company's Piedmont, near Kings City, Monterey county; Gus Ninkovich's No. 1, in Kern county; Standard Oil Company's No. 15, in Midway district; Ohio Oil Company's No. 30, in Belridge district; Signal Oil and Gas Company's Sheehan No. 5, and Wellington Oil Company's Maricopa No. 1, in Sunset district; Western Gulf Oil Company's K.C.L. No. C-2, at Fruitvale; General Petroleum Corporation's Wetmore No. 2, and Pan American Petroleum Company's No. 9, at Kern River Front; Union Oil Company's S. & M. No. 5 and No. 6, at Poso Creek.

May Extend Field

Completion yesterday of the Petroleum Securities Company's Bixby No. 1, near the intersection of Wardlow Road and Cedar street, at Signal Hill, for an initial output of 400 barrels of 21-deg. gravity oil per day, is thought to have extended that field some distance westward.

This new completion is farther west than any other in the field. It was drilled to 4806 feet, and is a shallow producer, but reports indicate that it may be killed in the near future and deepened in search of a deeper sand.

Eight out of ten reporting centers indicated lemons were lower, with the remaining two reporting unchanged markets. Grapefruit was unchanged and lower.

PHONE HEARING GOES ON TODAY

Railroad Commissioners to Hear More Testimony

Lester Ready Probably Will be First Witness

Engineer Has Made Study of Rate Situation

The State Railroad Commission investigation of rates and practices of the Southern California Telephone Company will be resumed here today before Commissioners Carr, Decoto and Seavey in the commission's courtroom, 810 Associated Realty Building. The investigation, begun several months ago as one angle to an inquiry into the rates of sixteen public-utilities companies in California, was launched on the commission's own motion, citing these companies to appear and explain why their rates are, in the language of the commission, "higher than those usually deemed reasonable."

The first witness to be called at the continued hearing today probably will be Lester S. Ready, consulting engineer for the commission, who has made an exhaustive study of the Southern California Telephone Company's rate schedules and practices. Ready is expected to submit recommendations to the commission.

CONFLICTING VIEWS

At the June hearing Ready testified that the local telephone company is earning in excess of 9 per cent and that 7½ per cent will be a reasonable return for telephone service rendered here. He presented a mass of figures to back up this assertion.

The telephone company's answer, made through Oscar Lawler, its attorney, was that for a number of years prior to the establishment of the present telephone rates in Los Angeles the company operated at a loss. That period, it was pointed out, marked the most extraordinary community expansion in area and population in the history of the country, but that, nevertheless, the company not only kept pace with the city's growth but rendered a service comparable to any in the country.

It is only since the present rates became effective that the Southern California Telephone Company has ceased to operate at a loss, Lawler argued.

ANOTHER ANGLE

In connection with today's hearing considerable significance is attached to a similar hearing at San Francisco last Tuesday, where the Pacific Telephone Company, operating there, made it known to the commission that it will seek an addition in rates that will permit an increase in annual earnings of $[illegible]. This hearing was attended by City Attorney Werner of Los Angeles, who is expected at today's hearing.

The present session involves the Pacific and the United States Long Distance companies only to the extent of their operations in connection with the Southern California Telephone Company.

Humidity Still Makes it Seem Pretty Warm

Damp atmosphere continued yesterday to make otherwise normal temperatures seem warmer, United States Weather Bureau observers reported.

The thermometer reached its highest point of 83 deg. at 3 p.m., with the humidity at 48 per cent—relatively high and responsible for the close effect during the afternoon, according to the weather men. It dropped to 70 deg. during the night.

A few more similar days, however, are coming up, the Federal prediction states.

Thunder showers can be expected over near-by mountains before the weather settles down again. Present conditions are not abnormal, as several days similar to yesterday can be expected each August, the Weather Bureau indicated.

HAYDEN RITES TO BE TODAY

Funeral rites for Charles W. Hayden, accountant for the Birkel Music Company, who died Monday, will be conducted at 10 a.m. today at the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Mr. Hayden was 59 years of age. His home was at 5220 Townsend avenue. He leaves his widow, Mrs. May M. Hayden.

Mitchell Airs Rediscount Rate Views

Family Accompanies Bank Head on Trip

THE WAILING in some quarter over the recent advance in rediscount rates by the New York Federal Reserve finds no sympathy from C. Stanley Mitchell, one of the leading financial figures of the country and chairman of the board of directors of the Bank of The United States.

In addition to being head of one of the large banks in New York City, Mr. Mitchell is the head of a fine family. They are traveling with him on a three weeks' pleasure trip in the Mitchell private car. Those in the family are: Mrs. Mitchell, Frances, Helen and Stanley, Jr. With the family is B. D. Johnson, of Boston, finance of Helen Mitchell.

Questioned on his attitude toward the rediscount rate rise which caused the upset in the stock market, Mr. Mitchell said he thinks it was a good thing. "It probably will have a lot to do with driving out cheap speculation, and will help business generally."

Business over the country is in good condition, he said. The outlook for this fall is very good.

The Mitchells are staying at the Ambassador and will be in the city until Saturday.

YOUNG AND CABINET TO MEET HERE

All Day Public Session Will be Conducted at Exposition Park

Gov. Young and his Cabinet will conduct an all-day conference, to which the public is invited, at the State Building at Exposition Park on the 28th inst., starting at 9 a.m. It will be the first time in the history of California that an official State Cabinet meeting will have been conducted in Los Angeles.

This announcement was made yesterday by Keith Carlin, private secretary to Gov. Young, at a luncheon at the Alexandria given by members of the B'nai B'rith in honor of Edgar C. Levey, speaker of the California Assembly. Mr. Levey is a guest at the Biltmore.

The luncheon was attended by a score of influential citizens of Los Angeles, including Rabbi E. F. Magnin, who praised Mr. Levey for his service to the public and also for his labors in behalf of the Jewish people.

Mr. Levey, whose official headquarters while in Los Angeles will be at the offices of the Associated Life Insurance Company, will meet tomorrow with Lieut.-Gov. Carnahan at the latter's office, to confer with him regarding the making up of several legislative committees and commissions.

HANSON RITES TODAY

Last rites for Mrs. Katharine M. E. Hanson will be conducted today at 2 p.m. at St. John's Evangelical Church, Second and Decotah streets. French & Sons, morticians, will be in charge. Burial will follow in Inglewood Park Cemetery. Mrs. Hanson, a native of Germany, lived in Los Angeles for the last twenty-one years. Her death occurred Tuesday at her home, 2834 East First street. She was 81 years of age. She leaves her son, John Hanson.

Junior Chamber Luncheon Today

The first summer luncheon meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held this noon in the Sala de Oro at the Biltmore. Arrangements for more than 400 guests have been made, according to Clifford Rawson, secretary-manager of the Junior Chamber.

There will be but one general meeting of the members during August and September, and today's will feature an all-entertainment program. This is the only luncheon meeting of the year that is devoted entirely to entertainment.

EX-KANSANS TO PICNIC

Former residents of Ottawa county, Kansas, will gather at Bixby Park, Long Beach, for an all-day picnic Saturday, the 24th inst., it was announced yesterday by Mrs. W. R. Middleton of 3105 Vista street, Long Beach.

KEYES LOSES BAIL APPEAL

Court Holds Former Prosecutor Failed to Show Health is in Immediate Danger

Asa Keyes, former District Attorney, now in County Jail under sentence to San Quentin Prison, has lost his appeal to the District Court of Appeals for admission to bail. The motion, submitted to the Appellate Court several weeks ago by Attorneys Paul Schenck and Milton Cohen, was denied by Presiding Justice Works.

The court made a clear-cut distinction between the plight of a man who stands in danger of suffering "great permanent and irreparable injury to his health," and one whose well being is "immediately in imminent danger." Although five physicians and one dentist swore in Keyes's behalf that unless he is permitted to have medical and surgical care urgently required and unavailable under jail facilities, his condition will steadily deteriorate and will result in great permanent and irreparable injury to his health, it was not shown in the appeal for admission to bail that Keyes is in any immediate danger, the court held in denying the motion.

"It is said, it is true, that certain medical and surgical attention is urgently required by him, but the only effect of his failure to obtain it will be that his condition will steadily deteriorate and will result in permanent and irreparable injury to his health," the court explains. "It is plain from this," the opinion continues, "that no permanent injury has yet supervened. Moreover, how long will it be that the appellant's condition will steadily deteriorate before permanent injury to his health will result? We are not informed. This showing is plainly insufficient," the court held.

Justice Craig concurred.

TWENTY-EIGHT SEEK PORT JOB

Wild Scramble on for Berth of Harbor Warden

Wadleigh Seen as Favorite; Britt Offers Petition

Incumbent Reported to be Preparing for Fight

In a wild scramble for the job of port warden at the harbor, paying $350 monthly, twenty-eight persons are seeking the berth. This was learned from General Manager Edwards yesterday, following reports that the incumbent, C. B. Terry, appointed by former Mayor Cryer eight years ago, is to be replaced by a Mayor Porter adherent. Most of the applications were verbal, only three making formal application.

Following the appearance of Frank Wadleigh, a friend of Mayor Porter, who generally is considered to have the "inside track" on the berth, Edward L. Britt, the Mayor's campaign manager in the harbor district, made formal application yesterday. Britt presented a petition with more than 200 signatures of harbor residents urging his appointment. Wadleigh has made no formal application to the commission.

Britt expressed surprise that anyone else had been considered for the appointment.

The second of the three formal applications is that of Everett B. Morgan, chairman of Division No. 503 of the Order of Railroad Conductors, who is said to have declared that he swung 46,600 votes for Porter. It is reported he also considers himself a favorite for the port warden's berth.

The third application is that of Edward J. Keenan of Wilmington, recommended for the post by the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce.

Identity of the other twenty-four applicants was not disclosed, but it is known that a number of them called on the Mayor yesterday.

The Mayor contends he is not concerned in the matter and the members of the Harbor Board are more than willing to shelve the subject, so that the choice, apparently, is left to General Manager Edwards, who has direct jurisdiction over the job. Edwards admitted he is slated to confer with Wadleigh on his qualifications today or tomorrow and seemed surprised when informed that other applicants considered themselves favored.

Many of the applicants, it was learned, have been referred to the Mayor's "investigators."

In the meantime, according to reports received at headquarters from the harbor front, the incumbent does not intend to receive the ax meekly, but is considering a fight to retain the post.

SCHWEITZER RESIGNS HIS POLICE POST

Commissioner Just Back from Vacation Trip Asks Mayor for Early Release

Police Commissioner Schweitzer, who returned from an extensive vacation trip Tuesday to Alaska and the Yukon district, yesterday sent in his formal resignation to Mayor Porter, urging the Mayor to accept it as early as possible.

The wording of the resignation follows:

"I hereby tender you my resignation as a member of the Board of Police Commissioners of the city of Los Angeles and would appreciate your immediate acceptance of this resignation.

"I sincerely hope your administration may be a successful one."

Questioned as to reasons for the resignation, Schweitzer explained that the work of the board takes too much of his time away from the practice of law and from his family. He denied that he has been requested to resign, but admitted he had talked with the Mayor prior to his departure for Alaska more than five weeks ago.

The resignation is the second since Mayor Porter took office. Commissioner Gilmore resigned several weeks ago and has attended no meetings since, although his successor has not been named. Commissioner Gollum, whose term expired, was not reappointed by the Mayor, Commissioner Drake being named in his place.

Commissioners Pierce and Thorpe are the only two holdovers left from the Cryer administration, and indications are they are to remain on the board.

LEVY MAP SUBMITTED

City Engineer Shaw yesterday submitted to the Council the assessment district map for the improvement of the San Marcos Place and Avenue Forty-eight district. This was referred to the Public Works Committee.

POLICE BOARD GETS CAR AND FORCE LOSES OUT

Despite the suggestion of Commissioner Drake that the matter be held in abeyance until a new police commission is formed, a shiny new six-cylinder sedan and police chauffeur yesterday were assigned to the use of the commission, it was revealed by Chief Davis.

The assignment was made, Chief Davis said, when W. G. Thorpe, president of the commission, ordered the car regularly detailed to the chief of detectives transferred to his use as president of the police governing body.

As a result, Davis admitted, his chief of detectives now is forced to patronize the Los Angeles street railway or walk. In ordering the transfer of the car Thorpe stated he wished to use it in carrying out his asserted official duties, it was understood.

Assignment of a car to the commission was proposed by President Thorpe at the meeting of the commission Tuesday but Commissioner Drake said he does not believe the commission needs an automobile and chauffeur. It also was pointed out that the City Council repeatedly has turned down a request for the appropriation of a car to the commission.

COUNTY PAY FRAY PUT OFF

Civil Service Commission Head Fails to Appear for Protest Due to Depleted Personnel

While heads of county offices waited grim and determined in the Board of Supervisors' room yesterday, ready to contradict the assertions of A. C. Malone, chairman of the Civil Service and Efficiency Commission, that the last county salary ordinance raised their pay too much, Malone telephoned from Long Beach that he would not appear.

"I understand that one member of the commission is on his vacation and the other is ill," said Mr. Malone. "Under those circumstances, it would be useless for me to appear at the Hall of Records today."

Mr. Malone said he intends to take court action if the Supervisors continue firm in their intention to raise the salary of Sam Chappell, secretary of the commission, from $6000 a year to $7200.

"The county charter provides that salary of the secretary of the commission can be raised only on motion of the commission," Mr. Malone said. "The action the commission finally took in consenting to Mr. Chappell's salary rise was illegal.

"While I think some of the other salary rises proposed on the new salary ordinance are too much, I am not in a position at this time to make a formal protest. Any taxpayer can do that, however, by appearing before the Board of Supervisors before the temporary budget is finally adopted."

Mr. Malone said there will be a meeting of the Civil Service Commission on the 21st inst., when he said he hopes R. W. Mottern will have returned from his vacation and George A. Mattison will have recovered from his indisposition.

RELIEF CORPS TO MEET

HEARING ON ZONE MOVE CONCLUDED

Planning Commissioners Agree on Retail District Protection Need

The City Planning Commission yesterday concluded its hearing on the proposed new mercantile zone in the downtown district, which is principally for retail business, with light manufacturing restricted to 15 per cent of the floor space. This district will be known as Zone C-3 under the proposed new zoning ordinance. The commission took no action yesterday, but will render a report in the near future.

Practically all speakers supported the plan of protecting a downtown retail district from the encroachments of heavy industries, but there was some disagreement as to the boundaries of the zone. As contemplated the boundary line follows a zigzag course including the territory between Sunset Boulevard, Main street, Pico street and Figueroa street.

This afternoon the City Planning Committee of Council will conduct another hearing on the new zoning ordinance.

EMPLOYEES TO PICNIC

More than 250 employees of the Electrical Products Corporation, manufacturers of neon lights, will attend the sixth annual picnic of the company which will be held at Brookside Park, Pasadena, on Saturday. Coffee, lemonade and ice cream will be furnished by the company. An indoor baseball game and athletic contests for both men and women will feature the day.

STREET PROJECTS ADVANCE

Council Calls for Hoover and Santa Barbara Land Condemnation Among Other Plans

Council yesterday adopted five ordinances calling for the condemnation of land for street improvements, the most important of which provide for portions of the Hoover-street project and the Santa Barbara-avenue widening.

Councilman Davis explained that every effort should be made to complete these jobs in order to provide adequate traffic arteries for the Olympic Games in 1932. An allocation of $850,000 from city funds already has been made toward the Hoover project.

One ordinance calls for the condemnation of property for the new Hoover street between Thirty-second street and Figueroa street and the opening, extending and laying out of Thirty-second street between University avenue and Hoover street.

The final result of the Hoover-street project will mean an artery, 100 feet wide, from the harbor, along Figueroa street, then north along Hoover street from Exposition Park by Virgil avenue and other streets to the Hollywood hills.

Another ordinance calls for the condemnation of property in connection with the widening of Santa Barbara avenue between Moneta avenue and Grand avenue, while a third ordinance authorizes condemnation of property for the extension of Santa Barbara avenue between McKinley avenue at Thirty-sixth street and Griffith avenue at Santa Barbara avenue.

The fourth ordinance directs the condemnation of property for the opening and extending of Macy street, between North Main and North Spring street.

The fifth ordinance calls for condemnations for the opening and laying out of a new street to extend San Pedro street from Vernon avenue opposite the present San Pedro street to Main street at Forty-sixth street.

SANTA BARBARA GAY FOR FIESTA

Beautiful New Courthouse Formally Dedicated

History of State Pictured in $1,500,000 Structure

Three-Day Festival Opens Today With Pageant

BY JOHN STEVEN McGROARTY

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 14. (Exclusive)—On the eve of its three days of annual fiesta, the now world-famous "Old Spanish Days," Santa Barbara today dedicated to the public service its gorgeous new county Courthouse.

Beyond all doubt it is one of the most beautiful structures in the world devoted to civic and public purposes. It sets a standard for California and puts the rest of us to shame. In steel and stone, brick and tile and wood, it expresses that soul of beauty in which we have been in quest but have never found until now.

EXQUISITE WONDER

Upon its exquisite wonder, like a stately ghost of the glamorous past, the old Mission of Santa Barbara looks down from its higher hill slope eminence above the sunset sea. It is as though a beautiful mother looked down upon a still more beautiful daughter. This new dream is but the fulfillment of an older dream. It is a consummation.

"The people of Santa Barbara have built this Courthouse. It is an expression of the traditions of the county and is built to provide a home for the type of government which the people are striving to develop," so runs the simple yet eloquent statement of the County Board of Supervisors.

MEN OF COURAGE

I felt that I was in the presence of great and very unusual men, when I foregathered with this Board of Supervisors today. They are men of superb vision and also they are men of courage. They were opposed on all sides. The very people who today swelled with pride at this great achievement are the same people who berated the Supervisors, but that's the way life goes, that's the way the world always has been.

There is no structure in all the world devoted to civic purposes and the public service to be mentioned in the same breath with this new Santa Barbara county Courthouse, and yet the men who envisaged it and forced through its completion against squalid opposition and carping criticism were abused like dogs in public prints and from public forums.

FOUGHT CRITICS

But, what need they care? They will be remembered when their critics are forgotten.

"Local architects must plan our

by Harry Carr

MR. FATTY ARBUCKLE, who ought to know about night life if anybody does, has given us a shock. He has retired from the management of a night club because he says there isn't any money in it. During the course of an evening—at $20 for a canary-sized meal—there would seem to be a good deal of somebody's money in them.

WALL STREET STOCKS

These people who have been nicked in the collapse of stocks in Wall street can mop up their own tears. They were out looking for it.

It seems to take a long time to get the idea through the brains of American people that you can't make two or three hundred per cent profit and not crash in the end. For the majority of stock gamblers it would have been a far more sensible plan to have played a roulette wheel. There, at least, the percentages against the player are fixed and known.

Once in a while a roulette wheel is crooked with an electric brake concealed. But it is not a circumstance to the electric brake that is used to manipulate a large percentage of New York stocks.

NERVOUS TRIGGER

Censorship is so strict that it is impossible to find out exactly what is happening between the soviets and the Chinese on the Manchurian border, but if the rumors about firing across the border are correct, we are going to hear of a big bloody battle some morning.

You can't keep troops like two leashed bulldogs glaring at each other across an international line and expect them to keep gently stewing in the butter fat of brotherly love. Some day a patrol sees something moving in the darkness and challenges; there's a shot; then more shots; and the big show is on.

Troops under arms are more nervous than race horses at a starting gate. And the poorer the quality of troops, the more probable the outbreak.

CURVES

The photographs accompanying the defiance of Miss Fay Lanphier supply a final and decisive climax to her argument. "Miss California" states that, although other girls may continue to starve themselves into scantlings, she will continue to curve. Let us hope so.

THE PUG

Jackie Fields must be a great shock to the reformers who see prize fighters as tough mugs with heavy jowls and mean dispositions. Jackie is a nice little Jewish "mother's boy," who sallies out with his fists and brings home the gefulltefische to support a good, respectable family.

George Ade tells the story of the prize-fight champion who dresses his mother in grand clothes in which she is unhappy, and moves her into a neighborhood where she doesn't know how to act. Most of the pugs I have known have been crazy over their mothers.

DANGER AHEAD

Rumors about the marriage of the Prince of Wales have been revived again. If they do not hustle His Highness to the altar Peggy Hopkins Joyce is liable to get him.

new Courthouse," said the critics and the obstructionists. "We have no local architects who can create our vision," answered the Supervisors.

It took courage to say that. Only brave men could take that stand.

And, so the Supervisors called in William Mooser of San Francisco to make true the great dream. William Mooser and his son, William Mooser, Jr., dreamers of beauty, yet men who know the strength of steel and stone, what weight an arch will bear, what safe hold there may be to the stretch of a rafter.

When you look upon the stately grandeur of this new Santa Barbara County Courthouse, when you wander through its corridors and cloisters, and when you have filled your soul full of its matchless beauty, you will wish that your own city could have harbored public officials of the caliber of these Santa Barbara Supervisors and that your public buildings were designed by architects of the attainments of these Moosers.

CASTLE OF KING

The new Santa Barbara Courthouse has been completed at a cost of less than $1,500,000. Take the trouble to look at it some time and think of buildings erected at twice and three times that cost and that are nothing more than massive piles of hideous ugliness.

It is not like a courthouse at all. It is more like the castle of a great king. Yet no king ever had a castle to compare with this. Napoleon said the castle of the King of Spain in Madrid was the finest castle in Europe. It is a mere heap of ugly stones in comparison with the Courthouse of Santa Barbara.

It is not only the splendid ensemble of the structure that overwhelms you. The exquisite detail is no less wonderful. I no longer care to listen to the American who raves of what he has seen in Europe. I have seen what he has seen, and I know he can't tell me of anything Europe has that will match this unbelievably gorgeous pile in Santa Barbara.

CHAIRS SURPASS

Such detail! In the Superior courtroom, for instance, are chairs of stretched leather for audiences to be seated upon. Chairs patterned after old California ranches. Beautiful chairs and the most comfortable imaginable. And lawyers' chairs inside the railings that set off the space reserved for counsel. Chairs that lawyers dreamed of since the days of Sir William Blackstone, but never saw until now. In these chairs a lawyer can feel like a lawyer wants to feel. I have never seen their like before.

I command all Californians to feast their souls upon the mural paintings in the Supervisors' room. They are the work of Don Sayre Groesbeck, who now takes his place among the immortals. These murals stirred my heart as no paintings ever have done before. They lifted my soul into a nobler and a higher conception of the glory of California. They are living things, these murals. To look upon them is to sail in galleons and to adventure unknown trails.

MISSION BELLS RING

The dedication today was conducted under the auspices of the Native Sons of the Golden West with a fine, stirring program. Tonight the bells of the old mission rang out a welcome to the strangers within the gates. The corridors of the old gray fortress of the cross were crowded with happy revelers.

The fiesta continues through Thursday until Saturday, beginning Thursday with the great annual pageant. The city is crowded with visitors in unprecedented numbers.

District Attorney's Aide Says He Heard Overtures to Stafford on Dictograph

Asserted overtures toward bribing Municipal Judge Stafford to induce him to rescind a decision in a civil action in his court were related yesterday in Superior Judge Doran's court where Fred P. Newport, wealthy real estate man, and Robert D. Clarke, former Municipal Court Clerk, are on trial charged with the bribery conspiracy.

The two men are charged with conspiring to offer Judge Stafford $50,000 to change his decision in a $1,000,000 civil action which previously had been handed down against Newport.

Failure of a dictograph set by the District Attorney's investigators, to transmit any of the asserted conversations between Judge Stafford and Clarke was revealed on the witness stand by Robert Herron, a stenographer, who said the instrument did not provide him with a transcript.

Blayney Matthews, of the District Attorney's investigators, however, testified that he heard Clarke tell Judge Stafford that Newport had authorized him to "go the limit" to get the decision changed. Matthews said he overheard Clarke say he was hired at $50 per week by Newport to work to that end.

Jerome Reynolds, a real estate operator, was called to testify regarding asserted conversations he had with Judge Stafford and Newport. He admitted the conferences, but denied he attempted to influence Judge Stafford.

Charles Allison, a friend of Judge Stafford, asserted that at a luncheon table he heard Newport invite the jurist to a fishing trip, and he said Judge Stafford replied, in effect: "Is that so," after Newport had said it would not cost him a cent. The defense attacked Allison's statement. The State may rest its case today.

MARCO WINS JUDGMENT REDUCTION

Road House Rent Unpaid on Grounds That it Had Bad Reputation

Marco Albori, alias Albert Marco, deposed and convicted "vice king," now in San Quentin prison, wouldn't pay rent for an asserted road house because of its evil reputation, it was revealed yesterday when the prisoner won a $1125 civil judgment in a decision filed by the District Court of Appeals at San Francisco. The case was assigned to that court by the State Supreme Court and the decision reached the files of the Supreme Court here yesterday.

Marco was sued by Frank and Florence McCoy for back rent on an establishment "near Sawtelle," on which he had taken a lease. In defense of his action, Marco set up the claim that "after entering into possession of the premises he discovered they bore a bad reputation by reason of the commission thereon prior to the making of the lease of violations of the liquor laws of the United States and of acts of immorality, in consequence of which he was unable to conduct a profitable business thereon."

The Superior Court in Los Angeles rendered a judgment against Marco of $3375; $2000 for rent, $1125 additional for rent up to the time judgment was rendred and $250 attorney's fees.

The decision of the higher court modified the judgment by striking out the item of $1125. The assignment on the suit was for $2000 only and a suit on assignment can only be for the amount assigned, the court held. The $250 item for attorney's fees was allowed to stand.

LUNCHEON POISON QUIZ CONTINUES

Foods Being Analyzed to Determine Which Resulted in Illness of 100 Persons

Several samples of the foods served at the luncheon of the Los Angeles chapter of the American War Mothers Tuesday which caused nineteen of the diners to be treated at Georgia-street Receiving Hospital for ptomaine poisoning yesterday were under analysis in the health department.

While nineteen of those at the luncheon were treated officially police estimated that approximately 100 men and women were stricken with the poison and that those who did not go to the hospital were treated at their homes.

Dr. J. S. Fox and Dr. Mona Bettin of the health department have specimens of salads, veal loaf and cantaloupe served at the luncheon under examination and the food which actually carried the germs to cause the illness is expected to be identified today.

All those treated at the hospital have been sent home and the results will not be serious in any case, Police Surgeon Kirkpatrick announced.

Abalone Means Alimony for Shell Victim

Abalone meant alimony to Mrs. Mary C. Adams, when she appeared in Superior Judge Crawford's court yesterday, and told the story of her differences with Edgar D. Adams, film editor for a motion-picture studio.

"He hit me on the head with an abalone shell," said Mrs. Adams. "I wasn't able to sit up for a week."

Judge Crawford ordered that Mrs. Adams be allowed alimony of $125 a month. Adams admitted his salary was $150 a week, and Attorney S. S. Hahn, counsel for the plaintiff, had asked for half of that amount for Mrs. Adams.

GIRL SKY RIVALS HONORED

Air-Derby Contestants Special Guests of Women's Aeronautic Association and Breakfast Club

Seven entrants of the National Women's Air Derby scheduled to start from Clover Field, Santa Monica, next Sunday and to finish in Cleveland, were the guests yesterday of the Women's Aeronautic Association of California at a luncheon at the Biltmore.

Those who shared the honors of the occasion were Patty Willis, Bobbie Trout, Amelia Earhart, Marjorie Crawford, Blanche Noyes, Louise Thaden and Gladys O'Donnell.

Earlier in the day with a women's air derby morning, members and guests of the Breakfast Club paid honor to the young women entered in the Clover Field-to-Cleveland event. A number of the entrants were still en route, a telegram being read from Thea Rasche, whose tiny sport plane was on exhibition at the Breakfast Club and furnished atmospheric background for photographs.

FLYERS TAKE BOWS

Amelia Earhart, Ruth Elder, Bobby Trout, Marvel Crosson, Florence Low Barnes, Marjorie Crawford, Blanche Wilcox Noyes, Louise Thaden, Vera Dawn Walker and Patty Willis all took their bows.

A little gray-haired woman, now living in Hollywood, Mrs. Hester G. Miller, almost "stole the show," when she was introduced as the teacher of the country school at Melrose, Minn., when the late Representative Charles A. Lindbergh entered school as an 8-year-old lad; and when "Lindy's" grandfather was a member of the school board.

Miss Earhart, who was the last speaker, sounded the keynote at the Women's Aeronautic Association luncheon of the general sentiment of all of the entrants regarding the event, which is the first of its kind ever to be held.

SPORTING EVENT

"I think we all regard it more as a sporting event," said Miss Earhart, "than as a contest, and I believe that it will mean more for all of us to get through to Cleveland safely than to make speed or to break records."

Trophies for the derby will be awarded by the Women's Aeronautic Association of California, the Women's Aero-nautic Association of Detroit, C. C. McWhinney of Long Beach, Mrs. Thomas F. Hamilton of the Hamilton Propeller Corporation, the Los Angeles Times, W. A. Clark, Jr., the Standard Steel Propeller Corporation, Hoot Gibson and the Aero Strut Corporation. Members of the flying squadron of the local group will present Bobbie Trout, a fellow-member, with a parachute as a parting gift before she takes off.

TAPESTRIES DESTROYED BY FLAMES

Antiques and Manuscripts Valued at $25,000 Burn in Hollywood Studio

Fire destroyed tapestries, rare old manuscripts and antiques valued at $25,000 last night when flames spread through the Nelson Evans studio building at 6020 Hollywood Boulevard. The blaze, of undetermined origin, was discovered in the ground floor store, Mrs. Louise Davis's art shop. By the time the Hollywood fire companies reached the scene, the blaze had communicated to the second story where the Evans photograph studio is located. The firemen quickly extinguished the flames, but not before $10,000 worth of drape material in Mrs. Davis's interior decorating shop, and valuable antiques in the Evans studio had been damaged.

The studio building adjoins the Mar-Cal Theater where a film was being projected at the time the fire was discovered. The audience was unaware of the fire's proximity.

BANKRUPTCY PLEA FILED BY WOMAN

No Losses Involved in Case Despite Liabilities of More Than $1,500,000

Listing liabilities in excess of $1,500,000 and with a statement of only $2600 in assets, Mrs. Elizabeth Holt, also known as Elizabeth Dyba, yesterday filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy. According to the statement of her attorney, S. Oliver Bietz, Mrs. Holt formerly was an employee of Mox, Inc., dealers in building material, and as a part of her duties acted as an asignee for trust deeds and mortgages in the known amount of $1,506,740.68 and an additional large sum.

Byron D. Seaver, attorney for Mox, Inc., yesterday said the debts listed are only for "contingent liabilities" and that there has been no loss involved as indicated by the bankruptcy petition. The petition lists sixteen creditors, including Los Angeles banks, mortgage companies and individuals.

"Mrs. Holt was married three weeks ago," Mr. Bietz said, 'and naturally does not want to assume the debts of someone else." He said the debts are for building materials furnished to property owners who gave mortgages and trust deeds as security.

Officials of the Security-First National Bank, listed as one of the creditors, said last night the suits against Mrs. Holt are merely to quiet title and there is no actual loss involved.

DEATH REPORT DELAY SCORED

Police Board Hears Details of Denison Case

Tried to Protect Woman's Name, Detective States

New Manual Will Prohibit Suppressing News

Instructions will go into the police manual, now in the course of preparation under direction of Deputy Chief Finlinson, against withholding by the police of any information in such cases as that of Mrs. Grace Denison, who committed suicide last Saturday. This was the decision of the Police Commission at a special meeting yesterday, held to investigate the suppression of information on the suicide.

The purpose of the commission's investigation was to ascertain whether there had been collusion by Detective Lieutenant R. L. Stillwell of the Georgia-street station, to withhold the information in the interest of Fire Captain Alexander Robertson, of Engine Company 50, named in Mrs. Denison's suicide note.

READ TESTIMONY

Following the investigation, which consisted of reading all testimony taken in the case and questioning of Stillwell and Captain of Detectives Cato, the commissioners accepted Stillwell's assertion that he sought only to protect the woman in case she recovered and Cato's explanation that he had overlooked straightening out the records before going home Saturday.

Stillwell said it had been his experience that publicity in suicide cases has resulted in seriously affecting those who had recovered. He said some had felt so ridiculous afterward, as the result of publicity, that they had to be taken to the psychopathic ward after friends who had read about them, had refused to accept them in their homes.

The testimony was that Capt. Robertson of the fire department, sought only to protect the name of the woman and the members of her family.

PASS ON MANUAL

The board directed Secretary Jeffers to obtain the manuscript being prepared for the police manual in order that it might be passed on by the commissioners, or someone they might select, and for the purpose of including in its instructions to police officers against withholding any official information from their superiors.

There prizes will be awarded for the woman with the greatest personality, irrespective of how her spine may be molded; for the most attractive apparel and for other sidelights of feminine beauty.

The contestants will appear in backless bathing suits.

Fricke, judge of the Los Angeles Superior Court, on "Insanity and the Law," and Dr. M. J. Pullman, on the findings of the orthopedic clinic.

CROWD FOUGHT BY POLICEMEN

Judge Orders Court Cleared at Plea of Accused

Miss Pringle Faints Telling of Asserted Assault

Hearing to be Resumed Today; Legal Fray Bitter

[illegible] testimony that proved a boomerang to the defense, a surprise witness, holding a babe in her arms, late yesterday injected new excitement into the already hectic hearing of charges that Alexander Pantages, vaudeville magnate, committed a criminal attack on Eunice Pringle, young dancing girl, and started yesterday before Municipal Judge Wilson.

The surprise witness was Mrs. W. [illegible] Chappelle of 1777 North Kingsley Drive. She was called into the [illegible] out of order, and with her child in her arms, in an attempt by Defense Attorneys Gilbert and Ford to attack the reputation of the Pringle girl, who then was on the witness stand.

From the lawyers' questions it was apparent that they hoped to have Mrs. Chappelle identify the Pringle girl as a person she (Mrs. Chappelle) had seen leap from the window of a certain apartment, and the surprise came when Mrs. Chappelle declared emphatically that she had never seen the girl jump from "any window."

DRAMATIC EVENTS

The incident was only one that marked the Pantages hearing, which was adjourned to close today, as one of the most hectic in Municipal Court annals. Other outstanding events of the day were as follows:

(1) A mob of persons gathered outside of the entrance to Judge Wilson's courtroom and a squad of policemen barely quelled a riot as the crowd fought to gain entrance to the small courtroom.

(2) Those who gained admittance to the courtroom had hardly been seated when the court was forced to demand that they leave when Pantages's attorneys, on authority granted under Section 868 of the Penal Code, asked that everyone but those exempted under the law be excluded from the courtroom.

(3) The Pringle girl was on the verge of a nervous breakdown shortly after taking the witness stand and a recess had to be called while first-aid measures were administered her.

(4) While on the stand the asserted victim of Pantages's attack related in detail her story of the happenings in the theater man's private office last Friday, and when the session was over Dist.-Atty. Fitts declared that despite a withering cross-examination by the defense, her story was unshaken in any degree.

SEVERAL FAINT

The mob began gathering before the courtroom doors early in the morning and by 1 p.m. several hundred persons, many of them elderly women, were trying to push their way through the barricades. A squad of deputy sheriffs and bailiffs [illegible] force to stop the assault on the court door as 2 o'clock approached. Scuffles were frequent and several women fainted.

Inside the courtroom every available inch of space was taken, camp chairs filling places where ordinarily there are no seats. The judge hardly had taken the bench, however, when Atty. Ford arose and asked that Sec. 868 be invoked to clear the courtroom. It was learned that the move had been decided on previously by the Pantages group, but there was no statement on their reasons forthcoming from them.

MANY EXCLUDED

The exclusion order affected newspaper men, policemen and others not exempted under the section quoted. However, a correct report of what happened in the courtroom was obtained from the court reporter's record of testimony, as well as from statements from Dist.-Atty. Fitts and Chief Deputy District-Attorney Stewart, who handled the [illegible].

When Attorney Ford invoked the law to clear the courtroom, Fitts arose and declared that it was apparently useless to oppose the move, and then Municipal Judge Wilson made it clear that he, also, had no choice in the matter.

The 17-year-old girl accuser of the 54-year-old theatrical magnate was the first witness called. She was dressed neatly in a red jersey sweater and brown dress, but plainly showed her distress at the ordeal before her. Before she took the stand she showed symptoms of collapse and reclined on a couch in the judge's chambers attended by her mother and father.

FORCED TO REST

She was on the stand at approximately 1:30 p.m. and at 3:10 the court was forced to recess until she again could recover [illegible].

The girl was on the stand during the entire afternoon. Her direct examination was short, but on cross-examination Pantages's attorneys went at length into many phases of her past life. Fitts and Stewart objected to this line of questioning, asserting that the defense was on a "fishing expedition" in the hope of finding something damaging to the girl's reputation, and many of their objections were sustained. When court adjourned at 5 p.m. it was estimated that the cross-examination probably would consume most of this morning's session of court.

During the entire time, Pantages, dressed in a light gray suit, sat next to his attorneys, from time to time whispering instructions as they questioned the girl.

REQUEST MADE

Attorney W. I. Ford immediately after the case had been called announced that the defendant requested under the provisions of Section 868 of the Penal Code that everyone except the court attaches, [illegible] of the case and the [illegible] be excluded from the [illegible].

The section invoked to bar the public and the press from hearings of this kind follows:

"[illegible] to be present at the examination. The magistrate must, upon the request of the defendant, exclude from the examination every person except his clerk, the prosecutor and his counsel and the officer having the defendant in custody: provided, however, that when the prosecuting witness is a female she shall be entitled at all times to the attendance of a person of her own sex."

The court then ordered the room cleared and a recess was taken until that had been completed.

Mrs. Lou Irene Pringle, mother of the complaining witness, then was called as the first witness for the State. She testified that she lives at Garden Grove, Cal., and that she is a teacher in the Union High School at that place and that she is passing the summer in Los Angeles and resides at 1116 North Mariposa. She said she is the mother of Eunice Irene Pringle and that her daughter was born March 5, 1912, at Marysville, Cal. She was not cross-examined.

GIRL TAKES STAND

Miss Eunice Pringle then was called and Dist.-Atty. Fitts conducted the direct examination. She gave her age and stated that she resides in Los Angeles with her mother.

She said that she first became acquainted with Pantages about May 1, last, and that it was relative to his booking her act, a musical singing and dancing sketch. She said that she first saw him at the Pantages Theater Building and that she went at the suggestion of Carl Walker, manager of the Pantages Theater, who had viewed her act in the morning.

As near as she could recall this was the first time that she ever had seen Mr. Pantages. She was not alone, she testified, as a Mr. Dunave and a switchboard girl were with her.

She said that she and Mr. Dunave waited until Mr. Pantages appeared and said he would see her act, after which she left the office.

Miss Pringle said that between the first of May and the ninth day of August that she saw Mr. Pantages several times and always in his office on the second floor of the theater building.

She told of having been asked to come back several times and the difficulties and delays in getting an audience with the vaudeville magnate.

DETAILS RELATED

On the day of the asserted attack Miss Pringle narrated in great detail her meeting with him. She said that she saw him, after a long wait in the office where the switchboard is, in the theater building, at approximately 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mr. Pantages passed through the office, the witness testified, and said that he would see her in regard to her act within a few minutes and that she waited again a long time. He then came and beckoned her to the hall, she declared.

She said that he told her he was going to take her to the theater to be amused at the show while he went to a barber shop. He took her into the theater, she testified, and then after about twenty minutes returned and took her to a small office on the mezzanine floor. She said that it was a small office and with a ceiling about six feet high.

TALKED OF ACT

"Let us go to my private office where we can talk," is what the witness declared Pantages said as he unlocked the door with a key that he took from his pocket.

No one was present in the room and the witness said that he was very nice to her, and that he entered the room, closed the door and commenced talking about her act.

"He said it was a very good act and in his conversation he asked me if I had minded waiting for him and if I had minded the heat of the day," Miss Pringle related to the court.

She said that there were three chairs in the room and that she was seated in the chair farthest from the window and that Pantages was sitting in the chair nearest her. She also testified that during the conversation she removed her little red velvet jacket and that he asked her if she minded if he removed his coat as it was very warm.

ADVANCES CHARGED

"He picked up my hand and said that I had a beautiful hand," the witness testified. "He also praised my act and said that I was a beautiful dancer and that the singer in my act had a wonderful voice. He told me again he intended booking me and then he put his arm around me and told me that I was wonderful. He said that he was crazy about me and that he would give me anything to be his sweetheart. I told him I was not interested in sweethearts—that all I was interested in was work, but he continued his advances. He said that he hated his wife and would I be his sweetheart and I told him again I was not in the least interested in his wife and would he please be a gentleman."

The witness testified that he then seized her about the waist and rose to his feet and started kissing her on the face and throat.

"I asked him to be a gentleman and he continued, so I started to scream," she said.

ATTACK STORY TOLD

Miss Pringle then narrated the circumstances of the asserted attack.

Following this she said that she broke away from him and rushed out into the street—"anywhere to get away from him." She told the court that she met people in the hall, no one that she knew and that just what happened then she was not certain. She came back with an officer, she said.

She described the clothing she wore. She was dressed in red, with a red velvet jacket and a red hat. She also said she was wearing a pair of earrings but did not have them later.

She said that she did not have the least idea where they are now. She described the condition of her apparel and said that some woman arranged her clothing.

CROSS-EXAMINATION

Following a recess, Attorney Gilbert, for the defendant, took the witness on cross-examination.

He asked what had become of the clothing that she was wearing on the afternoon of the purported attack. Dist.-Atty. Fitts said that the chemist had them, but that they could be obtained within a few minutes.

The examination covered her early life in California, the witness naming the various towns in which she lived. She said that she had lived at Garden Grove with her parents since 1921 and that she was graduated from the high school there in 1928. Her father and mother did not live together, she stated, adding that since 1921 her father has lived in Los Angeles, where he is an osteopathic physician. She entered the University of Southern California in September, 1928, and lived at the Woman's Residence Hall, which is under the supervision of the college, quitting school in March, 1929, she testified.

REHEARSING FOR ACT

She then started rehearsing her act and lived with her mother at Garden Grove, she stated.

Describing the act, she said that it originally called for four persons and that she saw it at the Hollywood Studio Club, through a friend, Miss Madeline O'Keefe.

It was there that she met her partner, Dunave, she testified. Describing the Hollywood Studio Club, she said that it is located near Lodi street, on Sunset Boulevard in Hollywood. The next time she saw Dunave, was at the residence hall of the University of California, she stated.

OBJECTION VOICED

Dist.-Atty. Fitts objected to the cross examination declaring it irrelevant and not to the point.

Gilbert stated that it was the "real crux of the case."

"I will make it relevant in one question," he said.

The Court then ordered him to proceed.

"Where was Dunave on the evening that you say this allege attack occurred?" asked the attorney for the defense.

"The evening that it occurred he went to my home," Miss Pringle testified." He had been waiting for me some time and was waiting frantically for me. I was supposed to meet him at a certain parking station at Second and Hill streets."

"You did not see him at or near the Pantages Building that evening?" was the question, to which a negative reply was given.

Miss Pringle said that she saw Dunave about 3 o'clock when he let her out of the car at the corner of Seventh and Hill streets.

MOVEMENTS TRACED

She traced her actions during the day for the Court under questioning by the defense attorney, saying that she left her home on Mariposa street about 10 o'clock in the morning with Dunave, who took her to an oculist for treatment of her eyes and then, meeting him at 1 o'clock, the couple drove out to the University of Southern California and saw the matron and several friends.

The couple got lunch near the Southern California Automobile Club on Figueroa street and then went up town and wandered around through a downtowd store, she said, and then went to the Pantages Theater Building to wait for Mr. Pantages.

The witness said that she did not see Dunave again until she saw him with her mother after her asserted attack.

FRAME-UP CHARGED

Mr. Gilbert's cross-examination was objected to by Dist.-Atty. Fitts. He endeavored to ascertain if Miss Pringle knew where Dunave lived and asked her how many times she had been there.

Dist.-Atty. Fitts objected to the question as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

"What is your theory on that, Mr. Gilbert?" asked the Court.

"Well, my theory," said the attorney for the defense, "if Your Honor please, bluntly speaking, is that this is a cold-blooded frame-up. I speak bluntly about it and answer the question because Your Honor asked it."

The court then sustained the objection.

Attorney Ford then declared that there was another theory on which the question might be deemed admissable—that there were two charges against the defendant, and that the defense was trying to investigate the previous character of the witness, whether she had been in any place in any sense questionable.

"I am not charging anything," said Attorney Ford. "We are simply investigating certain information that we have."

PARTIES DISCUSSED

"Your Honor please," said Dist.-Atty. Fitts, "we are perfectly willing to subject this girl's past to any scrutiny they want to level at it and I will withdraw my objection. I know her past; I am perfectly willing to have you go into it."

Cross-examination followed on details of asserted parties said to have been held at the Dunave home and which the defense attorney contended had been attended by Miss Pringle. The witness denied having gone to the apartment at gatherings more than three or four times and then Dist.-Atty. Fitts again objected and was sustained by the court.

Following an argument between the attorneys, Attorney Gilbert declared that the girl denied that Dunave was at the scene of the asserted attack practically at the time it was supposed to have occurred.

"We expect to prove that he was not only there, but that he was there at the time she came down off the steps," he said.

Then followed questioning as to gatherings at the Dunave home and again Dist.-Atty. Fitts objected.

"NOT A CRIME"

"It is not a crime for this girl, unmarried, to be at the home of friends for luncheon. There is nothing reflecting upon her character or her morals in that," he said.

Then followed another long debate, in which Attorney Ford said that there should be no objections to ascertaining whether the girl had been of a previous chaste character.

The District Attorney also denied that Dunave had been at the theater following the asserted attack.

"We have evidence to the contrary," he told the court.

WOMAN CALLED

A Mrs. Chapelle was called and both sides were under the impression that she was to testify for them.

"Certainly not," said Mrs. Chapelle.

"Then you did not see that lady at that time, did you?"

"No; she never climbed out of any window," said Mrs. Chapelle.

Cross-examination then took up the efforts that Miss Pringle had made to stage her act. A letter which she had written to Mr. Pantages, declining to enter another act opening at Fresno, was introduced.

She declared that possibly she had been to the Pantages office ten times, regarding her act.

BLAST VICTIMS' BURIALS TODAY

Services Arranged for Two Killed in Oil Refinery

Body of Third Will Go East; Other Funerals Delayed

Sole Survivor of Crew Lies in Critical Condition

Funeral services will be conducted today for two of the five men killed Tuesday morning when a pipe on a cracking still at the Shell Oil Company refinery exploded and covered them with flaming oil. The body of another victim will be sent east to relatives for interment and arrangements for services for the other two men probably will be finished today.

The deaths of the five men were held to be accidental yesterday in a verdict returned by a Coroner's jury after hearing the testimony of witnesses and investigators. The jury found that the accident was caused when a pipe on a cracking still burst and the oil upon its release into the air under high pressure burst into flame. All of the men were burned to death.

At 10 o'clock today funeral services will be conducted from Woods mortuary, Wilmington, for A. W. Ferguson. Interment will be in the Sunnyside Mausoleum at Long Beach. Ferguson leaves a wife and one child.

At 2 p.m. services for J. Y. Biddle will be conducted from the Jones & Myers funeral parlors, Lomita. Interment will be in Roosevelt Memorial Park Cemetery. Biddle leaves a wife and two children.

The body of L. J. Smith, another victim, will be sent to Springfield, Mo., today.

Arrangements for funeral services for Jeremiah Allen and J. A. Benere will be made today.

J. J. Corbett, 25 years of age, of 102 North Irena street, Redondo, only surviving man in the crew struck down by the blast, is in the Seaside Hospital, Long Beach, in a critical condition.

CLUB TO HEAR OF AVIATION

W. R. Balsom, manager of the Western Air Express speakers' bureau, will speak before the Southwest Breakfast Club this morning on "Commercial Aviation." The meeting will be at the Sunset Fields Country Club.

BELL PLANS PREVENT SALES

Land Company Official Describes Effects of Quarry Proposal to Planning Commission

Despite a series of adroit questions, Percy W. Reardon, vice-president and general salesmanager of the Santa Monica Land and Water Company, last night declared before a hearing of the City Planning Commission that the pending application of Alphonso Bell interests for the construction of a cement quarry in the Pacific Palisades district has brought a "sales resistance" that has prevented many sales.

Reardon declared that since the cement development application has become known to prospective purchasers, he found it is an obstacle in completing sales.

The Bell interests scored a point, however, during last night's hearing, when letters of protest written to the planning commission and to those active in opposition to the cement permit were excluded from the record of testimony. An announcement was made that the letters would be considered as "filed" with the commission, but a ruling was given that the attorneys would not be permitted to refer to their contents in their arguments.

Chairman Baker of the commission announced an adjournment of the Bell permit hearing until September 18, but said that other matters before the commission will be heard in the meantime.

Today's Bible Text

For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved. St. John iii:17.

THE GUARDIAN

Senator Smoot doesn't care who writes his country's songs as long as he protects its sugar bowl.

RAINY DAYS

An eastern bank advertises to give away a natty silk umbrella with each new savings account. Out here they would have to offer the latest in bathing suits to get a rise.

THE PEST OF BUDAPEST

When the news came over the radio of the discovery of the Hungary mummy some of the fans thought that reference was had to some cute hungry mamma seeking a sugar daddy.

WRONG NUMBER

Subscriber whose number was printed wrongly in an Arizona telephone directory is suing the company for $5000 damages. Possibly some embarrassing scandal was uncovered by the error. Usually these wrong numbers don't count.

OVER THE BORDER

The swiftest rum-runner on the Canadian border has been run down and taken by a patrol boat of Uncle Sam's Coast Guard on Lake Erie. Thus proving that if our boys can have the use of the fleet craft we already have we can cope with the smugglers and runners on the Detroit River and the Great Lakes. Maybe we can scare the bad boys into submission in time.

THEY DO COME BACK

Detroit man who had been away for a couple of years was very much annoyed on his return to find that the landlord, with whom he had left $300 before departing, had spent the money in giving the wanderer a classy funeral. He had been duly identified as dead and his friends had given him a burial he might be proud of. But he wasn't. He was ungracious enough to be sore about it and he even wants his money back. Some folks never do appreciate their luck.

THE BIG FLYER

In another test the new giant German flying boat took off from the waters of a Swiss lake in ten seconds in the midst of a driving storm of wind and rain. All twelve motors clicked merrily and the great craft, which will be able to carry 100 passengers, soared through the dripping heavens as gracefully as a condor. All the trials thus far made have been propitious and the gigantic plane is likely to prove a sensation—for a brief period, or until the British mammoth climbs into the skies.

THE NEW CALENDAR

The State Department has prepared a research report of 120 pages upon the new world calendar as sponsored by George Eastman and other enthusiasts. The matter will be put to the League of Nations, which has already had the calendar before it and passed it on for the consideration of the various governments. It takes a long time to establish a new calendar and some of our old men will be older still before this one becomes generally recognized. The circumstance that this calendar gives a Friday the 13th for all the thirteen months of the year would make a lot of superstitious folk sore to start with.

SAFETY AT SEA

The ill-fated Vestris did not go down into the sea in vain. Largely as a result of this tragedy the representatives of a score of maritime nations met in London and prepared a new code of safety at sea. When this is indorsed by the various governments it will become the law of the deep. It provides among other things that all ships above 1600 tons must carry wireless; that all passenger ships above 5000 tons shall have direction-finding apparatus; all boats above 150 tons must have signaling lamps and there shall be adequate protection of bulkheads and assurance of stability. The character and extent of the life-saving equipment is also provided for and there must be ample preservers for both passengers and crew.

THE CLOSED-SHOP CAMPAIGN

The drive now being made by the American Federation of Labor, with the Actors' Equity Association as a stalking horse, to end forever the open-shop regime in Los Angeles is of far greater and graver significance than the majority realize.

That the open shop is the actual foundation of Los Angeles' industrial prosperity and that, in consequence, its preservation, maintenance and growth are of immediate, personal importance to every citizen are facts demonstrable by anyone who will make a careful and critical examination of the industrial history of this and other comparable communities. There have been and are, of course, other factors: a favorable climate, abundant and inexpensive water, power and fuel, good shipping facilities; but many other cities likewise have these without having achieved the great industrial growth which has distinguished Los Angeles.

Loose thinking and loose expression alike frequently characterize the closed-shop campaign. Two statements frequently heard are examples: "The men have a right to organize" and "Employers are organized—why not workmen?"

Those who utter these phrases overlook two very important considerations. Along with the "right to organize"—which no one denies, so long as organization is for a lawful purpose and lawfully and equitably conducted—goes its twin, the right not to organize, the right of any individual to choose any occupation he is competent to pursue, to sell his talents in the best market he can find. This right to be free from organization dictation is unquestionable; it and the right to organize must be supported equally and must exist side by side. The difficulty is that organizations which are units of the American Federation of Labor, whose corner-stone is the closed shop, deny the right not to organize and refuse to the free workman the opportunity to ply his craft and earn his living.

The "right to organize" is one thing; the right to compel the closed shop is something very different. The right to organize does not include the right to bludgeon any individual into joining the organization or to compel him to pay dues or tribute.

The other consideration is that employers' organizations, in general, differ very widely in their purposes, methods and aims from those of the American Federation of Labor—just as some of the unions outside that federation differ very widely from the federation unions. Where there are exceptions—that is to say, where employers' organizations are genuinely comparable in their methods to those of the federation units—the inevitable result has been racketeering and extortion and such employers' organizations have been condemned by public opinion and, in many cases, broken up.

The wholesale dry-cleaners' organization in Cleveland is a case in point. It followed unionization of the drivers for the plants and employed as secretary the man who was secretary of the union. This official proceeded arbitrarily to divide up the patronage of the small tailor shops among the wholesalers and to instruct his drivers to refuse business from such shops as would not display a metal sign showing a fixed scale of prices that must be charged for work.

Tailors who refused to have their business run by outsiders suffered. Their shops were stench bombed; one was set on fire; drivers of independent trucks were beaten; one truck was stolen and its contents burned; independent dry-cleaning plants were bombed, and there was generally a reign of terror. It was ended when an injunction suit was brought by a courageous independent against the employers' association and the unions and the whole system was exposed in court. The injunction was granted. That employers' association is now virtually dissolved!

The same thing is apparently about to happen in Chicago, where the cleaning and dyeing racket has been running for years. In Chicago, however, the racket is collapsing, not through court action, but because of public revolt and the sending of cleaning and dyeing work to outside cities by parcel post.

The development of the closed shop into a racket is a natural and inevitable evolutionary step. And it is the closed shop, not the "right to organize," that is involved in the present Los Angeles campaign.

The open shop, on the other hand, recognizes the twin rights to organize or not to organize, as workers may individually see fit. It discriminates neither against the union nor the nonunion man. It offers advantages to the workman, for the employer and for the public possessed by no other plan. It is fair and it is American.

From that other great open-shop city, recognized everywhere as an industrial leader, Detroit, comes one of the best summations of open-shop advantages that has ever been phrased; it is from a statement published by the Employers' Association of Detroit. For the workingman, this association declares, the open shop "opens the door to opportunity for self-advancement; it permits him to develop his particular aptitudes; it frees him from the necessity of holding back to the pace of the slowest workmen; it gives him a wage proportionate to his productive capacity; it permits his son to learn his father's trade or any other to which he is adapted; it saves for him the money he would have to contribute to pay for strikes and to support the closed-shop organization; it saves him the time he would lose in useless strikes; it saves him from the annoyance of complying with the business agent's demands; it saves him the cost of fines levied for infractions of irksome rules; it makes him eligible for employment regardless of union priority rules; it permits him to earn in the vast majority of cases a higher wage than can be paid in a closed shop with its union limitations."

For the employer, says the statement, the open shop "leaves him free to select the men and methods best adapted for his work; it permits him to pay in proportion to its value for the service the workingman renders; it enables him to meet more readily the exigencies of the market demand; it saves him the expense and annoyance of having his factory shut down by foolish strikes."

For the community, the open shop "eliminates jurisdictional and sympathetic strikes; it reduces the cost of production and hence the cost to the public; it saves the cost of policing industrial disturbances; it leaves the public free to purchase the goods it desires; it eliminates the suffering caused by strikes in industries providing public service or producing essentials; it makes possible constant improvement in methods and efficiency; it prevents the establishment of a specially favored class; it prevents the development of rackets and similar conspiracies."

A long list, but one as difficult to eliminate from as to answer. All of these things have been proved, in Los Angeles, in Detroit, everywhere that the open shop obtains. The adoption of the closed shop in Los Angeles would be a calamity and might easily be the death blow to its prosperity.

A SEVEN-FOLD INCREASE

Fifteen years have elapsed since the opening of the Panama Canal. Today marks the beginning of a new and, from present indications, tremendously active year for the big ditch. While government figures are not yet available for the amount of tonnage passing through the canal during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1929, indications are that the total surpassed that of any previous year.

In the first year of its operation 4,888,454 long tons of cargo went through the great waterway. The total for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1928 was 37,202,874 long tons, a new high record. During that year the government collected $26,994,499.77 in tolls. Each year the canal has shown a substantial increase in tonnage passing through it, save during the period of slides and war and the fiscal year 1924-25.

A seven-fold increase in annual tonnage over the first year of operation is even more than some optimists dreamed of when the construction of the canal was planned, but that it will be far exceeded in coming years is now confidently predicted.

Vessels of United States registry are now carrying more than 48 per cent of the canal cargo and paying nearly 47 per cent of the tolls. Increasing revenues have been made the occasion for proposals that the tolls be reduced, but Gen. Meriwether L. Walker, Governor of the Canal Zone, opposes any reduction, asserting that ships using the canal are competing with the transcontinental railroads and that a reduction in tolls might cripple the rail companies besides cutting Federal revenue. There is logic in this statement, at least from the point of view of the payers of income tax as well as that of railroad stockholders.

THE BUNGHOLE

The bunghole between Canada and the United States is being plugged up. Already the President's war on bootleggers has cut off a leakage of 357,155 gallons across the border.

Uncle Sam is slow to anger and quite plenteous in mercy. You may impose upon him a long time before he shows signs of irritation. In spite of criticism from unfriendly quarters and the vicious assertion that the underworld is stronger than law, his bung seems to fit the barrel when he decides to hammer it in.

Some have difficulty in understanding why a sister country allows contraband to be shipped from its ports. Possibly it is as difficult for Canada to head it off as it is for the United States to patrol against it. And then bootleggers do not always ask for clearance papers before they make voyages. Nor are they bothered greatly by the truth of the actual destination.

The best people of the country are with President Hoover in his use of the bung. When the bung was provided a decade ago, the vast majority meant that it should be used and has not changed its mind.

HANDY REFERENCE

A Chicago legal firm in recently moving its offices transplanted a law library of more than 20,000 volumes. No wonder there are so many references to allusions in the court game.

A SHATTERED DREAM

By James J. Montague

After reading the works of Lafcadio Hearne,
I decided to cease the stern strife
That I face every day at each corner and turn
And lead a less strenuous life.
I resolved that before my allotment of years
Had measured the Scriptural span—
Before talkies and jazz music fracture my ears—
I would take a long look at Japan.

I pictured the place as a region of peace
Where even the peasants have poise,
Where a person might find a delightful release
From tumult and clangor and noise.
I fancied the Japs followed calm, placid ways
Arrayed in cool, loose-flowing clothes
And that princes and peasants spent most of their days
In easy and joyous repose.

I was eager my cares and distractions to lose,
To spend long and soul-soothing weeks
Beneath the soft shade of the leafy bamboos
And gazing at snow-mantled peaks,
While geisha girls danced in the shadows afar
In bright-tinted gossamer dressed,
With never the sound of a gunman or car
My serene peace of mind to molest.

But alas for my dreams—they have all gone the way
That my hope for serenity has.
The Japs, like the folks in our own U.S.A.,
Are madly addicted to jazz.
And if I, after traveling half round the sphere,
Must hark in the gathering gloam
To trombones and saxis in rabid career,
I might just as well stay at home.

THE LEE SIDE O' L·A

BY Lee Shippey

ONE of the reasons—we hope the main one—why some of our neighbors in Ourville think we are a little cracked is that when we meet them in mid-afternoon we habitually say: "Good-morning."

GOOD MORNIN HENRY

No, we're not going to talk about ourself again, instead of something interesting. We're using this fact to introduce what seems to us interesting information, to-wit, to-whoo: Not only has Los Angeles residents who came from every quarter of the globe, but there is no hour of day or night when some one here isn't saying, "Good-morning." In every neighborhood in the city there are folks who may be misjudged even as we are.

When Night Is Morning

Morning is, to most of us, the time when our day's work begins. Newspaper men and others who go to work in the afternoon invariably say, "Good-morning." Workers whose day begins at 6 or 8 or 11 p.m. are likely to do the same. We used to know a dramatic critic who usually didn't reach his office till after the show—after 11. He always said "Good-morning!" And we knew a colyumist who couldn't do a lick of work until all the other men in the editorial room had gone home and he could be undisturbed. That meant he usually blew into the office around 1 a.m. and worked till 7 or 8 a.m. And then, starting away in broad daylight, he would greet the day force, just coming to work, with a weary "Good-night."

GOOD NIGHT, BOYS!

Los Angeles is a twenty-four-hour town. Hundreds of different concerns work four shifts. Telephone operators, pressmen, machinists, musicians—all sorts of people are reporting, to begin in the day—at all sorts of hours, especially as in some lines relief shifts are necessary every six hours, or even every four hours. So one man's night is another man's morning, just as one man's meat is another man's poison, or one man's good may be another man's bad.

Ho, Hum!

For More and Speedier Justice

Lee: Smart & Final, I note by their sign, are engaged in business out on Sunset Boulevard. Gosh, why waste men like that on trade? That's the sort of men we need on the bench.—W. A. S.

Entirely Too Modern

One of our motion-picture studios, it is authoritatively reported, recently employed a lot of Bedouins in costume.

And, just to show how true the first part of this colyum is, all they had to do was advertise for Bedouins, and a lot of 'em showed up next morning.

SOPPY, BOYS!
DOG-GONE

But our trustworthy correspondent says that two of the applicants, twin brothers, were rejected because of the casting director's extreme fidelity to art.

He argued that as the picture was one of primitive rather than modern life, it would hardly do to have twin Bedouins.

Ambiguous

Lee: A headline says saxophones are going out. Then I fear I'll have to stay in—Musician.

Why Grouch?

Everybody ought to be satisfied. Musicians have been saying for years that jazz ought to be canned—and the phonograph record makers certainly are canning lots of it.

Must Come Home After Lights Go Out

"What's your husband's income?" asked a neighbor of one of Corona's most popular matrons the other day. "One o'clock in the morning!" was her reply, and because there's so many wives who could give the same answer to the same question, we refrain from mentioning any names in particular.—Corona Independent.

Well, courage is a fine thing. And it appears from this that the men of Corona aren't afraid to come home in the dark.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Landscape Gardening?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

Men in the landscape-gardening trade who wish expert advice in bettering their position may receive free instruction at the Frank Wiggins Trade Evening School, Venice Boulevard, between Hill street and Grand avenue. The only expense to a student is the enrollment fee of $1. The class will begin September 10. The evenings have not yet been decided on, but the hours will be 7 to 9 p.m. Those interested should go in person to the school any day up to and including August 16 between 1 and 9 p.m. and ask to have their names put on the waiting list.

Only those in the trade will be admitted to this class. A man wishing to enter the trade usually begins with a pick-and-shovel job with some nursery concern. If he is a husky chap he will receive $3.50 to $4 a day. If he is not so muscular he may be a helper, doing finer work, such as planting, at about $3.

A man's progress in this field will depend much on his artistic taste. During his first year he should learn plants and how to read a planting plan. The next step is making up plans for customers. If such plans are popular and the man understands contours, grading, transit work and the like, he should earn $200 a month and up, for landscape gardening on big estates.

ART

A song that leaps from the love-filled heart when the heart can hold no more;
A wave from the sea of joy, that laughs as it comes to kiss the shore;
A beam of light from the sun of truth that shines through the mind of man;
A smile from the face of Beauty, caught on a canvas rich and rare;
A poem composed in heaven and set to an earth-born air;
The best from celestial regions and the best of the human heart,
Meet in a wondrous union—and behold! the angel, Art!

LETTERS TO The Times

State and County

TORRANCE, Aug. 12.—[To the Editor of The Times:] On the 19th inst. the Board of Supervisors will vote on the matter of retaining the present county motorcycle police organization or delivering it as a unit to the control of the newly organized State motor patrol. If the latter action is taken the people of Los Angeles county, possessing 41 per cent of the motor vehicles of the State, will sacrifice to the impersonal control of a State machine, a body of sixty-two splendid trained officers, comprising a group that for eighteen years has rendered a loyal and efficient service to the public without once being subjected to investigation or scandal of any nature.

Capt. Fred Cannon, the commander of the present unit, is a man of the highest character and with a splendid record as a peace officer. Should the board surrender the integrity of the county organization it is inevitable that he and the majority of his men will be eliminated and, as the civil service requirements have been dispensed with for the period of a year, their places filled by appointees unfamiliar with the needs of our county or the characteristics of its citizenry.

In spite of the benefits that may accrue by reason of unity of motorcycle police organization, throughout the State, Los Angeles county, in the reorganization, is bound to suffer in the disruption of the existing county organization and I sincerely hope that enough public-spirited citizens will realize the disadvantages of such a change over, that they may demand of the Supervisors, especially our Mr. Wright, the retention of Capt. Cannon and his fine, clean group of officers.

STEPHEN DA COSTA,
Lieutenant United States Army, Retired.

Loce Ahng-hayl-ais

VAN NUYS, Aug. 10.—[To the Editor of The Times:] This morning's paper contains an article by Bailey Millard in which he refers, among other things, to the pronunciation of the name of this city, Los Angeles. As a temporary resident I have been much puzzled by the different pronunciations used by educated people.

If the pronunciation used is Spanish, the "g" would be "h," would it not? And if Anglicized, is there not as much precedent for making the "g" soft as hard? The word "angels," for example. Rules for pronunciation in our language seem to be erratic.

Small Chance for Pedestrians

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The cartoon by Gale in your issue of August 11 entitled, "Blood Brothers," depicting the ravages of war and the traffic slaughter, is terribly true to the conditions now existing.

I draw attention to the everyday traffic on Wilshire Boulevard, especially between Fairfax and San Vicente avenues.

There is a school at Carthay Circle. The children are protected, coming and going to the school, by a traffic officer at Crescent Heights Boulevard and Wilshire.

At night the pedestrians who must cross the thoroughfare risk their lives in so doing. In many parts of this city tunnels under the street are a great safeguard.

A street tunnel at Wilshire and Crescent Heights Boulevard or La Jolla avenue would enable pedestrians to get across from one side of the speedway to the other in safety.

High Cost Labor Turnover

Labor turnover is costly, according to W. E. Yeomans, acting manager of the industrial bureau of the Merchants' Association of New York. "No business can long prosper under the costly handicap of frequent turnover in personnel in an era when competitive conditions demand the smallest possible production expense," he declared. "Replacement of an experienced worker involves an expense ranging from $50 to $300 depending upon the particular line of work involved and the amount of skill necessary to perform the task. Included in this estimate is the cost of training, of material and machinery damaged during the process and the cost of reduced production until the new workers become proficient." It can readily be seen that the cost of numerous replacements has reached a sizable figure in the course of a year and in most instances the major portion of this burden could be eliminated if the executive in charge devoted a reasonable amount of time to selecting new men and keeping those already employed."

Remedies for excessive labor turnover are suggested in efforts (1) to select with greater care; perhaps using the advice and assistance of a competent placement executive or vocational training school instructor; (2) considerate treatment in keeping employees satisfied; (3) advancement to higher positions when possible instead of bringing in outside assistance for the better-paid positions.

"Times" Staff Representative

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 14.—It begins to look as though Owen Churchill's boats have cornered a nice chunk of the Southland yacht racing market. At any rate it appeared that way here this evening after the Southern California Yachting Association officials had tabulated the results of the second day's performance in the ninth annual regatta which is being staged on the blue waters fronting this beautiful coast city. When all noses and sails were counted here late this afternoon following the yacht races it was found that two of Churchill's boats, namely his eight-meter Babe and his R sloop Friendship had gathered in the biggest share of the glory and the prizes.

GROVE PITCHES LENGTHY GAME

Athletics Take Seventeen-Inning Struggle

CLEVELAND, Aug. 14. (AP)—Lefty Grove, Connie Mack's great left-hander, pitched seventeen innings today to bring home his eighteenth victory of the season and boost the Philadelphia Athletics' lead over the Yankees in the American League pennant race to thirteen and one-half games as the A.'s turned back Cleveland, 5 to 3. Grove went the entire distance without faltering to win his first victory since July 25, last. He has been beaten only twice this season.

LEFTY GROVE

Jimmy Foxx's twenty-eighth home run of the season broke a 3-3 tie in the seventeenth after Grove and Willis Hudlin had pitched brilliantly down through the stretch. Hudlin weakened after holding the Mackmen hitless for five innings and three more hits after Foxx's clout gave the A.'s their winning margin.

Mitchell and Hudlin held the Athletics to thirteen hits. Bing Miller led the Philadelphia attack with two doubles and a pair of singles. The Indians had twenty-three men left on bases while the A.'s had but eight men stranded.

WICHITA FALLS TEAM IN UPSET

Fast Riding Local Four is Surprise of Season

Completely Outplays Picked Southern Riders

Wrightsman, McCarthy Star for Coast Champions

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. — The crack Midwick Polo Club, in its first intercircuit tournament appearance, today staged the biggest upset of the current national competition at Onwentsia, by overwhelming Wichita Falls, Tex., southwest champions, 13 to 2.

C. B. WRIGHTSMAN

Employing team-work to perfection, the Midwicks, Pacific Coast champions, amazed even their most ardent followers by the manner in which they rode through the opposition. Wichita Falls, one of the three scratch teams, never awakened from its lethargy—and the Midwicks at no time needed the four-goal handicap accorded them at the outset of play.

Lieut. A. R. S. Barden, one of the two army players on the Wichita Falls four, and Cecil Childers, a civilian, contributed the only goals. Barden's came in the fourth chukker, the result of a try from a foul after Dr. Wilson had crossed him, while Childers's tally occurred in the final period.

Midwick's speedier horse flesh also affected the final result, especially when it came to outriding Capt. G. F. Hutchsteiner, a six-goal performer.

Tomorrow, Oakbrook, representative of Chicago and the central circuit, opposes Fort Leavenworth, Kan., Rocky Mountain champions, in a semifinal, the winner meeting the Midwicks Saturday in the tournament final.

The line-ups:

| Midwick (13) | | Wichita Falls (2) |
|---|---|---|
| C. B. Wrightsman | No. 1 | Lieut. Barden |
| Neil McCarthy | No. 2 | C. B. Featherston |
| Howland Paddock | No. 3 | Cecil Childers |
| Dr. Wilson | Back | G. F. Hutchsteiner |

Goals—Wrightsman, 3; McCarthy, 3; Paddock, 2; Wilson, 1; Barden, 1; Childers, 1.

Missed goals from fouls—Hutchsteiner, 3; Wilson, 3; Childers, 1.

Time of Chukkers—7½m. each.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14. Kane left for Cleveland last night to discuss the battle.

GUS SANDBERG HERO OF GAME

Single Drives Jacobs Over With Winning Tally

Red Lead on Hufft's Homer Proves Short-lived

BY BOB RAY

Jack Lelivelt's ambling Angels stared at defeat for a few anxious minutes at Wrigley Field yesterday, but they refused to suffer from eyestrain. Instead they just outstared Ol' Man Defeat right back on his heels, staged a two-run rally in the ninth and made it two straight over "Red" Killefer's Missions by winning, 6 to 5. The Angels and Reds are now tied for third, a game behind the Seals and a half-game in back of Hollywood.

EARL WEBB

The game was another of those super-thrilling affairs that have been the rage at the local ball yard this week and further weakened the hearts of 4500 customers, cash and female.

'Tis well, though, that Fuzzy got some enjoyment out of his fertile imagination, for the ambitious Angels ruined his favorite hopes in the home half of the final round with a rally that sent the cash customers home talking to themselves in superlatives.

WEBB STARTS RALLY

Earl Webb, who had previously whacked out a couple of circuit clouts in the earlier innings of the struggle, started the Seraph rally by belting a single to center. Walter Berger followed with a hit that whistled past the right ear of Bill Rodda, who was in on the grass expecting a bunt. That called for action from Red Killefer, who decided that Harry Krause should go

GODFREY MAY BE FINED

Woods Will Review Evidence on Return from North; Commission Seeks Carter for Hess Bout

BY PAUL LOWRY

Aside from the customary thirty-day suspension there will be no further action taken in the case of George Godfrey, who is alleged to have committed a foul on the person of one Tom Hawkins in the struggle of the Senegambian giants at the Olympic Tuesday night. At least not until later in the week.

This was the statement yesterday of Frank Moran, State boxing inspector, who announced his chief, Mr. James Woods, is in the Northwest on a short vacation. Godfrey's purse was held up after the fight.

GOLDIE HESS

Mr. Woods is scheduled to return to San Francisco not later than tomorrow or the next day, and having digested all reports on the matter will then be prepared to lavish a fine—if any—on the big so-and-so.

However, there being some extenuating evidence to the effect that Hawkins hit the first low blows and that he staged a rare bit of acting in groveling on the canvas in the third round it is not likely that the commissioner will be unduly severe on Godfrey.

This will be good news to his Central-avenue friends, who expect Godfrey to spend a chunk of his $7500 purse on extensive entertainment schemes.

Jacobs Wants Dempsey Go for Maxie

DULUTH (Minn.) Aug. 14. (AP)—Joe Jacobs, manager for Max Schmeling, German heavyweight fighter, said here today that Schmeling had not and would not agree to terms to fight Phil Scott of England, as Humbert Fugazy, New York boxing promoter, told the New York State Athletic Commission Tuesday.

Jacobs said Fugazy had not been given any authority to make the announcement to the commission. Jacobs, who with Schmeling has been suspended by the New York commission, said he has several tentative matches lined up for Schmeling, but is withholding acceptance pending a conference with Jack Dempsey, Floyd Fitzsimmons, Detroit, and Paddy Harmon, Chicago, promoters, at Chicago next Sunday.

"The fight I am seeking for Schmeling is against Dempsey and until I learn definitely whether the former heavyweight champion will return to the ring I am not accepting any offers," Jacobs said.

JOHNNY DOEG ADVANCES IN RYE TENNIS TOURNEY

RYE (N. Y.) Aug. 14. (AP)—Henry Wilfred (Bunny) Austin, England's singles star, today assumed the position of favorite to meet William T. Tilden in the finals of the eastern grass-court tennis championship by his defeat of Frank Shields, 6-3, 6-3.

In each set Austin ran into a 4-1 game lead, dropped two and took the next two to determine each chapter.

Gregory Mangin of Newark, eastern intercollegiate title-holder, caused one of the two upsets of the day, when he defeated J. S. Olliff, indoor champion of England, and placed second on the foreign seeding list by scores of 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Harold MacGuffin, Philadelphia, won a well-earned victory over Gilbert Nunns of Toronto, third in the Canadian ratings, 7-5, 6-4.

John Doeg of Santa Monica, Cal., defeated Melvin Partridge of New Rochelle, N. Y., 6-0, 6-4. Francis T. Hunter of New Rochelle, N. Y., won at 6-1, 6-1 from Bruce Barnes of Austin, Tex., and Julius Seligson of New York, just nosed out Eddie Jacobs of Baltimore, by 7-5, 6-4.

There were no upsets in the women's side of the tournament. Evelyn Parsons of Palo Alto, Cal., defeated Mianne Palfrey of Boston, 2-6, 6-3, 7-5.

Feature matches scheduled for tomorrow morning include Miss Parsons vs. Miss Greef; Mrs. Chapin vs. Miss Burkardt and Mrs. Harper vs. Miss Anderson with an afternoon program of Mrs. Bundy vs. Sarah Palfrey, Hunter vs. Seligson; Austin vs. MacGuffin; Tilden vs. Bell, and Doeg vs. Mangin.

First Entries in "Times" Pre-Olympic Swim Are Announced by Executive Commit

HOLLYWOODERS ENTER CLASSIC

Club Aquatic Performers Sign for Event

Six Swimmers to Compete in Ocean Classic

Ten Entries Accepted by Executive Group

Ten local swim stars, six of them from the Hollywood branch of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, were officially declared entrants in The Times Pre-Olympic swim yesterday. The executive committee announced the names of the ten, and also declared that twice as many more entry blanks had been received and were being checked up with A. A. U. records.

AUSTIN CLAPP

The Hollywood list, entered by Clyde Swendsen, veteran H. A. C. coach, includes Austin Clapp, who ranks the present favorite in the rough-water event scheduled for September 1, between the piers at Venice and Ocean Park. Clapp recently won the Arrowhead swim, and has twice collected first honors in the Silver Gate classics at San Diego.

The five other Hollywood entrants are George Harris, Frank Booth, Frank Walton, Weston Kimball and McGowan Miller. The additional entries include Jack May, Hartwell Shippey, Herb Morey and Sam Reid.

Despite his success in all recent long-distance swims, Clapp is not considered unbeatable in local swimming circles. The ex-Hollywood High star has an impressive string of victories, but with a great field to battle him every inch of the way in the Times event, it would not surprise a lot of fans if the Circle H star were beaten. Numbers assigned the performers are as follows:

(1.) Austin Clapp, H.A.C.
(3.) Frank Walton, H.A.C.
(4.) Weston Kimball, H.A.C.
(5.) McGowan Miller, H.A.C.
(6.) Frank Booth, H.A.C.
(7.) Hartwell Shippey, unattached
(8.) Herb Morey, unattached
(9.) Sam Reid, Sea Breeze Beach Club
(10.) Jack May, Sea Breeze Beach Club

STILL COLLEGIATE

He's not through as a collegian. Mr. Fidel La Barba is just making hay while the sun shines, and some of these days he intends to return to Stanford and resume his undergraduate studies.

This news comes from Mr. La Barba himself, who perforce but a few hours past dropped into The Times sport sanctum where in former years he nursed a typewriter as a high-school correspondent.

Mr. La Barba, who at one time held the flyweight championship of the world and voluntarily relinquished it because he outgrew the division, makes no effort definitely to fix the particular period when a university curriculum will reclaim him.

But Mr. La Barba observes that many persons are under the wrong impression that he never intends to return to college.

He feels that one year in college did him a world of good, and three more are likely to shock him with pleasant results.

But having been advised by men of wisdom and wealth in every-day walks of life Mr. La Barba decided to go out after the dough while the getting is good. He says that is why he quit college.

"When they begin knocking me around, clipping me and messing me up then I'm through with the ring for good," he said yesterday.

"I quit with the flyweight title, voluntarily gave it up because it was aggravating me more and more to make the weight.

"I'm still growing and I intend to fight from now on in the 125-pound division.

"My money-making capacity was between $40,000 and $50,000 last year. My manager's cut is included in the total.

"I can't make that kind of money any other way. Had I remained in college for four years straight I would have been unable to return to the ring.

"Perhaps I can box four or five years more, add handsomely to my income, and then return to college. That's my ambition."

THE FOUL CURSE

The last foul fight is always the worst, so the odor from the one at the Olympic the other night probably will linger longer because the men were heavyweights.

Hawkins and Godfrey should be made to box it out—to a decision or a knockout—with the provision that a single foul blow means confiscation of the offender's purse.

Hawkins was the chief offender. He landed two low punches to the groin before Godfrey retaliated.

And Hawkins's culminating act was to drop to the floor in the third round with a great display of theatrics.

He clutched and he bridged and he rolled in defiance of all laws of medicine and science and anatomy that say a man struck in such manner will double up in agony rather than stretch out flat and attempt a bridging act.

There is no brief for Godfrey because Hawkins landed the first low blows.

But if the State Athletic Commission punishes one it should punish the other. As matters stand Godfrey is automatically suspended for thirty days and his purse is held up.

Hawkins goes scot free.

Why? Because the State boxing inspector of this district, Frank Moran, says he can't go back of the referee's decision, and officially only one man—Hawkins—was fouled.

And yet few of the 10,400 persons in the Olympic Auditorium saw the hesitant act of the referee, stale and rusty from two years of inactivity, in raising Hawkins's hand in signal of victory.

It was a mess all around, and none of the principals—contestants and referee—have anything to cheer about.

HESS AND CARTER

The State Athletic Commission doesn't profess to be a matchmaker, but it is doing a good thing in forcing a Wildcat Carter-Goldie Hess match.

When Hess developed boils and forced a postponement of their scheduled skirmish early this month Carter left the city for Seattle because he was broke and had a fight date offered him in the Northwest.

Now the commission decrees that Hess shall first fulfill his contract to box Carter before he meets Mack.

Justice will then be done Carter, who was put to considerable expense for training here and never took a dime out of the city.

Aquatic Stars Enter Annual Hermosa Swim

HERMOSA BEACH, Aug. 14.—With the date of the second annual Hermosa Beach two-mile rough-water women's swim just announced for the 21st inst., such brilliant aquatic stars as Marjorie Lowe and Hilda Curtis of the Lake Norconian Club and Dodie Blewett of the San Clemente team have signified their intentions of entering the event.

The course of the race is from the side of the Olympic barge, thence northwest to and around a buoy one mile seaward from the Hermosa pier finishing on the beach within the fence-inclosed section just north of the pier.

A fleet of Coast Guard boats with searchlights guiding the way plus a battery of land "sun arc's" will add much color to the event. The sun arcs on the land will burn continuously from 8 o'clock the night of the race until well after midnight.

HALIBUT RUNNING OFF HERMOSA BEACH

Numerous catches of halibut were reported yesterday by Capt. J. M. Anderson, owner of the Olympic barges operating off Hermosa Beach. Besides the big flat fish, other deep-sea denizens made an appearance, chiefly sculpin, sandabs and sole.

Bonita were seen circling the boats all day, but wouldn't take a bite. However, the mackerel made up for it, biting at anything. Yellowtail are on their way north, the huge game fish being now off San Diego and Coronado, according to reports from the southern cities.

SPORTS SKETCH BY FEG MURRAY

played his one thousandth consecutive game on June 27, and, if his ailing dogs hold up and his batting eye does not fail, has a good chance of going on for a couple more seasons to break Scotty's famous record of 1307. When Everett passed the thousand-game mark he was given a gold medal by Secretary of the Navy Denby. Mr. Sewell missed out on that.

Joey has played more consecutive games with one club than any other player, however, as all of his long service has been with Cleveland, while Scotty divided his uninterrupted streak between Boston and New York—832 with the Red Sox and 475 with the Yankees. The soft-spoken Alabama boy, who got his first chance with the Indians when Ray Chapman was killed by one of Carl Mays's underhand shoots in 1920, hasn't missed a game since near the end of 1922. It's too bad he passed up that one too, for he played 154 games in 1921.

While Joey hasn't been as effective at the plate this year as usual (his nine-year average with Cleveland is .323,) he is still one of the most valuable members of the Indian team, even though he is now playing at third after many years of service at shortstop. The former University of Alabama football player is only five feet six inches tall and weighs 155 pounds, yet he is an iron man, if one ever lived, and here's hoping he goes on to beat that famous 1307 record.

LA SALLE LOSES NOD TO WALTER DUNHAM

Bad Bobby La Salle, once the pride of Wilmington, wasn't so proud last night after losing every round of a ten-round fight to Walter (Bing) Dunham in the main event at the Wilmington Bowl. The referee gave the decision to Kid Bruno in the six-round semi-windup, but ringsiders claimed that Kenneth La Salle, Bobby's brother, had the better of the milling.

The six-round special event stole the show, however, Joe Lewis taking the nod over Mission Bolo. Bartley Rutledge and Kid Mack went four rounds to a draw in one of the preliminaries, while Peter Jackson knocked out Herb Yates in the first round of the curtain raiser.

other victory to her fast-growing collection when she scored her second straight win over the Monidah of the St. Francis Yacht Club of San Francisco, to cinch the Southern California championship in her class. With Ted Conant at the stick, the Babe was unbeatable again and had little or no trouble convincing her San Francisco rival of that very thing. Charles Langlais skippered the Monidah. The Babe covered the twelve-mile course in 1h. 53m. 52s. The Monidah was about three minutes behind her.

WINS HIMSELF

On top of that victory, Churchill himself then came through with one when he skippered the R sloop Friendship home in front of a classy field to cop the day's honors in that class. By virtue of the triumph here today the Friendship is now tied with Commodore Joe Jessop's Angela of the San Diego Yacht Club in the matter of points for the lead in the R series. The final race in that class will be staged Friday. The Friendship staged a real comeback to win today's race.

She took third yesterday in a light wind when her crew took out too much time experimenting with a jib, but Churchill forgot about that and sailed right ahead for a clean-cut victory. The Zephyr finished second and Angela third. The Marible and Aloha were next in order. One of the big thrills of the day's regatta program came in the six-meter class. Arthur Rousseau, veteran San Francisco skipper, brought his slick looking sloop, the Maybee home in front of Tommy Lee's Harpoon and Al Rogers's Synnov by an eyelash in one of the most spectacular finishes ever witnessed here. The judges could have thrown a blanket over the three boats at the finish, it seemed. The Clio, skippered by Doc Wilson, was fourth, quite a way back.

It was nip and tuck in the six class from start to finish with first the Synnov and the Harpoon and finally the Maybee taking the lead with the Bay City entry winning the pointing battle to the tape. The Maybee and Harpoon are tied for the lead in the six-meter class. They have 7 1-4 points apiece to their credit, as they each have copped one victory and one second place. The Clio and Synnov have 3 points apiece to their credit.

Those two skillful schoolboy skippers from Newport Bay, Preston and Ed Plumb, brought their Westwind home in front in the star-boat battle today. Ray B. Schauer's Movie Star took second place and Mist II third. The Regulus of Newport Bay was fourth and Walton Hubbard skippered his Tempe III into fifth place.

The Plumb brothers now lead the star-boat series with 39 1-4 points. Hubbard, a former international champion, is in second place with 36 1-4 points. Judge Schauer's Movie Star is third with 31 points. Friday afternoon the stars will battle it out for the championship.

HIGHLANDER TAKES SERIES

Although Sy Spaulding's big schooner won the dash today in the M.F.N. and G class, Al Christie's Highlander won the series by taking second place. The Highlander won yesterday when the Westward was disqualified. W. W. Pedder's Diablo, perennial winner in this class, was forced to take third prize this year. The Diablo was ruled out yesterday along with the Westward for getting off the correct course and today she finished third.

"Barnacle Bill" Watson's Wiletie captured the championship in the Q and Y class. The Wiletie won today's race. She also won yesterday's event, it was announced early this morning after some one had discovered that the Alert had not been handicapped according to specification. The Wiletie's victory today cinched the situation. The Alert was second and the Barbara Jean third in the final points total.

Mitchell and Wiman's Wimitch won the P-and-X class sailing championship. Hugh Angleman and Tom Smith's Ocean Waif took second honors. The Vagabond took third place.

LIPTON CUP EVENTS

Tomorrow the spotlight will be shot on the two Lipton Cup classics here. The San Diego Lipton Cup will draw a classy field of cabin sloops and the Santa Barbara Lipton event will bring out the best of the star boats.

Outboard pilots break into the picture in the morning when heats in classes B and C will be run off. The sailing events take place in the afternoon.

The sailing weather continues to be moderate here. Robbin Hayne has not even had one seasick reporter on his Coleen, the official press boat of the regatta.

Big Six

(By the Associated Press.)

Jimmy Foxx and Al Simmons worked seventeen innings yesterday, while Babe Herman, leader of the Big Six clouters, was idle for the second day, but the Athletic stars still could gain no ground on the heavy-hitting Robin outfielder. Foxx broke even by getting two hits in six tries, but Simmons lost 2 points with two in seven. Babe Ruth picked up 2 points with three hits against Detroit. Klein lost ground and Rogers Hornsby was idle.

The standings:

| | G. | AB. | R. | H. | Pc. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Herman, Robins | 103 | 404 | 87 | 167 | .413 |
| Foxx, Athletics | 113 | 400 | 101 | 153 | .383 |
| Simmons, Athletics | 109 | 449 | 97 | 168 | .374 |

MRS. PRESSLER ON WAY EAST

Seeks Western, National Golf Titles

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Wonder what Mrs. Leona Pressler can read in the "clickity-click" of the train wheels that are bearing her eastward today?

Maybe she can hear the prophecy of a third consecutive western women's championship when she defends her title at Cleveland the 26th to 30th inst.—and maybe an added prognostication of a national crown at the Oakland Hills Country Club in October.

MRS. GREGG LIFUR.

The brilliant San Gabriel star, who holds every major women's championship in California, boarded the Los Angeles Limited yesterday evening with every prospect of winning one, or both, titles.

Since returning from Indian Hills last August, where she won the western championship for the second consecutive year, a feat which had not been accomplished since 1917, Mrs. Pressler has enjoyed one continuous round of victories. She carries east with her the California State, Southern California and Del Monte women's titles, in addition to the western championship.

Mrs. Pressler will be followed closely on her trek eastward by Mrs. Gregg Lifur of the Riviera Country Club, who leaves tomorrow on the Union Pacific.

Mrs. Lifur qualified for both the western and national tournaments a year ago, only to lose in the second round of the western and the first round of the national.

In the national last year at the Virginia Hot Springs Golf and Country Club Mrs. Pressler advanced to the second round, only to be defeated by a former champion, Mrs. D. C. Hurd, 2 and 1. Mrs. Hurd then went on to reach the semi-finals, where she was in turn eliminated by Miss Virginia Van Wie.

All Southern California golf fans are behind these two remarkable golfers, and it will be no surprise to see them come home with both championships.

Mrs. Leona Pressler

Among the prominent local golfers who are going south for the event are Jack Gaines of Girard, defending champion; Gibson Dunlap of Riviera, Southern California amateur champion, and L. T. Henderson of Fox Hills.

San Diego and Coronado will have a formidable field of home talent this year, including Ward and Warner Edmonds and Speed Martin.

McCARTHY UNABLE TO PLAY IN NATIONAL AMATEUR

Maurice McCarthy, Jr., of Georgetown, metropolitan and New York State amateur champion, and holder of the intercollegiate crown, will not be able to participate in the national amateur championship at Del Monte next month.

It is understood that Lou Little, faculty director of athletics at Georgetown, has influenced McCarthy not to play. McCarthy is one of Georgetown's most prominent athletes, and not only captains the golf team, but also heads the basketball squad.

ENTRIES FOR SPRECKELS CUP PLAY CLOSE SUNDAY

Bob Simpson, professional of the Coronado Country Club, writes that entries for the $1000 Spreckels cup tournament must be in his hands by Sunday evening. The tournament begins Monday, the 19th inst. There will be eighteen holes of qualifying play Monday and eighteen Tuesday. Match play begins Wednesday and continues through Sunday. Low sixteen will constitute the Spreckels cup flight.

HARRY COOPER RECOVERING FROM AUTO ACCIDENT

Harry Cooper is rapidly recovering from an automobile accident he was in some time ago, but still walks with a decided limp. Harry visited the Lakeside Country Club on Tuesday and hopes to be back in shape for the midwinter series of Southern California money tournaments.

British Golf Stars Jaunt to California

[Copyright, 1929, by New York Times]

LONDON, Aug. 14.—British amateur golfers embarked today on a 7000-mile journey to compete in the American amateur championship in California in September. Cyril Tolley, British amateur champion; Lord Charles Hope and E. F. Storey have all played before in American championships, but T. A. Bourn, old Oxford blue, is making the trip for the first time.

"It is rather fun carrying the war into the enemy's camp," said Bourn. "I don't think we will win the championship but we will make an effort."

"It is certainly a long trip for a golf tournament," said Tolley, "but I wanted to play in California and I am going because I don't know when I will get the chance to play there again. We are taking it quite seriously but the amateur title is a terribly difficult one to win."

Maj. Guy Campbell was unable to make the journey.

KING TUT FINISHES GERMAN IN SECOND

DULUTH (Minn.) Aug. 14. (AP)—King Tut, Minneapolis lightweight, knocked out Al Rammy of Germany in the second round of a scheduled ten-round main event boxing card here tonight which was featured by a four-round exhibition by Max Schmeling, German heavyweight.

Tut knocked Rammy to the canvas four times in the first round and stopped him after thirty seconds of fighting in the second round.

ENTRIES CLOSE FOR NET EVENT TONIGHT

Entries will close tonight at 6 o'clock for the annual Santa Monica municipal championships which open Sunday morning in the bay city. Men's singles and doubles, ladies' singles, mixed doubles, and junior and boys' events are contained on the program of events. Mail or make entries with Thomas and Engelbright Sporting Goods Company, 1435 Fourth street, Santa Monica. Play will be held only over Saturday and Sunday.

DADO FAVORED IN LEGION GO

Filipino Boxer Rated Over Hughes at Hollywood

Speedy Dado, the Filipino, has been installed the favorite to win the main event at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium tomorrow night. Tommy Hughes is regarded a better fighter than any Dado has met within the past year, but he hasn't the class possessed by the little Filipino.

SPEEDY DADO

Jackie Fields will make his first appearance in the ring since he beat Joe Dundee for the world's welterweight title at Detroit. Fields will take a bow and make a short speech just before Dado and Hughes start battling.

As an added feature, Willie (Gig) Rooney, manager of Fields, will receive a wrist watch. Rooney is a Los Angeles boy, and has been instrumental in guiding Fields to the top of the welterweight division.

Boxing fans who saw Tommy Hughes in the flyweight tournament at the stadium believe he will be a tough nut to crack. Dado will meet a good puncher and a boy who has had more experience than himself. Hughes is in good shape.

The bonus awarded to the best preliminary is expected to pep up the boys who get the small change. Clayton Gouyd and Jackie Caston are the favorites to cop but any one of the four shots can win the money. Caston is a favorite to beat Gouyd because he won the last time they met. Gouyd has had more time to train for this bout and expects to be in better shape.

In the special Art Molino is favored to win from Herbert Tarchi. Frankie Diaz and Frankie Abendino will be seen in one fourrounder and Ora Smith fights Jimmy oJnes in the curtain-raiser.

DETROIT, Aug. 14. (AP)—The New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers celebrated Charlie Gehringer Day today by staging a madcap game full of base hits, errors and freak plays with the Tigers finally victorious, 17 to 13.

Gehringer, Detroit second baseman, recognized the day himself by hitting safely four out of five times at bat, one of his blows being a home run. In addition he stole home in the eighth inning when the Tigers put the game on ice with a five-run rally. Johnson also hit a homer for the Tigers.

Although the Yankees assaulted three Detroit pitchers for eighteen hits while the Tigers gathered but fifteen and made five errors, Ownie Carroll kept the Yanks from scoring more than three runs in the final three innings. The Tigers hit George Pipgras, Waite Hoyt, Tom Zachary and Moore hard. Hoyt could not retire a man in his first mound appearance in a month.

Backswing is Described

LONG IRON FULL MASHIE

BY SOL METZGER

The much-admired Johnny Farrell, one of the soundest golfers in the world, tells me that the limit of a dub's backswing for a full shot should be to stop when the left arm begins to bend.

The iron backswing is even more limited. You don't try for like distances with them as you do with the brassie or spoon. Its purpose, where length is concerned, is control of both distance and direction, better than with the wood, and to add more bite or stop. So you do your hardest hitting only with the wooden clubs.

That's why the backswing limit with the irons is less than with woods among the better players. Note Farrell with the mashie. Halfway back he is, yet he'll reach the green 150 yards away. And with his long iron he doesn't get back quite to the horizontal, whereas with the wood he's well beyond it.

Hold down the backswing. If overdone you may hit farther, but you'll rarely control the shot. Tomorrow—slicing and hooking.

Enjoy the thrill of long, straight drives. Write Sol Metzger, care of The Times, for free leaflet on driving. Enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Jock Malone Will Mix With Long Tonight

Pasadena arena tonight is presenting Jock Malone, by all odds the classiest middleweight ever booked in the Crown City. He will take on Charlie Long, twice conqueror of Bert Colima, in the ten-round main event that heads a very diversified program.

JOCK MALONE

Malone, who has had about 400 fights and only lost twenty-five, proved in San Francisco two months ago that he is just as strong and clever as ever by getting a draw with Rene De Vos, the title contender. Jock has fought all the leaders of the game, from Britton to Walker.

Naturally, Malone is a favorite over Long, but Charlie, with Ace Hudkins announced to second him, may surprise his more experienced opponent.

Four-round bouts will be: Leonard Rahming vs. Billy Cain, 114 pounds; Steve Hayden vs. Andy Dumler, 175 pounds; Frank Leonard vs. Happy Romero, 150 pounds.

The show opens at 8:30 o'clock.

GODFREY MAY GET PENALTY

Commissioner May Demand Fine for Fouling

Carter Offered New Bout With Goldie Hess

Dougherty, shooes him East again the Central-avenue brethren will be parking heavily on his door steps.

There was some talk yesterday of a rematch between the two giants, but this was discounted until after Commissioner Woods reviews the situation.

Dougherty said any rematch would have to be made on a winner-take-all basis, but that no decision would be made pending settlement of Tuesday night's muss.

Dougherty deplored the outcome of the fight, and alleges Referee Larry McGrath was the victim of ringside clamor. He claims the blow on which McGrath stopped the fight was not foul, but landed on the waist line.

He admits Godfrey did strike low after Hawkins inaugurated the below-the-equator activities in the second round, but denies such was the case in the third round.

Dougherty says Godfrey always has trouble with fighters of his own race, but points out that if Hawkins was in such distress as he registered in the ring it was remarkable the way he straightened up in the dressing rooms right after the bout and later in the evening was able to dance merrily in a Central-avenue cafe.

Frank Churchill, manager of Hawkins, said he hated to see the fight won on a foul, but offered no other extenuating evidence. He believes Hawkins can beat Godfrey legitimately.

The "gate" for the fight was announced yesterday as $18,200, the largest in many months for a bout at the down-town arena.

JONES ON HAND FOR MAHAN GO

Gorilla Jones, Ohio negro who knocked out Pete Myers in San Francisco Monday night, came to town yesterday. He took a short workout at the Manhattan gymnasium.

The easterner, who boxes Dummy Mahan at the Olympic Tuesday night, is an impressive fighter. He resembles young Jack Thompson in action. Some say he hits harder than Black Jack.

Jones is being dodged by every top-notch welter and middleweight in the country, including Jimmy McLarnin, Young Corbett, Ace Hudkins and Jackie Fields.

He is an odd weight, being able to make close to 147 pounds or 160. A few months ago Jones stopped Al Mello, the boy who whipped Joe Dundee and who gave Hudkins a tough fight.

Fred Winsor and Mahan beat Jones back to Los Angeles by driving all Monday night after the Myers battle in the north. It was Winsor's plan to have the Dummy introduced at the Olympic before the 10,400 who packed the arena to see George Godfrey and Long Tom Hawkins.

After seeing Jones in action Mahan will be trained to meet the negro's particular style. Winsor was hiring sparring partners yesterday big and little with the proviso that Mahan would try to knock them out if he could.

When Mahan was training in San Francisco for the Corbett bout a few months ago one of his gymnasium knockout victims had to be taken to the hospital in an ambulance.

"I've got the Joe Wolcott of the welterweights," says Winsor, "and I'm going to prove it by fighting the man all the stars are ducking.

"Why Mahan has knocked out around twenty opponents in twenty-five fights since I got him. I showed him how to hit just like Jack Dempsey."

CARTER OFFERED BOUT WITH HESS

The State Athletic Commission has wired Wildcat Carter an offer to box Goldie Hess on September 3 and if he accepts Eddie Mack will have to wait until a week later to box the winner.

The action of the commission was prompted by the fact that Carter was the greatest sufferer when Hess had to withdraw from a match at the last minute two weeks ago, on account of a boil.

Some thought that Hess had taken a "runout," but it was Dr. Lloyd R. Mace who actually stopped that match. He refused to pass Hess in his condition to box that night.

Carter was offered the Hess bout for September, but wanted training expenses for the time he lost in working for the first match. The Olympic declined to stand extra expense since it "blew" over $2000 when the show was called off.

Frank Moran said he expected Carter's answer today. If the negro cannot accept the date Mack will meet Hess as scheduled.

SERAPHS NOSE OUT REDS

Sandberg's Single in Ninth Climaxes Two-Run Rally That Enables Angels to Win, 6 to 5

in to pitch and that Herb McQuaid should take a shower.

Slug Tolson somewhat crossed up the opposition by sacrificing on Krause's first pitch, advancing Webb and Berger into scoring position. Ray Jacobs was purposely passed, bulging the bags, and then Lelivelt entered into the strategy by sending Wes Schulmerich up to bat for Bobby Jones, who bats from the same side Krause pitches from.

Schulmerich spent considerable time up at the plate and then lifted a Texas leaguer to center that both Finn and Slade scurried after. Slade probably would have made the catch had not Finn bumped into him, but the collision caused "Osky" to drop the ball and Webb scored. The pellet was retrieved and rushed to Rodda in time to force Berger at third, but the score was tied.

SANDBERG SETTLES IT

That brought Galloping Gus Sandberg, the slugging Scandinavian, to the plate, and let it here be mentioned that the Cherub catcher was in a hitting mood yesterday. Gus had previously belted a couple of two-base pokes off the center field bricks and was robbed of another double by Clown Christensen's leaping catch off the bleacher screen, which should give you an inkling of the tough frame of mind he was laboring in. Anyhow, Gus came through with a sizzling single to center to make it an easy matter for Jacobs to romp home with the tally that sent the boys and girls home early enough to cheat the delicatessens out of a big business.

Doc Crandall was credited with the victory and he well earned it by his pitching performance after replacing Clyde Barfoot in the third. Doc gave the Reds five hits and two runs in his tenure on the mound and changed the Killefer clan's plans for making a runaway affair of the struggle. At that, though, things looked mighty dark for the Doctor after Hufft rifled that homer over the screen after two were out in the ninth.

Krause got into the struggle just long enough to be charged with the defeat. His pass to Jacobs turned out to be the winning run, which was a tough break on the veteran left-hander.

The Reds got a run off Barfoot in the first when Boone tripled and scored on Hufft's single, but Webb got that back for Los Angeles in the home half by hammering a home run that thudded against the scoreboard in back of the center-field bleachers.

REDS CHASE BARFOOT

Further evidence that Barfoot was not right was advanced by the Reds in the third when they bunched four hits for a couple of runs that drove Clyde to cover. Finn doubled for a starter and came in on Boone's hit over second. Hufft fouled to Sandberg and then Sherlock hit a perfect double play ball to Jacobs. But Jake foozled the twin killing by making a bad throw to Haney, who picked it out of the air to force Boone. Christensen singled to right and Slade followed with a single to center that scored Sherlock. Crandall then came on the scene and retired Baldwin to end the inning.

The Angels filled the bases with but one out in their half of the third, but McQuaid fanned Berger and retired Tolson to prevent any scoring.

McQuaid's single, walks to Finn and Boone and Hufft's infield out gave the Missions their fourth run in the fourth.

Doubles by Jacobs and Sandberg got one of those runs back for the Angels in the same inning.

Webb's second homer, a drive over the left-field fence in the fifth, and Tolson's line drive over the right-field screen in the seventh finally pulled the Angels up on even terms with the visitors.

Crandall got in and out of several jams, but looked in a fair way to achieve a victory when he retired Finn and Boone to open the ninth. Doc had two strikes on Hufft when Fuzzy caught up with one and rammed it over the screen to put the Reds in front, 5 to 4.

Whereupon, the Angels pulled off their winning rally, which has already been described, so that was that.

Mert Nelson and Red Roberts will be the rival hurlers today. Score:

Foul Tips

Red Roberts, who pitched a couple of fine games against Hollywood last week, and Mert Nelson, one of Killefer's leading hurlers, will oppose each other on the mound today.

Two of the Missions' other leading pitchers, Wilbur Hubbell and Herb McQuaid, haven't fared so well against the Seraphs so far this series.

Clown Christensen is not only the league's best comedian but a sensational player as well. The Clown amused the fans with his comedy yesterday afternoon, and also thrilled them with a couple of sensational catches that robbed Jacobs and Sandberg of extra base hits in the second inning.

Earl Webb has done his batting average a lot of good in this week's two games by hammering out six hits in eight times at bat. Two of the Spider's hits yesterday were long home runs, the first circuit clout banging against the scoreboard near the ball and strike indicator.

Besides getting a couple of singles, Walter Berger made a sensational catch of Christensen's foul fly after a long run in the first inning yesterday.

There were four home runs yesterday, but the bases were empty each time the ball was hit out of the lot.

The Angels had ten men left on bases and the Missions nine. A hit in a lot of those spots would have changed the complexion of the ball game.

Gus Sandberg spoiled a Mission rally in the sixth, when with men on first and second and none out, he snapped a throw to Jacobs, covering first, to pick Rodda off the paths.

Eight of the Reds' fourteen hits were made off Barfoot in the first two and two-thirds innings.

Sandberg was hitting the ball hard yesterday, two of his drives just failing to clear the center field brick wall and going for doubles. Christensen picked Gus's second inning smash off the center field bleacher screen to rob him of another two-bagger.

JOLLEY HOMES TO END CLASH

at that stage looked very large. Ed Coleman, however, coming to bat in the last of the tenth, hit a homer, again tying the score.

Hollywood could do nothing in the eleventh or twelfth. The Seals had a good chance in the eleventh when Coleman came up with the bases jammed full of Seals and two out, but he rolled to Burkett to retire the side.

Jolley settled the torrid battle beyond the question of a doubt in the twelfth. He was the first man up for the Seals in that inning. The first pitch of Wetzel's hit the dirt. The second was low and fast. Jolley eased into it solidly and the ball game was over. The score:

KETCHEL WINS ON FOUL OVER DEVLIN

WALLACE OUTPOINTS GROGAN IN RING GO

CLEVELAND, Aug. 14. (AP)—Billy Wallace, Cleveland lightweight, won a decision over Tommy Grogan of Omaha, Neb., in a ten-round bout here tonight.

Although Wallace outboxed Grogan consistently, the Clevelander was floored for a count of nine in the third round. Wallace was credited with six rounds by a wide margin. Grogan took three and one was even.

SHIPPING NEWS

RAW SUGAR DUE FROM ISLANDS

Port's First Large Shipment Arrives Tomorrow

Consignment to be Refined at Oxnard in Test

Grounded Tuna Fleet Craft Abandoned by Crew

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

Los Angeles having enticed large movements of raw rubber and other bulk products from the Near West, as the Orient now is called, is turning to raw sugar from Manila, the first heavy shipment of which is due from the Philippines tomorrow on the Dollar Line freighter Stuart Dollar.

The consignment comprises 5000 tons, which will be loaded into 200 freight cars for delivery to the American Beet Sugar Company at Oxnard. There it will be put through the refineries.

The shipment is in the nature of an experiment, and has been surrounded by much secrecy. From reliable sources, however, it is learned that if the experimental refining proves successful, the future importations of Manila sugar promise to be of magnitude.

The plan, it is declared, is to extend the operative period of the Oxnard refineries, which now is restricted to the season following the harvest of adjacent sugar beets. Being essentially a Philippine product, the raw sugar is admitted into United States without the payment of the duty of 2 cents a pound imposed on Cuban and other foreign products.

Manila raw sugar has been shipped into San Francisco refineries for years, but so far as known this is the first important importation to Los Angeles, although shipments frequently have passed through here on transshipment east.

SALVAGE TUG ON WAY TO GROUNDED VESSEL

The 117-foot Greyhound, $80,000 refrigerated bait boat and one of the finest in Southern California's tuna fleet, has been abandoned on Hipolito reef, 500 miles south, where she went hard aground last Friday.

The Merritt, Chapman & Scott wrecking tug Peacock, with Capt. E. W. Samuelson as salvage officer, was dispatched to her rescue and should reach the scene tomorrow night, but little more than the engine is expected to be salvaged. She is reported high on a suspended ledge of rock and salvage work is deemed highly precarious.

First word of the grounding was received yesterday with the return of her captain and owner, Manuel Medina, and crew of twelve on the fishing boat Mariner. Fog and a set of currents inshore were believed responsible.

The Greyhound was built by Nunes Brothers at Sausalito late last year, and since has prospered in the tuna trade out of here and San Diego. More than sixty tons of fish for the Van Camp Sea Food Company also were lost.

The Java Pacific motorship Bintang broke a stern post in backing from a Long Beach dock Tuesday and will be surveyed at a local dry dock Sunday for damages, the repair of which is expected to consume four to six weeks. She now is discharging all cargo at the Outer Harbor Dock and Wharf Company, whence 1400 tons consigned to San Francisco and Seattle will be transshipped via Swayne & Hoyt's steamer Point San Pedro on Saturday.

Ships of the new Christenson-Hammond Line for the time being will sail north from Berth 59, which has been assigned to the Hammond Lumber Company for sixty days, after which the latter will share Berth 57 with Capt. A. R. Paulsen. Berth 90, deemed unsatisfactory, was ordered repaired at a cost of $15,600 by the Harbor Commission yesterday. The commission also authorized an $18,000 reconditioning of Berths 36 to 40 which recently reverted to the city from the Outer Harbor Dock and Wharf Company.

First movement toward realization of the $200,000 case oil loading dock at Berth 161 will be taken September 11, next, when bids will be opened for creosoted piling, lumber and concrete piling.

The commission announced a tentative agreement with Fellows & Stewart, whose boat yard stands in the way of the case oil station, for a tract 250 feet along Cerritos channel at Berth 206, affording a depth of 400 feet.

Other construction sanctioned by the commission yesterday includes ten lubricating oil tanks to be erected by the Texas Company at Berth 216 at a cost of $31,265; a temporary school building to be erected by the Board of Education at 215 Terminal Way at a cost of $7500, and a $900 office building for F. H. Merrill at 914 San Clemente street, Mormon Island.

The eighty-foot schooner yacht Sartarlia, owned by Robert Clayton of the cotton firm of Anderson & Clayton, arrived from Houston, Tex., via the Panama Canal yesterday morning. It is understood her owner and friends soon will sail for Hawaii and the South Seas.

---

Eleven Los Angeles folk sailed last night on the Italian motorliner Rialto of the Liberia Line for the Mediterranean. Among them are Mrs. Ruth A. Mattimore, Mrs. S. W. Robinson and Miss E. M. Mattimore, painters and writers of Los Angeles and Carmel; L. J. Caramano, formerly of the Greek diplomatic service, and Mrs. Caramano, bound for their new home in Paris, accompanied by Mrs. Lilian N. Vanable; Mrs. Julia Bingham, who will visit her husband, a British Consular official at San Salvador, and Thomas Rodrigues and George Ulloa, American civil engineers, en route to San Salvador.

---

Sixty-nine hundred tons of cargo will pass over the Luckenbach dock this week-end. The Edgar Luckenbach, in yesterday from the Gulf, dropped 2300 tons; the Katrina Luckenbach will arrive today to discharge 3100 tons from the North Atlantic, and the Walter A. Luckenbach will arrive Saturday to lift 1500 tons of the North American.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY 1420

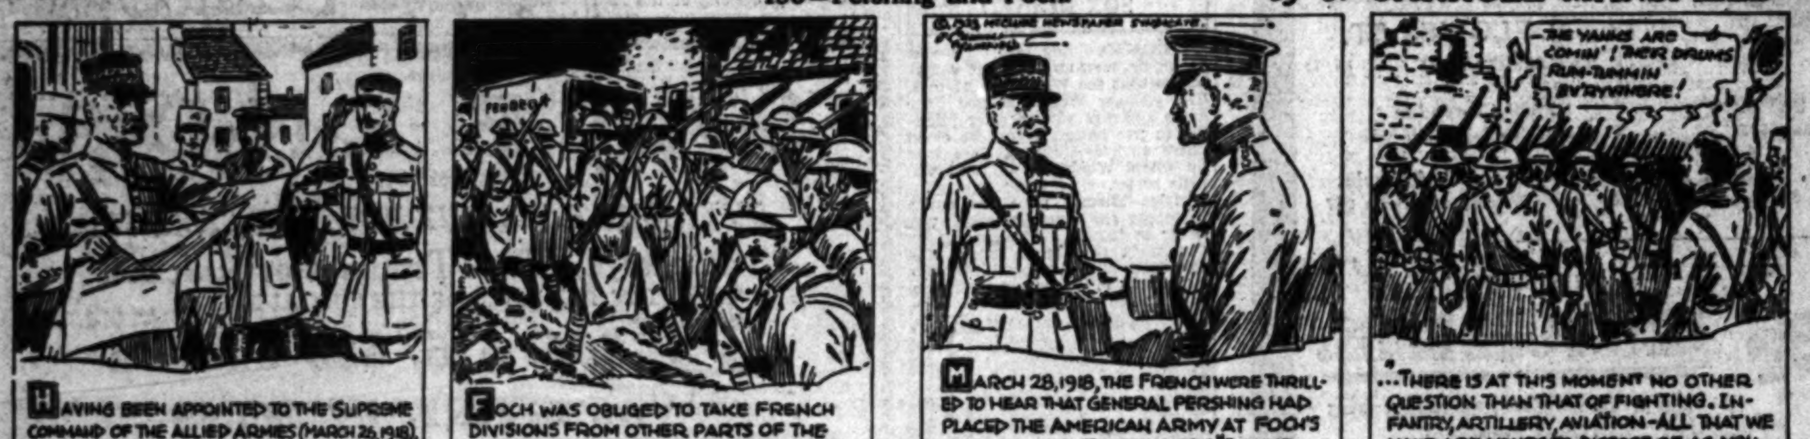
The Story of the World War
190—Pershing and Foch.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD



HAVING BEEN APPOINTED TO THE SUPREME COMMAND OF THE ALLIED ARMIES (MARCH 26, 1918), GENERAL FOCH AT ONCE TOOK STEPS TO STOP THE ADVANCE OF THE VICTORIOUS GERMAN ARMY TOWARD AMIENS. HE WAS GREATLY HANDICAPPED BY LACK OF RESERVES.
FOCH WAS OBLIGED TO TAKE FRENCH DIVISIONS FROM OTHER PARTS OF THE LINE TO AID THE HARD-PRESSED BRITISH. BEFORE THE GERMAN ADVANCE WAS CHECKED, FULLY A FOURTH OF THE FRENCH ARMY HAD BEEN THROWN INTO THE BATTLE.
MARCH 28, 1918, THE FRENCH WERE THRILLED TO HEAR THAT GENERAL PERSHING HAD PLACED THE AMERICAN ARMY AT FOCH'S DISPOSAL, WITH THESE WORDS, "I HAVE COME TO TELL YOU THAT THE AMERICAN PEOPLE WOULD CONSIDER IT AN HONOR FOR OUR TROOPS TO BE ENGAGED IN THE PRESENT BATTLE."
"THE YANKS ARE COMIN'! THEIR DRUMS RUM-TUMMIN' EV'RYWHERE!"
"...THERE IS AT THIS MOMENT NO OTHER QUESTION THAN THAT OF FIGHTING. INFANTRY, ARTILLERY, AVIATION—ALL THAT WE HAVE ARE YOURS TO DISPOSE OF AS YOU WILL. OTHERS ARE COMING WHICH ARE AS NUMEROUS AS WILL BE NECESSARY."
TOMORROW: THE 1ST DIVISION ORDERED TO PICARDY.

Palms Institution Robbed of About $3000

Bottle of Explosive Shown to Teller

Note Demands Cash on Pain of Explosion

A bandit with gun and nitroglycerine yesterday locked in the staff of the Security-First National Bank branch at 7034 Main street, Palms, after robbing the bank of approximately $3000. The hold-up showed signs of every move being figured out in advance by the cool robber, and American; 45 years of age, of medium height. He wore a light gray suit, a white shirt opened at the neck, and a drooping brimmed yellow straw hat.

Before entering the bank, he tied the back door with rope. Entering at the front a few minutes after 3 p.m., he took his place in line at Teller Dan Gossell's window, and waited until two women customers had been served. Then he laid on the window ledge a small bottle containing liquid, and shoved in a note, as follows:

"The insurance company is paid to take chances. You are not. Don't try to be a hero. It will sure be fatal. I am an oil well shooter. I know my stuff. Nitro in this bottle. The first bum move, and off she goes. I don't intend to leave any pieces big enough to identify. My life is not worth anything, anyway, and I don't care how this turns out. But the whole joint will go with me if you are foolish. Now, give me $3000 in three minutes. Do it quietly and naturally."

Gossell hesitated a moment. The bandit shoved a gun draped under a handkerchief and aimed toward the bottle. Gossell hastily scooped his day's cash, approximately $3000, and gave it to the bandit, who stuffed it in his shirt and started for the door. The teller called to Manager W. J. Marshall that there had been a hold-up. Marshall grappled with the bandit, who hurled him back inside, leaped out and barred the door by shoving a small wooden bar he carried, through the looped door handles. Then he escaped, leaving the bank staff penned in until they had summoned police by telephone. Lieut. H. O. Hartman and a squad from the Palms station searched the neighborhood for the bandit.

Train Robbery Suspect Will Be Here Today

In custody of San Francisco postoffice inspectors and deputy sheriffs, George O. De Moss, arrested recently in Peoria, Ill., will arrive in Los Angeles this morning to be questioned by local police in connection with the hold-up of a Southern Pacific train near the town of McAvoy on June 23, last.

GEORGE O. DE MOSS

According to Detective Lieutenant Chester Lloyd of the police postoffice detail, De Moss is suspected of having purchased from a Hollywood dealer the Hudson automobile, in which two men made their escape after robbing the train and shooting the engineer, and which they later abandoned to flee in a coupe driven by a woman.

Bay City authorities went to Peoria to get De Moss when he was held there on descriptions broadcast by postal inspectors. At the time, De Moss is asserted to have been in possession of a large number of weapons. He is said to be a former army officer.

FILIPINOS WILL LAY PLANS FOR CONCLAVE

Active measures in preparation for the fourth annual national convention of the Filipino Federation of America, opening on December 23 and expected to bring 20,000 former residents of the Philippines to Los Angeles, will be instituted at a meeting of the board of directors at 2 p.m. tomorrow at headquarters in the Stack Building. In the course of the next three weeks, managers of the 144 branches of the federation will assemble here to receive instructions concerning the national meeting.

DOHERTY GOES NORTH TO CLAIM HIS BRIDE

Emmett E. Doherty, assistant United States Attorney in Los Angeles, left yesterday for Deer Lodge, Mont., where on Tuesday he will marry Elise M. Pauly. Miss Pauly is the daughter of a pioneer cattleman of Montana. The couple will spend their honeymoon in the Canadian Rockies and will be at home here at 318 South Hoover street, after September 14, next.

PRIMATE OF SERBIA PAYS BEACH VISIT

Archbishop Dodrecic Tells of Ford's Promise to Build Factory in Montenegro

Archbishop Nicholas Dodrecic of Antivari, Montenegro, and primate of Serbia, was a Santa Monica visitor yesterday, a guest at the Casa Del Mar. He will leave for San Francisco today.

The noted visitor spoke of an assurance he has received from Henry Ford that a factory will be built in Montenegro as soon as the required number of students from that country can be trained to supervise the work. The archbishop said he had approached the big automobile manufacturer on behalf of his people. His country, he said, is a mountainous and barren land, offering the people little in the way of an agricultural livelihood. The great need is industrial development.

The archbishop revealed that malarial fever has for centuries been the scourge of his native land. He sought and won the aid of the Gorgas Memorial Institute of Chicago, and a commission is to be sent to Montenegro to investigate.

He expressed profound admiration for the American people, and deep gratitude for what Americans are doing for his country.

New Course to Aid Flyers

Designed to be of special interest and value to both the prospective and experienced aviator, a new course in physics of the atmosphere is to be given during the fall term of the Department of physics of the University of Southern California, according to announcement of President Von KleinSmid.

A study of storms, atmospheric electricity, hygrometry, atmospheric optics, atmospheric acoustics and the laws of climatic control will be covered.

An intensive study of atmospheric circulation, which is so vital to air navigation, and problems of gathering and interpretation of meteorological data, temperature and pressure relations in the atmosphere, and atmospheric composition, will be included in the 1929 - 1930 semester.

Recluse Death Laid to Alcohol

Benjamin F. Roe, Redondo Beach recluse, who died in the General Hospital Tuesday, was a victim of acute alcoholism, according to a report made yesterday by Dr. A. F. Wagner, County Autopsy Surgeon. Roe was found in a state of coma at his Redondo home Monday with an empty wine tonic bottle by his bedside.

Officers at first feared that the man might have been poisoned, but this theory was disproven by the medical examination, and the body last night was released for burial.

Zipper Draws Fine and Jail

Found guilty by a jury in the court of Municipal Judge Galbreth of obtaining credit from a hotel through misrepresentation, Nat Zipper yesterday was sentenced to serve ten days in jail and to pay a fine of $100.

According to Deputy City Prosecutor Hornaday, the man falsely represented himself to the hotel management as being a representative of an eastern business concern and thereby secured credit.

FOUR BIDS ON PAVING REJECTED

"War" on Patented Street Surfacing Continued With Works Board's Action

On the contention that the prices were excessive, the Board of Public Works continued its "war" against patented paving yesterday by rejecting bids on four paving jobs. The fifth job, which calls for cement concrete pavement was awarded. The four jobs rejected will be readvertised, bids to be accepted two weeks hence.

The contract awarded was for the paving of Wendell Place between Shields Drive and MacArthur avenue, cement contract, low bid $8902, to the Griffith Company.

The rejected bids are Glenhurst avenue between Larga street and Silverlake Boulevard, low bid, $13,491.63; Indiana avenue between Lincoln Boulevard and Seventh avenue, low bid $15,124.95; Cochrane avenue between Third street and Wilshire Boulevard, low bid $25,099.54; and Cloverdale avenue, between Third street and Wilshire Boulevard, low bid $23,716.98.

Boy Evangelist to Preach Here

Richard Headrick, 12 years of age, will preach at the First Methodist Church next Sunday evening, it was announced yesterday, following the return of the young evangelist from a speaking tour of Canada and the eastern part of the United States.

RICHARD HEADRICK

Master Headrick, well known to the KHJ audiences and filmdom, rose to fame as an evangelist when he was 9, having preached his first sermon at the First Methodist Church in Los Angeles, since which time he has spoken before large gatherings in scores of the largest churches of this continent.

On Monday, Richard, accompanied by his parents and brother, will go to Portland, Or., to conduct a series of evangelistic services in an auditorium in that city.

Former Convict Speaks to Club

Improvement of general conditions in jails and penitentiaries was urged yesterday by Mrs. Inez Davidson, an ex-convict, speaking as a guest at the meeting of the Men's City Club. Mrs. Davidson, who has served both in San Quentin and the Washington State penitentiary, declared she is seeking to arouse her hearers to indignation against police "third-degree" methods.

She told of being kept awake once for three days and nights under a bright light, while relays of detectives questioned her. This finished, she said, she was thrown into a dark cell to lie on a filthy mattress and live without water for twenty-four hours. Other harrowing details completed her address.

Arthur Briggs, vice-president of the club, presided and in a brief reply expressed sympathy with the woman's story.

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Miss Jeane Emerson, daughter of Wilbur Osgood Emerson of West Adams street, whose engagement to Frank Benjamin Yoakum, Jr., of Beverly Hills, was announced recently, has chosen September 10 as the date for her wedding, the ceremony to take place in St. James's Church at 8:30 o'clock.

Miss Wanda Yoakum will assist as maid of honor, while the other attendants will include Miss Ethel Emerson, Miss Elise Seymour, Miss Jane Reynard, Miss Ann Sanderson and Mrs. Branch Cuenod, while Frank McNamee will serve Mr. Yoakum as best man and Charles Madary, Bartley Leeds, Holden McManigal and Branch Cuenod will usher.

Miss Emerson was graduated from University of California at Los Angeles this year and is affiliated with Delta Gamma Sorority. All her attendants are active members of Delta Gamma except Mrs. Cuenod, who is a Pi Phi.

The wedding will culminate a romance of six years' standing, Miss Emerson and Mr. Yoakum having met at Los Angeles High School and both being graduated from college before wedding.

The veil and train which Miss Emerson will wear on her wedding day are family heirlooms of the Yoakum family and were worn last by Mrs. F. B. Yoakum of Flintridge.

The little flower girl, Audrey Yoakum, is to carry the basket that Wanda Yoakum, maid of honor at this wedding, carried at her mother's wedding.

Mr. Yoakum is a member of Kappa Alpha and Phi Delta Phi prelegal honorary fraternity, just having been graduated from Stanford University law school.

A going-away motif was charmingly carried out in all the decorations and favors. Those included were Mrs. Edward Bogardus, Mrs. Malcolm Nason, Mrs. May George, Mrs. Albert Worthington, Mrs. Garnet Cecil Rainey, Miss Frances Bledsoe, Miss Eleanor Reynolds, Miss Rosalie Vance, Miss Frances Winter, Miss Betty Miles, Miss Grace Fuller, Miss Katherine Jones, Miss Eleanor Donau, Miss Virginia Donau, Miss Mildred Wilson, Miss Marian Wilson, Miss Jane Barnard, Miss Dorothy Hayworth and Miss Jane Oliver.

Wedding Day Set

Miss Elsie Katherine Honodel, daughter of Mrs. Elsie Kathryn Honodel, has chosen October 18 as the date for her wedding with Donald Cawthorpe Pousettee, son of Dr. and Mrs. William C. Pousettee, and the ceremony will be read in St. James Church, Wilshire Boulevard. The announcement of the betrothal was made at a lovely luncheon and bridge with which Miss Honodel entertained at the Los Angeles Country Club July 19, the date celebrating her own nineteenth birthday anniversary. She was graduated from Los Angeles High School and is a member of Tri Gamma Sorority and an active worker at the Castelar Creche, while her fiance was graduated from University of California at Berkeley and is affiliated with Phi Delta Theta Fraternity.

Included in the bridal entourage will be Mrs. Fred Robinson, Mrs. Richard MacRae, Miss Emily Fenton of Loma Portal, San Diego, and Mrs. William A. Graham.

Many lovely prenuptial affairs are being planned in honor of this popular bride-elect in the near future.

Browning-Bauer

The marriage of Miss Theresa Alice Browning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur John Browning, to Wesley George Bauer was solemnized the 7th inst., the ceremony taking place in St. John's Church, with Dr. Timmons officiating.

Preceding the ceremony James Burroughs gave a program of organ music and also played the wedding marches.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of ivory satin with veil of tulle edged in rose point lace, caught into a cap of lace, and she carried an arm shower of roses, gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Joseph Browning assisted as matron of honor in pink chiffon with French rosebud trimming and large picture hat to match. She carried an arm bouquet of pink roses and blue delphinium.

The other attendants included Miss Louise Huber in yellow chiffon with picture hat to match and carrying yellow roses and orchid sweet peas, and Mrs. Frank Pickett in green chiffon and picture hat to match. She also carried yellow roses and orchid sweet peas, while the dainty flower girl, Betty Stegner, wore pale blue organdie and carried a basket of rose petals.

Joseph Browning served as best man and Roland Bauer, Frank Pickett and Francis Gerrick ushered.

A wedding breakfast at the La Venta Inn, Palos Verdes, followed the ceremony for the bridal party, relatives and a few close friends. Covers were arranged for fifty guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Bauer are motoring north on their honeymoon and after September 1 will return to make their home in Angeles Mesa.

Summer Residence

The many friends of Bernard Kearney will be glad to know that he is recuperating from the automobile accident in which he was quite seriously injured early last May, and that he expects to be able to resume his studies at Loyola College with the opening of the term in September.

Mrs. Kearney, returning to Los Angeles again this fall, will resume her club activities.

Well Chosen

Careful choice of desserts after a heavy dinner is very important. Think what hot apple pie or a whipped cream pudding would do to your digestion after an elaborate dinner. Try serving an ice or some light, airy pudding; they will be enjoyed far more.

Peel Off Freckles— Summer Defects

To remove liver spots, blackheads, large pores, blotches and other blemishes, caused by dirt, sun and summer winds, it is best to remove the skin itself. This is easily and quickly done by the application of ordinary mercolized wax. The wax peels off the offensive mask of disfigured skin, a little each day, gradually bringing out the under skin in all its youthful beauty. This new skin is soft, clear and entire face is much younger looking. Mercolized wax brings out the hidden beauty. To reduce wrinkles and other age-lines, use as an astringent lotion 1 ounce powdered saxolite and 1 half pint witch hazel. At all drug stores.—[Advertisement.]

CREAMED CALVES' BRAINS

Two sets of calves' brains, four tablespoonfuls of butter, a seasoning of salt, white pepper, three tablespoonfuls of flour, and one cupful of milk, place the brains in a bowl, cover with cold water, add a teaspoonful of vinegar and allow to stand for twenty minutes, place in a saucepan, cover with boiling water, and let simmer for ten to fifteen minutes, adding a slice of onion, a spray of parsley, and a small piece of bay leaf to the water, when cooked, drain, and remove all of the fiber and skin, cut in squares, make a cream sauce of the butter, flour and milk. ### A Novel Memo Pad

A calendar with large figures, hung on the kitchen wall, serves as a memo pad for future engagements. The data may be jotted down under the figure and, in this prominent spot, the engagement is never forgotten. It also is a help to advance ordering if the entertaining is to be at your home.

The New in Stores & Homes

Novelties, Ideas, and Suggestions

By OLIVE GRAY

> Oddistic Art, comprising queerly shaped animals, birds and insects, causes pause for thought. Will children of future generations believe that animals of now, looked like those so impertinently pictured? If so, there should be rebellion from the living beasties of today—a cruelty to animals league organized among them.

Turbanistic

That leading store, always foremost in exhibition of the new and authentic modes, is showing a set, consisting of turban and scarf, encrusted with pailettes. Various colors are shown in these; colors usual to the scintillants, and also such colors as are favored of the present mode. Gold, silver, copper, black; and some of the new reds, blues and yellows are brought out in these flattering sets.

Wool Georgette

The term may seem contradictory, since we are accustomed to think of georgette as filmy, transparent; but the vogue of woolen fabrics in dresses and ensembles, has set manufacturers of fabrics to devising new weaves, and this—one of the latest—is semitransparent, light in weight, and, to further conform it to fashion's decree, is both plain in color and enhanced with huge polka dots. Usually, the dots are in shades slightly larger or lighter than the ground work of the material. One can imagine the facility with which this yardage will lend itself to the forthcoming drapery of the fall and winter modes.

Silk Goes Tweedy

So dominant is the mode of tweed, that even silks are patterning after this persistent weave. Many of the new silks for the coming season are in surfaces similar to the rough tweeds which have taken the fashion world by storm. Even in coloring, these silks simulate their more sturdy sisters.

Holiday Preps

Many are taking advantage of present sales to accumulate holiday gifts, thereby effecting notable savings; and also, those forehanded are preparing in other ways. For example, Janet has purchased dozens of fine handkerchiefs for gifts and is now having these monogrammed. "Too often," said she, "have I found myself engulfed in the late rush before the holidays, vainly endeavoring to have such work done, and losing out, have lost the nice personal touch which forms the essence of the gift." Some of the larger stores will do the monogramming free, when handkerchiefs are purchased there; but this requires time, of course. Hence Janet's provident forehandedness.

Amusing

Bags for keeping the hat in condition while at the beach or mountain cabin, come in amusing doll-headed shapes. The bag, suspended from the head of the doll, has the appearance of the small person's skirt, and in its depths, the hat rests in safety. Colorful cretonnes usually serve as the protective "skirt."

Wood Inlay

Newly imported handbags, seen at that store so New Yorkish in many of its features, have frames of polished wood. Wood, always attractive, when of quality, makes an interesting frame for such bags; and especially when embellished with locks and clasps of brass or copper.

Motor-Exams

Some of the larger stores downtown are arranging to have the new motor-car license examinations given at the store. This arrangement saves time, worry and proves a great convenience to those who are busy during daytime hours and therefore unable to visit the motor license offices. Also, it must act toward safeguarding traffic, as the new license plan is designed to do.

Printed Velvets

Not only is velvet and all pile fabrics to be popular, the coming season, but printed velvets in glory colorings will serve to offset the plainer tints. For jackets, for ensemble coats, for blouses and as accents by way of bows, bands and other accessories, the printed velvets will accompany the weaves in plainer colors.

Furs Carry Coats

Many of the new coats are so befurred, that one first sees the collars and the cuffs of peltry, then later, describes the garment thereunto depended. In short the coats seem far secondary to the furs which pretend to adorn them, but which—like an actor carrying off the lesser part—wholly dominate. It cannot be denied that such befurment is exceedingly flattering to the wearer, the upstanding collars framing the face as a handsome frame offsets a picture.

Browns and Blues

Although, during the coming season, one may choose almost any color in habiliments, certain to be within the code of fashion, always there are certain colors more prevalent than all others. Browns and blues are those colors promised for the months to come. Browns in tones revived from former fashion days, and with newer shades added, or at least with new names given; blues in both the usual shades known of them and in many new brighter tints. Also, it may be noted that often the less insistent colors are enhanced by those in higher tones, but complimentary. For instance, browns will be accompanied by shades of yellow or orange; blues will commingle with their darker tones, those more bright or lighter. The accent shades will be used as bows, bands or other novel touches, to the costume, or ensemble.

Or Again

The opposite of these furry coats are those utterly innocent of fur. Strictly tailored, with plain downying collars or those upstanding with lapels closely laid against the breast, with plain cuffs, if any, these coats also serve their purpose and, doubtless will find favor quite as much as do those more elaborate creations. Especially for street and usual wear, will the unfurred coats be sought by those who like the tailorish in attire.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him care of the Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

SUNBATHING SUITS FOR CHILDREN

Due to the researches of science and the friendly publicity given by the newspapers and magazines, people have come to realize the benefits of sunshine and we, as a nation, are fortunately emerging from the "sun starved" era.

It is realized that a lack of sunshine may prevent a normal bone development in children. Rickets is a disease of winter months, dark houses, and lightproof, bundlesome clothes.

Since the sun-tanned vogue has swept from face powder to bare legs, it is to be expected that the modern bathing suits would develop into the "sun-tanned back" form. This is especially desirable for babies and young children. The modern sun-suit consists of a brief part of shorts held up over the front by porous material or a set of straps to admit the sunlight to the child's chest and back. The spine is almost entirely exposed. These can be used as play suits as well as bathing suits. The cut should be well fitting so that no chafing is experienced.

The valuable ultra-violet rays of the sunshine cannot be felt because they are not warm nor can they be seen because they are higher in the spectrum than can be observed by our eyes. The ultraviolet rays are obstructed by clouds, dust, fog, smoke, window glass and by clothing, and for these reasons a direct exposure of the skin to the sunlight is most valuable.

The exposure to the sunlight should be very gradual and of short duration at first until the skin becomes darkened. No burning should be permitted, as this is injurious to the skin, and should be avoided just as any other burn would be.

It is generally recognized that direct sunlight is superior to cod-liver oil or other foods in treating rickets. The aim should be to tan the skin, but not to burn it. The head should be protected, especially on hot days.

Hypocrates of ancient Greece recognized the value of the sun in treating disease, but this knowledge was lost during the dark ages of Europe, and rickets was common. It is not unusual to observe rickets in practically every picture painted by the old masters. The models of babies used by such masters of painting as Raphael and Da Vinci show the unmistakable square head and rib formation of rickets.

At first babies should be exposed only for about ten minutes, but this sunbath can be increased to three to five minutes daily until an exposure of an hour to the sunlight morning and evening will not be excessive.

Sunbathing may also be given in inclosed screened porches sheltered from the wind, but the sun must shine directly on the child unobstructed by glass.

Endeavor to avoid sunburn, but should this occur, a good treatment is to cover the skin with oil and use cold compresses.

Remember that the sun's rays are used in both prevention and cure of rickets and other disorders. Give your child and also yourself the benefit of these chemical sun's rays to help build up a normal resistance to all diseases.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

SHORTNESS OF BREATH

Question: Mrs. H. W. J. writes: "I suffer from shortness of breath and have for ten years. Our family doctor says it is caused from nervous indigestion. Have taken loads of medicine, but still suffer. It causes me to yawn and gives me a tired, weak feeling. Have pains around my heart and gas on my stomach."

Answer: Get rid of the gas pressure by living on the proper diet, and then take diaphragmatic breathing exercises. Any physical-culture instructor will be able to show you these exercises, or I will be glad to send you some articles I have written on this subject.

GINSENG ROOT

Q.: P. K. asks: Will you please tell me something about the medical value of the ginseng root? I have heard that the Chinese value it highly, and was informed that by taking the tea for about eighteen months my hearing could be made normal. I am a little hard of hearing."

A.: Ginseng is the root of an herb known as the panax ginseng in Asia, but a similar plant is produced in North America known as the panax quinquefolia, which has a mucilaginous substance supposed to be slightly healing when applied to abrasions. It is also supposed to be somewhat of a stimulant to the nerve and sexual centers, but I doubt very much if it has any value for restoration of hearing.

ORANGE JUICE

Q.: Mrs. F. D. asks: Is there any danger of the orange juice to be used in your Cleansing Diet Course causing any discomfort to the bladder or kidneys on account of the acid?"

A.: The citric acid of the orange juice is not eliminated by the kidneys, but is burned up internally. However, during the fast, elimination takes place so rapidly that this causes temporary irritation of the bladder until the toxins have been completely eliminated.

GUIDING YOUR CHILD

> Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.
> This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb-sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

SHOULD CHILDREN PLAY ALONE UNSUPERVISED?

Mrs. M. W. writes: "Will you please write an article some day, Mrs. Eldred, on the subject of children playing alone with other children? Give me your opinion on it. In the neighborhood where I live there are about twelve children of intelligent, educated parents. The children who try to play together range from 2 to 7. The days are never peaceful, as the quarreling is more or less persistent. My boy is 3, weighs thirty-seven pounds, thirty-eight inches tall, never sick. He has lost some of his sweetness and has become a little tough and impudent. A neighbor here believes in children playing alone or else supervised. Do you believe in kindergartens? How do you chastise impudence? For instance, he says to his father or me, 'You big dumbbell!' He gets only a light supper of cereal, sandwiches, fruit and milk, but wakens two or three times at night for a drink. Hope you can straighten me out on the play situation."

Answer: I believe in children learning to play alone and not demanding constant attention and company, and I believe likewise in their learning to play with other children of similar ages (not such a wide divergence as you indicated). The lone child is master of all he surveys and his wishes dictate. When he plays with other children, he finds out how feeble are his demands, and this give and take is essential to his well-rounded development. If children are supervised it should be unofficious. Mothers can always be in the background, so if things become too tangled they can separate the children or offer suggestions for different games and unobtrusively end the conflict. To stand over them like police makes them self-conscious as well as dependent on the supervisor. I believe nursery schools are a decided step forward in education. These are preschools and differ from kindergartens, which are part of the ordinary school plan common almost everywhere.

I don't believe in chastising a child for impudence. He has a poor idea at 3 years of the meaning of "dumbbell" or of other phrases which he picks up, and too much concern and too great a display of shock make the forbidden words just that much more entrancing. If he doesn't hear them from you, and you tell him that it displeases you to have him use so unflattering a term, he won't do it if he loves you. But don't make too great a fuss about it, or it is harder for him to forget it. Undoubtedly he hears such epithets used toward himself or the younger children, and accepts them not as insults, but as marks of affection and interest. Children indulge in silly, even vicious, phrases temporarily and come to use them more commonly if they find them agitating to their hearers; otherwise, they are dropped and forgotten. Being little "copy-cats," they are bound every now and then to utter words which astound our adult ears. But don't let them know you are astounded. Be noncommittal and indifferent and give them some new and better models to copy.

JAPANESE SOPRANO TO MAKE DEBUT HERE

Things Domestic

Sliding doors will save wall space.

Add vinegar to the rinse water if you want glassware to shine.

If you are in doubt what to serve the guests who are on a meatless diet, have chicken and waffles.

Place a sponge in the bottom of the china umbrella stand to prevent its cracking when umbrellas are dropped into it.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

MEDDLING

By Mrs. Agnes Lyne

"Hop in," Uncle Rod cried as he slowed down. "I'll take you for a spin down the river road."

"But mother expects me home by 5," Jack replied.

"That's all right; I'll explain to your mother about it. She won't care. Come along."

So Jack went and came home two hours late to meet an anxious and righteously indignant mother at the door.

Nothing is more destructive to the formation of proper habits of obedience to routine than meddling discipline. Never is meddling discipline more frequent than when the authority which controls the child is distributed among numerous adults.

Uncles and aunts, grandfathers and grandmothers confer no favor when they take advantage of their position in the family to make and break the rules of the child's life.

Children have so much to learn that there should be as little confusion as possible about the process. Father and mother are authority enough. Even they must take pains to present a united front if the child is not to suffer.

When uncle promises to explain away an infraction of the rules and auntie gives permission to do something that mother never allows the child's world becomes chaotic.

At the risk of offending them, make it plain to your relatives that they must never interfere. If they are really fond of your child they will understand why you make the request. Let them be playmates and friends, but let authority reside only in you.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

The Night Before

It takes quite a while to prepare the orange juice for the family breakfast and perhaps the best way is to squeeze and strain the oranges the night before and place the juice in a covered glass jar close to the ice. It will be nice and cold by morning and will not interfere with breakfast's progress when one is pressed for time.

In the Library

Forget Not the Lids

Don't forget to wash the lids as well as the cooking utensils themselves, as the odor of one dish is likely to cling to a lid and cause it to spoil a second dish.

GALUSHA COLE HONORED TODAY

Thousands Bidden to Birthday Fete

Centenarian and Natal Day Cake
Annual feat of baker's skill weighs 100 pounds and is yard high.

PASADENA, Aug. 14. — "Galusha Cole day" will be observed in this city tomorrow when more than 5000 persons are expected to attend the "Grand Old Man's" 103rd birthday party at Memorial and Tournament parks.

At 2 p.m. a formal program of music and short speeches will open at Memorial Park. Thomas D. Allin will preside and the birthday address will be given by Dr. E. E. Helms, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Los Angeles. Prof. R. L. Daugherty, acting City Manager, will bring Cole birthday greetings from the city of Pasadena.

COLE WILL RESPOND

Greetings will also be spoken on behalf of local business men, churches, fraternal orders, newspapers and the State of Indiana.

After "Greetings from an Old Friend," are delivered by D. H. Harris, the centenarian will respond with "Greetings from the Boys of 1826." Cole was born in Pomfort, Ct., August 15, 1826.

At 3 p.m., "the real party," as the honor guest termed it today, will be held at Tournament Park under the auspices of the Indiana Colony, which represents the original white settlers of Pasadena. Robert E. Clee is chairman of the arrangements committee.

Cole's birthday cake measures thirty inches high and weighs 100 pounds. All of his friends, and that means the entire population of 80,000 persons, have been invited to bring basket suppers to Tournament Park and to eat at least a sliver of the cake.

SHIELD TO BE GIVEN

Just before the cake is cut, Chief of Police Charles H. Kelley will pin a police captain's shield to Cole's coat.

Miss Irene Wilbur, whose culinary art is said to have contributed to the fact that Cole has not consulted a physician for the last twelve years, revealed this afternoon that the centenarian's 103rd birthday breakfast will consist of coffe, bacon and eggs and "a few pancakes with gravy."

"Mr. Cole likes the pancakes best, but I don't let him have more than two at a time," said Miss Wilbur.

Michigan Solon Inspects Army Posts from Air

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 14.—On an aerial inspection tour of Army posts and Army air stations in the United States and American posts from this country to Panama, Congressman W. Frank James of Michigan, chairman of the military-affairs committee of the House of Representatives, was a San Diego visitor today. Congressman James arrived late yesterday from the east in a Ford trimotored Fokker plane piloted by Capt. Harry A. Dinger, landed at Rockwell Field and is to remain here until Saturday afternoon when he proceeds north.

Congressman James's visit this week marks the third successive year that he has inspected Army activities at San Diego. He was careful to explain today that the present trip is not an "air tour," but rather a trip on which he is making minute inspection of approximately forty-five Army posts.

When questioned as to whether or not the Army service would continue to maintain a base at Rockwell Field, Congressman James declared that he had nothing to say on the matter at present.

STATE FOREST PLAN VETOED

Foresters from Sixteen Cities Pass Resolution

Government Offer to Turn Over Parks Opposed

Loss of Millions Would Soon Ensue, Warning Given

AZUSA, Aug. 14.—Proposed State forest and park control introduced to the members of the Angeles Forest Protective Association in session last night at the San Gabriel dam site, met with the unanimous disapproval of the assembly of foresters.

The proposition submitted by the government, embodies an agreement that the State take over all government forest lands and parks, constituting some 19,000,000 acres of land. As the government now appropriates $3,125,000 for the maintenance of forests and parks in California, and as the revenues derived by the State from the issuance of fire permits and from other sources does not exceed $1,000,000, of which 35 per cent is allotted to the State for roads and 15 per cent for the expenses of collecting the revenues, all that would be left in the treasury to maintain the State forests and parks would be approximately $500,000, or $2,625,000 less than the government appropriation. The difference would have to be appropriated by the State and would be a gigantic undertaking, at the present time, according to the foresters.

Sixteen cities of the San Gabriel Valley were represented at the forest meet, and such executives as Judge Cruison of Santa Monica, head of the legislative body committee on county conservation; H. C. Pratt of the State Forestry Board, E. C. Eaton, county flood-control engineer; William V. Mendenhall, Angeles Forest Supervisor; E. Morris, superintendent of the Pasadena Water Department; George Cecil, chairman of the parks and playgrounds committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, were present.

C. E. Groninger of Glendora, secretary of the protective association, was instructed to forward a copy of the resolution disapproving of the State forest control, to the State department.

At the completion of the work, which is estimated to cost $10,000, alternative routes to the coast road near Carpinteria can be selected as the rights of way are obtained, the board decided.

Bert Calvert, contractor for the seventeen-mile section at the northern end of the new route now under construction, explained to the board that he would need a two-months extension of time to complete his work.

Consideration of the six-mile strip from Cuyama River to the top of the Pine Mountain, which will be the next contract on the road, was taken up and the board was informed that the surveying work is now under way there.

Mrs. Frances Rice Given Divorce; Her Assailant Gets Jail Sentence

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 14.—Mrs. Frances Rice, 22 years of age, whose husband shot her April 17 last, today was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce custody of her two children and award of $40 monthly for their support, while Ernest Rice, 44, the husband, was lodged in the County Jail to begin a net sentence of six months for the shooting.

Visiting Judge F. M. Jamison of Modoc county, who heard Rice's plea of guilty to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, pronounced a two-year jail sentence against the defendant but suspended eighteen months on primise of future good behavior.

When bound over from Township Court to stand trial in Superior Court, Rice had been charged with assault to murder, but the accusation of murderous intent was stricken from the complaint subsequently by the District Attorney's office. Rice then changed his former plea of "not guilty" to "guilty" and was arraigned for sentence.

The shooting occurred on the Inland highway where it passes through Fallbrook, northernmost community in the county and home of the couple. It happened shortly after nightfall when Rice accosted his wife in front of the telephone exchange at Fallbrook.

Kelly was best dog in the Pasadena show with 700 entries, best bulldog at Pacific Coast specialty show, Pasadena, best bulldog and best nonsporting at the Long Beach show one year ago.

Small Girl Sets Out to Join Father in Nebraska and Trudges as Far as Monrovia Before Constable Uncle Finds Her With Little Boy Comrade

MONROVIA, Aug. 14.—"Well, you see it took my father only four days to travel from California to Wallace, Neb., where he is now, and I thought that I could walk there in at least eight days," 13-year-old Marguerite McIntire of Long Beach explained to Constable James Quiggle and Deputy Constable Ross Woodland last night after she had been found behind the Bank of Italy Building at Orange and Myrtle avenues.

Accompanying her on the adventure was 10-year-old Bud Purbaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Purbaugh of this city.

Marguerite told the officers that she had left her home in Long Beach yesterday at 10 a.m. and had walked the entire distance to Monrovia, arriving here at 6 p.m.

"I am perfectly safe walking, as I never accept rides from strangers," she explained.

The story begins with the fact that she doesn't like Long Beach, having moved there with her mother last week. Before moving to the beach city they lived on King street here and it was Marguerite's first thought when she arrived in this city to visit the Purbaugh family. She induced her playmate, Buddy, to accompany her on the hike east to visit her father.

The officers returned the boy to his home and gave Marguerite into the custody of her aunt, Mrs. Freeman Washburn of North Myrtle avenue, to await the arrival of her mother from Long Beach.

Marguerite addressed Constable Quiggle as "Uncle Jimmy" as he happens to be distantly related to the little runaway.

"I think that I could have made the trip in eight days had you not stopped me, but anyway I am glad to see you, Uncle Jimmy," the little girl sobbed on Quiggle's shoulder.

HEN HATCHES TRAVELOGUE

Prominent Club Woman Takes Chicken on Upland Tour; Fowl Play Feared

UPLAND, Aug. 14.—Proudly perched atop Mrs. Una R. Winter's automobile, a hen from the F. H. Manker home enjoyed a sight seeing tour of this city, and was returned to her pen, a wiser, but widely traveled biddy.

While Mrs. Winter was visiting at the Manker home the hen perched on top of her car. Unaware of her passenger, Mrs. Winter drove to the business district and parked her car.

So many eyes were turned to the car top that Mrs. Winter also looked. Perceiving the nonchalant fowl, the prominent club woman immediately drove back to the Manker place and returned biddy to her regular roost.

BOARDING PRISONERS SAVES CASH

Imperial County Jail Runs Its Own Refectory Instead of Paying Sheriff

EL CENTRO, Aug. 14.—Imperial county saved $1400 during July by operating its own prison boarding house instead of paying the Sheriff 20 cents a meal for food served at the County Jail, according to the statement of Dist.-Atty Elmer Heald today.

Sheriff Charles Gillett received 20 cents a meal from the county and 75 cents a day for Federal prisoners until the county grand jury several months ago indicted him for asserted failure to turn the profits on the meals over to the County Treasurer. Since then the county has operated its kitchen on a cost basis and Heald's figures indicate that it has been highly profitable.

Gillett is awaiting a second trial, the jury in the first trial having failed to agree as to his guilt.

Reckless Driving Ends Grid Fame

GLENDALE, Aug. 14.—The football career of W. W. Monroe of the Oregon State College team has been definitely ended as a result of injuries he received here on July 22, when the car that he was driving crashed into a police automobile containing Officers Skyberg and Trowbridge. Monroe's breast bone was broken.

He told Police Judge F. H. Lowe today that his physician tells him he will never play football again. In addition to that Monroe paid out $500 for his own hospital bills and medical attention and a similar amount for repairs to the police car, and topped it off by paying a $50 fine in Judge Lowe's court on a reckless-driving charge.

Reseda Seeks High School

RESEDA, Aug. 14.—Members of the local Chamber of Commerce and other residents here have submitted a petition to the Los Angeles Board of Education asking that a high school be erected in this section of San Fernando Valley. Pupils of high-school age are forced to attend the high schools at Owensmouth and Van Nuys, towns adjoining on the west and east, respectively.

Within the last two or three years there has been a large growth in the Reseda, Tarzana and North Los Angeles (formerly Zelzah) areas, and the petition states there are enough pupils to warrant the construction of the school.

VAN NUYS CAT USES LURE TO GET BIRDS

VAN NUYS, Aug. 14.—Nick Kinzer of Valerio street has a cat that has eaten up all the mice, rats and gophers on the place and is now starting in on the birds. According to Kinzer, the cat goes to a garbage pail and selects a small piece of watermelon rind, which it places where the birds will see it. Then the cat crouches near. When the bird comes to get the rind the cat gets the bird. Kinzer is now countering with a scheme to make the cat leave the songsters alone.

ONTARIO AFTER CLASS-A PORT

Mass Meeting Deplores Weed Crop on Local Field

Ways and Means for Getting on Air Map Urged

Five Aviation Authorities Spur on Citizens

ONTARIO, Aug. 14.—Spurred on by the encouragement of five Los Angeles aviation authorities, local leaders today were seeking ways and means for providing a first-class airport, and getting back on the Southland's map of aviation.

At a mass meeting of air-minded citizens at American Legion Hall last night, the Los Angeles authorities reminded Ontario that it will be a "place in the sticks" as long as it permits its airport to be a garden of weeds. The speakers at the mass meeting were Daniel G. Hay, builder of airports; H. R. Greatwood of the aviation department of the Union Oil Company and member of the airports committee of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce; Stuart S. Goode of the Airport Construction and Management Magazine; Norton S. Sanders, vice-president and general manager of Sanders Air Service at Metropolitan Airport, and W. R. Balsom, general manager for the public relations service of the Western Air Express.

Local speakers were Walter V. Combs, commander of the local American Legion Post; W. B. Spencer, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; Mayor Francis P. Williams, Jack Davis of the Legion airport committee, and Attorney A. D. Mitchell. The local speakers deplored the community's lassitude in permitting the present air field to become infested with weeds and sand dunes.

SANTA PAULA COUNCIL DEMANDS CHEAPER AIRPORT

SANTA PAULA, Aug. 14.—The local Chamber of Commerce plans for a city airport looked less bright today when the City Council, sitting as a board of equalization, refused to take action on the matter until the prices on two sites offered had been cut materially. The chamber aviation committee recently submitted a resolution to the Council asking them to purchase a site immediately.

Dr. Michelson to Postpone His Work for Time

PASADENA, Aug. 14.—Discovering that he will not be able to complete his experiments with the velocity of light this year, Dr. Albert A. Michelson, head of the University of Chicago physics department, will leave this city for Chicago Saturday night on the California Limited, he revealed today.

Dr. Michelson returned to the Hotel Maryland from Laguna unexpectedly today following an inspection of the Irvine ranch site for the installation of his experimental apparatus.

"Yesterday we inspected the site where the appartus is to be installed," he said, "but it will be impossible to complete the necessary work there in the near future, so I shall return to Chicago and come back next year, probably in June. Thomas O'Donnel, my assistant at the University of Chicago, will remain here for the next month. He and F. G. Pease of the Mt. Wilson Observatory, will do the preliminary work in my absence.

TWO COUNTS AGAINST COMMUNISTS' CAMP

REDLANDS, Aug. 14.—The court of Judge C. G. Potter will be a busy place tomorrow when the eight Communists arrested when the children's camp in upper Yucaipa was raided last week are given a hearing on two counts.

Judge Potter will first hear the charge of operating a summer camp without a license. This is a misdemeanor and it is reported that the eight defendants will perhaps plead guilty to this as a jury trial has been waived. Later in the day the charge of using a red flag to denote opposition to organized government will be heard. This is a felony charge and if the court finds the evidence sufficient the defendants will be bound over to the Superior Court.

NORTH HOLLYWOOD YOUTH VANISHES

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 14. James E. Davis, Sr., local newspaper man, has asked police and others to help locate his son, James E. Davis, Jr., 19 years of age, who is missing from his home here. The father states his son is not a youth who would willfully stay away and of his own accord and expresses fear for his safety.

JUDGE MAY VOID HIS ORDER

Superior Court Jurist Wires Attorney-General Opinion That He Erred in Granting Right of Way

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 14.—That he may void his order of the 9th inst. for a right of way from the State highway through the valuable Elwood oil field to the beach on the ground that he had erred, was the substance of a telegram dispatched to Atty.-Gen. Webb in Sacramento by Superior Judge Frank C. Collier.

After relating that he had signed the order giving the State immediate possession of the land sought to be condemned, Judge Collier told the State official in his telegram that he was of the present opinion that his order was void, inasmuch as his order did not specify the amount due each owner of land, although it did on the amount due the landowners collectively. He also questioned in the telegram whether the State's original complaint states a cause of action in that he said it was doubtful whether the land sought to be condemned is for a public use as distinguished from a public benefit. Before he voids his order, however, Judge Collier explained that he would give the State until 10 a.m. tomorrow to present authorities on the question.

THE RETURN OF TARZAN

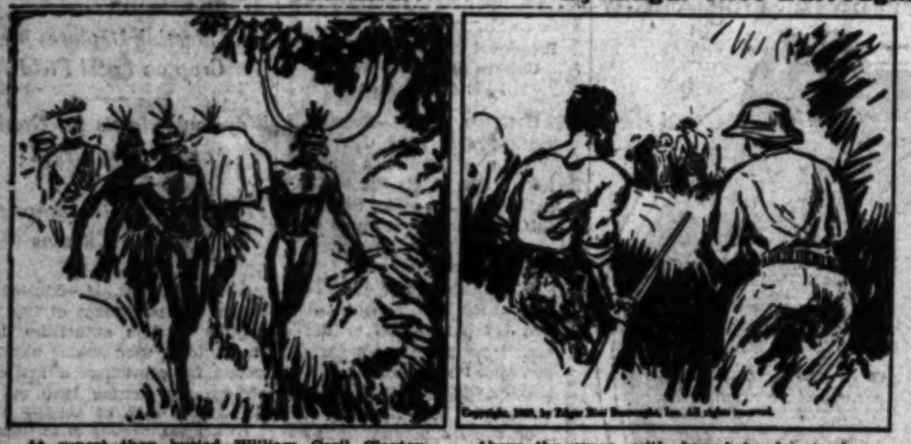
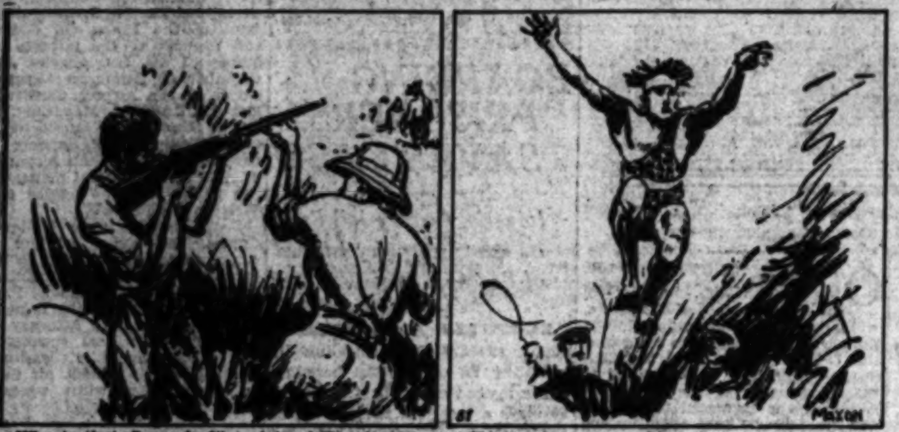
By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Copyright, 1929, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.

At sunset they buried William Cecil Clayton beside the jungle graves of his uncle and his aunt, the former Lord and Lady Greystoke. And it was at Tarzan's request that three volleys were fired over the last resting-place of "a brave man, who met his death bravely." Jane's father, who in his younger days had been ordained a minister, conducted the simple services.

Above the grave, with bowed heads, stood as strange a company of mourners as ever the sun's last rays beamed upon. There were French officers and sailors, Englishmen and Americans, a score of savage African braves, and the towering figure of Tarzan of the Apes. It was this scene that Lord Tennington and "Thuran" beheld as they came through the jungle.



Who is that, I wonder?" exclaimed Tennington to "Monsieur Thuran." The little company were walking slowly toward the camp now, Tarzan talking with the captain of the cruiser. As "Thuran" raised his eyes at the question, and saw the lithe, brown giant, he staggered and went white. It seemed impossible to him, yet there stood the object of his long hatred, Tarzan himself.

The ape-man was asking the captain to delay the sailing of the cruiser a couple of days while he went inland a few miles to fetch "his belongings," and the officer gladly granted the favor. At this moment a yell came from the jungle. There was a flash of fire, the report of a gun, and a bullet intended for Tarzan's heart whizzed through the air.

CLARA BOW WILL TRAVEL ABROAD

Actress Likely to Star in "Zaza" and "Sans-Gene;" John Loder Will Play Romantic Lead in Fox Film; Irene Palasty Loaned to United Artists

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Hard working young actress that she is, Clara Bow feels that she is entitled to a vacation, and it is understood that Paramount has agreed to allow the star to take a two months' vacation, during which she expects to go to Europe. This will happen in October.

Asked whether she expected to marry Harry Richman at that time, she said: "Oh, I don't know. It is possible I will retire from the screen entirely when I marry. The world probably expects Clara Bow to be divorced within a short time after marriage, but I really take marriage very seriously. I want to think about it for some time before doing it, and when I do marry I want to make a success of it. It is hard for an actress to make a home."

Clara's brown eyes took on the deep color of seriousness, and she puckered her brow seriously. In the meantime she is all enthusiasm about the projected European trip.

"I've been working so hard that I am stale," she said, "and I think that to get out and see the world will be wonderful. I shall get fresh viewpoints. Of course, I shall want to see Paris and Berlin and London."

Miss Bow intimated that it was possible that her fiance might meet her abroad, if his work permitted.

But there are still a picture or two to do before she goes away. Her next one, according to present plans, will be "Blackjack," a story in which she will play a girl of the waterfronts in a harbor city.

So extraordinary do Paramount officials consider Miss Bow's wide range of acting talents that they are following the policy of placing her in alternate comedy and dramatic roles. "Blackjack" is to reveal her as daughter of a seaman.

And now for a surprising bit of news. It is possible that Clara Bow, and not Ruth Chatterton, will star in "Zaza," according to authentic report, although there is no official announcement yet ready to make. The picture would be an all-color, all-talking production. There is a question, however, that Miss Bow may be considered too young for the role.

"Madame Sans-Gene," that classic in which so many actresses have shone, is likely to be made with Miss Bow as star, we also learned.

This is a role which should suit Miss Bow amazingly, as it would give free play both to her comedy and dramatic powers. "Sans-Gene" will be a Technicolor, all-talking picture, and will have a lavish production.

Helene Millard With Novarro

If you remember Helene Millard as the cold-hearted miss in Edward Everett Horton's production of "Streets of New York," it is quite likely that you will be interested in following this young actress' career in the movies.

Having signed with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Miss Millard made such a hit with her role in "The Thirteenth Chair," that she has been assigned by M.-G.-M. to play one of the two feminine leads, that of the Countess, in the new Ramon Novarro vehicle, temporarily titled "The Battle of the Ladies."

The other feminine lead of this production has been assigned by Director Sidney Franklin to Dorothy Jordan, the little musical-comedy favorite who also has been highly successful in talking pictures.

JOHN LODER PLAYS LEAD IN FOX FILM

JOHN LODER

After various vicissitudes in his professional career, John Loder seems to have come to anchor, temporarily at least, at the Fox studios. And there is a possibility we learn, that he may be signed by that organization on a long-term contract.

In the meantime Loder has been signed to play the romantic male lead in George Jessel's new starring vehicle, "Hurdy-Gurdy Man."

Loder was brought from England under contract to Paramount after Jesse L. Lasky had seen him over in London. He appeared on the stage and screen in England, and he also played in a couple of U.F.A. pictures.

As a youth, Loder went to school with Prince George of England. He was of aristocratic family, but was early ambitious to adopt a profession.

He was in the World War, attaining the military degree of captain and distinguished himself.

Irene Palasty at United Artists

When Harry Richman goes to work for United Artists in his first talking picture for that concern, he will have an important supporting cast, with Joan Bennett as his leading lady, as heretofore announced.

Another featured feminine role, about equal in acting opportunities to that assigned Miss Bennett, we hear, will be enacted by Irene Palasty, the noted Hungarian singer and actress, who holds the record of having sung the leading part in "No, No, Nanette," in various capitals of Europe, no less than 650 times.

Miss Palasty has been loaned by Fox, to whom she is under contract, to United Artists for this production.

Betty Lawford Has Lasky Lead

CLIVE BROOK

No less fascinating an actress than Betty Lawford is to have the feminine lead in "The Return of Sherlock Holmes," which Basil Dean is now directing for Paramount at that company's Long Island studios.

Miss Lawford is to play opposite Phillips Holmes, juvenile lead, these two forming the love interest in the picture.

Wallace MacDonald With Tiffany

As soon as Wallace MacDonald finishes his current role with Paramount in "Darkened Rooms" he will return to Tiffany-Stahl, where that organization is in the throes of making dialogue and sound for "Painted Faces," a production made by them a few months ago, and which they are outfitting with the up-to-date talking trimmings.

MacDonald essayed the leading male role in the picture, with Helen Foster opposite, and other players of note in the cast.

Millard Webb Remains Here

Despite a lot of flattering offers made him in New York, Millard Webb has set his heart on remaining in the West.

The director's first Hollywood sound film, "Broadway Hostess," is being completed this week, and he has already signed on the dotted line for another feature. Due to story difficulties, the name of the story cannot be given out at this time.

Al Rockett to Europe

Having almost completely recovered from his recent nervous breakdown, Al Rockett, who has been convalescing at Malibu Beach, is planning a trip to Europe, accompanied by his wife.

In case they leave, the trip will be taken about the middle of September.

Rockett has severed connections with First National, and so far has made no new business affiliations.

Leatrice Joy's Reasons

The reasons why Leatrice Joy and First National came recently to the parting of the ways have been discovered.

LEATRICE JOY

It had been understood, says Miss Joy, that definite time was to be given her for various enterprises in which she was interested.

"But First National could give me no definite dates, nor any satisfaction regarding starting and finishing time for my pictures, so we both decided that the original arrangement was impractical and that it would be best to call off the whole contract," said Miss Joy.

COOK RITES CONDUCTED

Funeral services were conducted at the Little Church of the Flowers yesterday for Charles A. Cook, retired New Jersey manufacturer, who died Monday at his home, 1414 North Spaulding avenue. Interment was at Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Mr. Cook, who was 67 years of age, came to Los Angeles in 1920. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Jennie S. Cook, and two sons, Charles W. and Harold F. Cook.

SHOPPING along HOLLYWOOD BOULEVARD "STYLE CENTER OF THE WORLD"

By
YVONNE of Hollywood

The "Chicago Swirl," newest and loveliest of all waves, is given only at the Ida Bell Beauty Shoppe, 6705 Hollywood Blvd., in a permanent, marcel or finger wave. GL. 1598.

It is strange, perhaps, nonetheless true, that in selecting perfumes, errors are committed more often than in any other field of adornment. The reason, mayhap, is because nothing more subtly, nothing more poignantly, expresses the true personality of a woman as the scent of her. It is the experience of experts that women frequently choose the direct opposite of the type of scent they best harmonize with. This is natural: they instinctively select that which expresses the personality of their most compatible associates. For example a brunette may be fond of violet whereas a scent in which rose is predominant, is generally speaking much more expressive of the brunette type. On the other hand, the blonde should avoid rose and heavy oriental fragrances, choosing rather the dainty flower odors.

When traveling, one's luggage is always in the limelight. Create a favorable impression by having it refinished before your trip, at the Bohlin Co., 1610½ N. Cahuenga. Silver replating is also a specialty.

Just right for early fall wear are those good-looking three-piece knit ensembles at the Knit Shop, 6648½ Hollywood Blvd. They may be had in all the new shades and are priced at $19.75.

It was Barrie who said that "charm is a thing that grows on a woman." That is true enough, as far as it goes, but not all of a woman's charm grows upon her: some of it is acquired, which is as it should be. No woman is so charming but that she can be made more so by skillful adorning. Her loveliness must be accompanied by a harmonious symphony of related things, which diffuse a radiance of that subtle something known as her personality. The intelligent woman recognizes this and seeks the cooperation of the trained artist in each line of endeavor—the milliner, the modiste, the beautician and the parfumeur.

Carelessly groomed hair is taboo! A Croquignole permanent, will banish those stringy ends and costs only $5, at the Studio Beauty Shop, 1679 N. Western. HO. 9248.

Glove makers also seem to be preparing for a "velvet" season, for some of the new gauntlet models have incrustations of velvet or velvet cuffs on kid.

The popularity of the Pig'n Whistle cafes can only be attributed to their many superior features—good food, excellent cuisine and an atmosphere of quiet elegance combined with beautiful surroundings. It is coincident that wherever one finds a high-class clientele, one also finds a Pig'n Whistle. Hollywood Blvd. boasts three of these famous cafes which cater to popular demand.

Gray has ever been the next favored color to black with the true Parisienne and is worn by her at all times irrespective of the whims of the season. American women have always regarded gray more or less as a shade to be avoided by all except the radiantly youthful person or the very old. The secret of success in wearing gray becomingly lies in the makeup. A peached toned powder blended over a pale creamy base with very little rouge except for the lips will give the skin that faint transparent glow which will permit one to wear even the most difficult shades of gray.

A picturesque frock is developed in palest blue tulle, with appliques of blue chiffon stitched in silver, adding fabric contrast. The wide flounce trailing on the floor is effective, contrasting with the slenderness of line maintained in the bodice.

Lured thither by the seductive odors of rare perfumes, one enters Gerly's Perfume Shop, 6705 Hollywood Blvd., chiefly because one feels an irresistible desire to have one's personality expressed "a la perfume." It is all done very scientifically and costs no more to have one's own fascinating blend perfected, than to choose in a haphazard manner, a scent, which appeals perhaps for the moment.

Going away to college for the first time, a freshman is confronted with the problem of choosing a simple though swanky wardrobe, which will meet the approval of her superior sophomore sisters. Some of the essentials are listed as follows—A topcoat of tweed or homespun, a cardigan suit of jersey. Two or three simple wool frocks. Several pullover sweaters and blouses of plain or printed crepe. For informal house dances and teas, crepe dresses and a simple dark velvet to add variety. Several evening frocks in chiffon, velvet, tulle or taffeta with a simple velvet wrap constitute a well rounded list for the average college girl. A certain amount of latitude may be displayed in the choice of accessories such as shoes, hose, gloves, jewelry, scarves, etc., though simplicity should be the watchword as well as a careful conformity to the ensemble idea.

NEW COURT JOBS GIVEN TO QUINTET

Commissioners Will Make Things Easier for Judges of Superior Tribunal

Five court commissioners went to work yesterday, according to provisions of a new law, making lives easier for certain judges of the Superior Court.

Because judges must do many things besides hear lawyers talk and calm the disquieted nerves of flustered witnesses, there is much detailed work connected with the alimony court, and the divorce court, and the "law and motion" court, and the receivership and injunction court. They are things clerks can do, and for several years past have been doing, as well as a judge.

But due to the legal importance of the matters involved, the judicial commission recommended that the Legislature create a new office known as "court commissioner" with a salary of $4800 a year. And the Legislature did so, stipulating that all court commissioners be attorneys.

Marshall Cruze, Larry Doyle, Kurtz Kaufman, Florence Bischoff and Clemmence O. Betty were appointed by the judicial commission to the five jobs. Doyle and Cruze formerly were court clerks, who took bar examinations. The others were practicing attorneys. Doyle is assigned to the domestic relations department, Kauffman to injunctions and receiverships, Cruze in the department of the presiding judge, and Miss Bischoff and Miss Betty in the probate department.

Personnel Men Organize Here

At a special meeting last night in the Chamber of Commerce Building it was announced that the Personnel and Employment Managers' Association of Southern California has distributed membership certificates and is ready to start functioning. The purpose of the association it was stated, is to create an organization that will unite for mutual assistance those in charge of the personnel and employment work of the various companies in Southern California.

One of the plans of the association is to allow educators and instructors in the various schools to become associate members, thus giving those in charge of educating the future business man or woman an opportunity to take part in discussing the problems of the employer.

Another Dollar Sent to Family

Dollar No. 3 found its way to The Times yesterday as a contribution to the mother and three children whom police found destitute recently after arrival here from Amarillo, Tex., and whom they brought to public attention by contributing a $50 fund toward their relief.

This dollar came in the form of a check from Eleanor P. Filley of 626 Chaucer avenue, San Marino, and was accompanied only by the mute explanation contained in a Times' clipping telling of the family's plight. It had been preceded on previous days by the receipt of two of Uncle Sam's new dollar bills, sent in the same cause.

ATTORNEY RUNS LUNCH ROOM

Attorney R. Dean Warner yesterday began operating a lunch counter at Third and Central streets, on behalf of the three orphan children of Gerhard Engell, shot and killed by an insane man last Saturday. Superior Judge Fleming gave Attorney Warner letters of administration for Engell's $30,000 estate, which included the lunch room.

Producers' Reply Equity Awaiting to Last Demand

Further conference on the attempt of the Actors' Equity Association to make Hollywood "Equity shop" depends on the attitude of the Association of Motion-Picture Producers, it was admitted yesterday at Equity headquarters.

A formal reply to a letter to the producers notifying them of the action of Frank Gillmore, president of the actors, in having adopted a resolution demanding 80 per cent Equity casts in films is being awaited by Gillmore. The letter was dispatched following a meeting last Saturday night when the Equity members voted and passed Gillmore's resolution. The 80 per cent casts plan already has been rejected by the film representatives.

It was declared yesterday that there will be no further negotiations or attempts at negotiations until formal reply to the letter is received by Equity.

AUTOISTS ARRESTED AND MORPHINE SEIZED

Captured with $500 worth of morphine yesterday, Felix Seerman, 34 years of age, a salesman of 2943 West Eleventh street, and Henry Burdick, 48, who lives at a hotel, were booked on charges of possessing narcotics in violation of the State Poison Act. The two men were captured in an automobile near Saugus en route from San Francisco, by Detective Captain Segar and Detective Lieutenants Bosshardt and Smith. They confiscated $500 worth of morphine and a hypodermic set. Seerman was held in $10,000 bail and Burdick in $5000 for preliminary hearing Monday in Division Three, Municipal Court.

Nineteen Will Get Diplomas in Summer School

Ten girls and nine boys will receive high-school diplomas as members of the only summer graduating class in the city tomorrow at 10:30 a.m. in the music auditorium of Los Angeles High School.

The students will receive their diplomas following the class address by Hanford Scribner, and faculty remarks by Katherine Carey, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of the summer session.

DOUBLE KILLING FINDINGS MADE

Goerner's Plan to Slay Girl Comes to Light

Instead, He Shot Mother in Jealous Frenzy

Man Also Was Wanted for Valley Murders

An examination yesterday of the rooms and effects of Antone F. Goerner, who killed Mrs. Ella Carnes in her apartment at Twelfth and Hill streets Tuesday, and then died by his own hand, revealed, according to a police report, not only that the murderer-suicide was wanted in connection with a two-year-old double slaying, but also that originally he had singled out Mrs. Carnes's daughter, Ruth, as his victim-to-be.

The fact that the 20-year-old daughter had been marked for death came to light in a note, which was one of three found in Goerner's rooms at 216 West Twenty-third street by Detective-Lieutenant Sterritt of Georgia-street division.

Addressed to Mrs. Carnes, with whom he had been infatuated and who in the end became the target of the fatal bullet, the note announced it was Goerner's intention to kill the daughter as his means of revenge for the mother's spurning of him. Police now believe Goerner changed his mind in a moment of love-crazed fury, sparing the girl and shooting down Mrs. Carnes when she told him her husband was returning here to be reconciled with her.

Another note was addressed to Ruth, but it merely reviewed the man's love for her mother and his distress over her decision to return to wedded life with her husband. A third note was addressed to the Bank of America and asked that Goerner's account be bequeathed to the Orphans' Home at San Diego.

Goerner's connection with a double murder was recalled to Detective-Lieutenant Sterritt, he said, by a perusal of miscellaneous papers among his effects, fixing his residence as the Imperial Valley. Sterritt remembered that after two men, one of whom was known as Phil Gibson, had been killed in a drunken brawl at Calipatria in 1927, the Imperial Valley authorities asked local police to search for Goerner. The search was fruitless, however, and the murder was docketed as unsolved.

When Captain of Detectives Slaten learned of Sterritt's suspicions yesterday he telephoned to Dist.-Atty. Held of Imperial county, who confirmed Sterritt's belief that Goerner was the man who had been wanted there as the killer.

Goerner's papers also disclosed, according to Sterritt, that he derived an annual income of $2700 from stocks and bonds.

C. C. PLYE PAYS $584 MORE

With payment yesterday of $584 by C. C. Pyle, transcontinental bunion derby promoter, in partial settlement of labor claims against him, City Prosecutor Nix deferred for ten days any action against the promoter.

The payment was made to the office of the State Labor Bureau for services performed by Cleo Balcom, leader of the girls' band which accompanied the cross-country runners. Within the ten-day period, Pyle expects to settle the balance of the claims against him, he intimated.

SANTA JUST MYTH TO KIN OF CONVICT

Claimants of Estate of ex-Felon Told "Boone's" Money Given Real Heirs

Persons claiming to be relatives of James Boone, ex-convict who left a $6000 estate without telling his attorney, James Hosick, who his relatives were, may as well stop their pilgrimages to Mr. Hosick's office.

"I have located the relatives of my client and have settled with them," said the attorney yesterday. "So the State of California will not be in a position to claim the property after the legal time limit has elapsed.

"The amusing thing about it all is that most of the so-called relatives who approached me claimed to be related to a Mr. Boone. That wasn't by client's real name—he assumed it after he left prison to make a new start."

Attorney Hosick, when he was a police detective, arrested Boone under another name and prosecuted him for highway robbery. After serving six years, Boone was discharged, to find that his wife, who sued him for divorce, had been killed in an auto accident before the divorce was granted. After changing his name Boone went to work and accumulated property worth $6000 before his death a few weeks ago.

MOVING OF UNIVERSITY EXPEDITED

Time Expected for Task of Transportation Reduced by Efficient Handling

The University of California at Los Angeles, now moving from its Vermont-avenue campus to its new campus in West Los Angeles, is establishing a record for speed in moving, it is believed. Under the leadership of Alfred E. Davie, superintendent of grounds and buildings, the moving has been highly organized, and is being carried through with precision.

The moving of the university was expected to cover a period of a week or ten days. Instead, the major portion was completed in two days, and the entire task could have been completed on the third day had it not been that the administrative offices were required to remain at the Vermont campus until tomorrow.

The move started last Saturday and on that day ninety large truckloads were transferred to the new campus. Monday an additional thirty loads were taken. An estimated fifteen loads remain to be taken.

Emergency Tax Plan Adopted by Harbor Board

At the suggestion of a special committee from the Los Angeles Steamship Association, the Harbor Commission yesterday adopted as an emergency measure an order placing a tax on all pipe allowed to remain in streets or other areas adjacent to harbor department property, in a thirty-day test to see whether it will solve the congestion problem caused by the piling of pipe or other cargo behind wharves.

The tax is to be 25 cents a ton on cargo left in such areas more than forty-eight hours after it has been discharged from a vessel and 10 cents additional for every twenty-four hours thereafter.

Those attending the conference yesterday were Fred A. Hooper, manager of the American-Hawaiian Line; J. H. Joyce, manager for the Norton & Lilly Company, and R. C. Ellis, manager for the Transmarine Lines.

Canadians Plan Picnic Sunday

The Casino Gardens at Ocean Park will be transformed into a miniature Dominion of Canada on Sunday when the annual midsummer Canadian picnic reunion under the auspices of the Canadian Society of Southern California and its affiliated British organizations will be held. Thousands of former Canadians, other British and their American friends, besides hundreds of tourists from all parts of the British Empire, will attend.

Canadians will be welcomed by the Mayor, City Council, Chamber of Commerce and Business Men's Club of Ocean Park. The municipal band will play from 2 to 4 p.m., and in the Casino Gardens Lou Singer and his orchestra, augmented by Larry Walden and his Canadian band, will entertain from 3 p.m. to midnight.

Col. A. G. Fonseca, president; Fred J. Holley, secretary, assisted by members of the ladies' auxiliary, will be in charge.

SHE BECOMES BRIDE IN QUIET CEREMONIES

Mrs. Fred Le Blond, Jr.

BACHELORS' CLUB GIVES UP MEMBER

Before a small assemblage of relatives and very close friends, Mrs. Ruth Gordon Busch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Gordon, became the bride at high noon yesterday of Fred Le Blond, Jr., of 135 North Mansfield Road. Rev. Hugh Walker of the First Presbyterian Church officiated in the family home at 365 South June street, which for the occasion was decorated with dahlias, delphinium, asters, ferns and palms carrying out a scheme of orchid, yellow and blue, with an improvised altar and tall cathedral candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in pale green crepe with which she wore a matching hat and a corsage of orchids and lilies of the valley. Her only attendant was her sister, Miss Louise Gordon, who wore beige crepe with the matching hat, and a harmonizing corsage of Madame Drew roses.

A wedding breakfast followed the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Le Blond left for a month's motor trip in the north. Upon their return they will reside temporarily at 365 South June street, while their own home is being prepared.

Mrs. Le Blond formerly was the wife of A. Hays Busch, Los Angeles real-estate operator, and has a young son, Albert Hays Busch, Jr. She was graduated from the Marlborough School for Girls, and long has been prominent in the social affairs of the city. Mr. Le Blond also is a real-estate operator, and is a graduate of the University of California. He is a member of the Bachelors' Club, the Los Angeles Country Club and the University Club.

Scalding of Baby in Bath Proves Fatal

Scalding water, accidentally splashed on 11-month-old Bernice Hier last Sunday morning, caused the child's death last night in General Hospital.

The baby was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hier, 1210 Morningside street, Venice. Mrs. Hier was bathing the baby at home when a water spigot suddenly shot scalding water into the baby's bathtub, a police report stated.

Police Detain Actor's Ex-Wife

Mrs. Helen Gibson, divorced wife of Hoot Gibson, last night was detained by local police on a forgery warrant at the request of the San Diego police. When taken to Central Police Station, she asserted that the action in requesting her detention was unwarranted as she had plenty of money in her bank to meet the check drawn against it. She said that she supposed the bank rejected the check because of the irregularly written signature. She was booked on a charge of issuing a fictitious check.

Asked about her announcement on the night of July 31, last, at El Cortez Hotel, San Diego, that she had married Virgil Ashley Kelly that day in Tia Juana, she said that was just a joke. She added that she still is Mrs. Helen Gibson, but that she jokingly had told a friend that she had married Kelly, a Hawaiian pineapple planter. This report was relayed in good faith to newspapers. When she was called up at the hotel that night, Mrs. Gibson confirmed the report. Last night she said she just had been joking.

THIRTY-FIVE BACH CRAFT CONTRACTED

A contract for one of the largest single orders of trimotored airplanes ever placed has just been received by the Bach Aircraft Company, according to announcement yesterday by officials of the factory at Metropolitan Airport. A telegram from B. L. Graves, president of the company, who now is in Detroit, told of the closing of a deal with Bill Brock and Edward F. Schlee, round-the-world flyers, calling for the delivery to them of thirty-five Bach Aircraft transport planes before September 1, 1930.

Brock and Schlee recently obtained a franchise as general eastern distributers of the Bach plane, and this is their initial order. The planes will be of ten-passenger capacity and be equipped with three motors, the total cost representing an investment of $1,400,000.

Officials of the factory yesterday declared the order will necessitate a large increase in the factory's personnel and manufacturing facilities. Plans will be completed immediately, they said, to put the plant on an output basis of six planes a month.

LIFE GUARDS APPLAUDED ON SHOWING

Rescue of 125 from Seas This Season Reported at Official Inspection

Los Angeles' municipal life guards have saved 125 persons from watery graves since the beginning of the bathing season this year, it was revealed yesterday by C. P. L. Nicholls, supervisor of aquatics in the playground and recreation department. He made the announcement incidental to the official midsummer inspection of the crew of twenty-three full-time and five part-time guards, in addition to several volunteers. The inspection was held at the central life-saving station in Venice.

Weekly attendance at the municipal beaches to date this season has averaged 300,000 persons, Nicholls further declared, of which 100,000 were surf bathers. Every foot of the five miles of municipal beaches is patrolled constantly by the guards, captained by Chief Guard Myron Cox.

Dressed in their Sunday best swim suits yesterday, the guards were commended by Nicholls for the efficient part they have played in saving human life this year, which he declared, is witnessing the largest crowd of bathers daily since 1923.

FURNITURE CONCERN MOVES

The Western Office Furniture Company, which has been located at 754 South Olive street for the past ten years, is moving to 905 South Hill street today. The move is necessitated by the expansion of the business, which requires larger quarters to care for increased stock of office furniture, typewriters and adding machines.

MEMORY LANE ON AIR TONIGHT

KFI Will Offer Feature in 9 o'clock Broadcast

Gus Edwards to be Master of Ceremonies at KHJ

Other Features Announced for Various Stations

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

It will be like welcoming back a long-lost friend to hear "Memory Lane" tonight at 9 o'clock over KFI. The feature, which originates at San Francisco, is a three-year-old radio presentation, but it has not reached down this way for somewhat more than a year.

The half-hour this evening will offer another episode in the social life of Goshen Center. Picturing comedy and drama in the lives of small-town residents in the Midwest two decades ago, the Smithers family, and others of the social elite, will make their bow before the microphone.

The Memory Lane broadcast was originally in the form of songs of bygone days. But, when the gamut of old-fashioned tunes ran out, the continuity type of program was woven into the period.

DANSEUSE TO "APPEAR"

Gus Edwards is due to take the microphone in the studios of KHJ between 8 and 10 p.m. to act as master of ceremonies and display a bit of the versatility that has helped him achieve prominence in the creative world of music on the stage and in filmland.

Edwards, whose initial hit years ago was "School Days," is billed to give one of his latest tunes the air on this two-hour broadcast tonight.

Armida, Spanish dancer, is on the program for something or other, while Julia Faye, film player, also is among those listed.

ANOTHER SKIT

KMTR at 7 p.m. will dish out into the broadcast spectrum another skit. It's a difference of opinion what makes horse races. But Max Katz, booking agent, finds that his opinion is scratched when the Chronicles of Katz goes on the air tonight.

Hugo, the irresponsible nephew of Katz, has told a bookie to place 500 simoleons on a horse by the name of Artaxerxes. Unable to remember the name, Hugo merely tells him to place the money on the horse with the Greek name and writes a bogus check.

The outcome of Hugo's indiscretion may be learned by tuning in on the program tonight. It wouldn't be fair to tell it all here.

STARS TO PERFORM AT LOCAL RADIO SHOW

Pierre Mellonino, program manager for the National Radio Show, September 2 to 7, in the Ambassador Auditorium, promises the finest entertainment yet provided for the annual event. He is taking the great names of radio as centerpieces or focal points of each afternoon's or night's program, and is fitting the lesser lights around them, much after the manner in which a vaudeville program is arranged. In a short time he expects to have ready an impressive list of names for announcement, according to the show management.

AIRS UNDER TABOO SUNG OFF-STAGE

Perry Askam, Forbidden to Use "Desert Song" in Act, Evades Order

Faced with a suit in Federal Court for violation of the copyright laws if he sang selections from "The Desert Song" on the Orpheum stage, Perry Askam, late star of that operetta, put on a party out in the audience last night and with the curtain down sang two favorite numbers from the center aisle.

"There is nothing in the copyright laws, I believe, that prevents me singing these numbers from the 'Desert Song' as long as I do not sing them for profit," he said. "Pull down the curtain and we will have a little party out front."

The green light and the pink light and the white light, for the first time in months, dropped away down in front of the footlights, which in turn blinked out as the curtain descended.

Askam, accompanied by his pianist, Cecil Stewart, clambered down among the musicians and the singing star took his position in the center aisle while Stewart slid in on the piano bench. Askam then sang "The Desert Song" and "One Alone," both from the tabooed operetta.

Mr. Askam explained that he had been threatened with suit by Lillian Albertson, who holds the rights to the "Desert Song" on the west coast.

"At the close of the afternoon performance," he told the audience last night, "I was notified by Mrs. Albertson's attorney not to sing selection from the 'Desert Song.' I do not like to disappoint anyone, hence the free party out front with the curtain down—and I didn't get a nickel for it, either."

COLMAN GLEAMS AS TALKIE STAR

First Film Promises Greater Range for His Talent

"Bulldog Drummond" Fantastic Melodrama

Premiere at United Artists Draws Large Crowd

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Dirty work, terrible, terrible dirty work, is done at the crossroads in "Bulldog Drummond." And the night is dark and stormy besides . . . ! ! !

Who would have believed that the serious Ronald Colman would make his debut on the talking screen in a melodrama that out-mellows the mellowest to such an extent that at times it becomes a very pleasant burlesque?

"Bulldog Drummond" entered the lists as the latest candidate for honors in the sound feature world last night at the United Artists' Theater and proved a source of mirth and thrills to a large and representative audience. It would have won even greater acclaim than it did had not the audible portion of the film endured some malady for a reel or so. The trouble was attributed to the excessive number of lights used for illumination at the premiere, and caused a humming which distracted for a while. The trouble was remedied, but not before a portion of the dialogue had been lost.

This new film is splendidly made from a technical standpoint, and is bound to be interesting and entertaining for the majority of audiences. It is a novelty in its idea, and original in the treatment thereof. Add to this the fact that it brings the first effort of Colman as an audible star.

"Bulldog Drummond" gives him a new personality. It is apparent that comedy will be his forte, as well as drama from this initial adventure. He loses nothing by the transition, but rather gains a great deal. He has a cultivated and resonant voice, and an ability to color words which will probably permit him a large range in his future career. He is one of the most successful in accomplishing the change.

The picture tells an agreeably far-fetched story about a bored Englishman who, looking for some relief from the monotony of club life, runs an advertisement in a newspaper, the purport of which is that he desires adventure. There are answers galore, and the one that he chooses leads on a weird and fantastic exploit involving much hokus-pocus and plenty of crooks.

There is, to begin with, the pretty heroine in distress. She avers to Drummond that her uncle is being held a captive in a sanatorium, and that because she is afraid of scandal she does not desire to tell the police. An extortion plot is on foot in which the doctor at the head of the sanatorium, as well as various other conspirators are involved.

What with death threats and torture threats, auto chases hither and yon through the night, quick rescues and intriguing escapes from danger, the production runs a lively and fascinating course. The unbelievableness of certain episodes does not seem to detract because the whole atmosphere of the film is fantastic and its aim chiefly to amuse, which it succeeds exceptionally well in doing. The unreality may be resented by some audiences, but not until after they have time to think it over. While theyare in the theater they will find the film oddly capturing in its style and proof positive that the talkies can deal with rather evasive subject matter very efficaciously.

Colman dominates as the star, but he has a splendid foil in Claud Allister as a silly-ass type. The Allister portrayal is broadly and many moments brilliantly done. He discloses a new brand of humor fitting especially into the talkie scheme. He will be a decided hit.

Joan Bennett has such marked promise as a presence that one can almost overlook certain defects in her acting. She seems to fall short of the appropriate emotion at times. There are many indications that this girl will go far because of her individuality and refinement.

Very outstanding is Lilyan Tashman's work as the Lady Macbeth of the crooks. Lawrence Grant—to switch from Shakespeare to Dickens—does a Fagin-like impersonation, and Montague Love is the Bill Sykes in a dress suit. Richard Jones directed this feature, and Wallace Smith and Sidney Howard contributed the scenario and the dialogue respectively. Some mention needs must be made of the worth of William Cameron Menzies' settings.

"Tschaikowsky's Overture of 1812" with pictorial illustrations is an interesting short subject, as produced and directed by Dr. Hugo Riesenfeld. It is an impressionistic suggestion of the theme of this familiar composition, which points the way to a new sound development.

The "Bulldog Drummond" players and Director Jones were introduced by Sid Grauman. Colman and Allister received the major plaudits. Floral tributes and notable approval were also tendered Miss Tashman especially and Miss Bennett.

Accident Causes Post to Assume Dual Portrayal

At the start of his stage career, Guy Bates Post, who is appearing as guest star with the Henry Duffy Players in "The Masquerader," at the Hollywood Playhouse, acted a dual role by accident.

"I was appearing in Shakespearean repertoire with Otis Skinner," says the star. "One night an actor was ill and in one scene the characters had to meet and conduct a conversation. By switching the lines and putting all the plot in the mouth of one character, I managed to act both roles. But never again. Liberties never should be taken with Shakespeare." In "The Masquerader" Post has the dual roles of John Chilcote, the brilliant Parliamentarian, and John Loder, the penniless writer, two distant cousins who look exactly alike.

COMPOSER OFFERS PLEASING CONCERT

Mme. Maria Grever Sings Way Into Hearts of Beaux Arts Audience

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

The Latin - American colony turned out last evening to honor Mme. Maria Grever, a popular composer now resident in Los Angeles, who has touched the hearts of the Spanish-speaking peoples everywhere with her songs and lyrics. She was presented to her distinguished audience, gathered in the Beaux Arts Auditorium, by Andres De Segurola.

Mme. Grever's songs are the natural outpourings of a sympathetic, emotional artist. They are warm, romantic, colorful and touch a responsive chord in her listeners whether they understand her words or not. "Tu, Tu y Tu," "A Solas," "Come Back to Me," "Nobody Knows" and "Lamento" were a few of the many lovely melodic songs she gave with the assistance of Sol Cohen, violinist, and Robert Alter, violoncellist. Hazel Schertzinger, the harpist, was well received.

The assisting musicians also played solos which contributed to the varied and interesting program.

"Lucky Star" in Eastern Record

New York is enthusiastic over Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell in "Lucky Star," their first talking picture, which comes to the Fox Criterion Wednesday, following the conclusion of the run of "Showboat."

A wire received by the Fox Criterion Theater reads: "At the Roxy 'Lucky Star' is writing new records. Gaynor and Farrell in their first talkie proved stronger attraction even than 'Street Angel' and 'Seventh Heaven,' which held former records.

"Lines a block long before the theater day and night and hundreds of policemen on hand to hold back the week-end crowds. More than 200,000 persons paid their way into the theater during the first week and close to 180,000 the second week. All records—for one hour, for one performance, for one day to seven days went by the boards.

"Hundreds of wires dispatched from here congratulating Gaynor, Farrell and Borzage."

Children Visit Biblical Play

Youngsters from all parts of Southern California will assemble in Hollywood tonight to attend the observance of "Children's Night" at the Pilgrimage Play. Advance reservations indicate that many Sabbath and public school teachers will chaperone large parties of their pupils.

Manager Sparks Berry arranged the special night for the kiddies at the request of prominent ministers and educators of the city that the kiddies might have the opportunity to visualize the life story of Jesus of Nazareth.

Orchestra Will Play at Mayan

Patrons who like music with drama will be pleased by an announcement of George Scarborough to the effect that Roy Fox and his orchestra of ten pieces will play on the stage, in the pit and the foyer of the Mayan Theater during the run of Scarbough's new three-act play, "Bad Babies."

The Mayan reports an unusually large demand for seats. Scarborough's friends are eager to see what he calls a "comedy of life." The cast includes Jobyna Ralston, Mervin Williams, Arthur Rankin, Elinor Flynn, Norma Peck, Annette Westbay and Marjorie Montgomery.

Comedian Added to Variety Bill

Hal Jerome, popular "laughologist," has been added to the new Orpheum bill, starting Saturday. He will be assisted by Gloria Gray. Harry Richman, musical comedy and night-club favorite, headlines the bill, which also features Nance O'Neil in a condensed version of David Belasco's "The Lily."

Colored Comic to Appear on Loew's Stage

Stepin Fetchit in person during the week and personal appearances of other stars tonight at both performances are added attractions for the gala new program selected to open Greater Movie Season at Loew's State, starting today.

The colored comedian is also in the screen cast of the feature picture, "Salute," a Fox all-dialogue story of love and football at Annapolis and West Point, with the Army-Navy game filmed in sound as one of its highlights. George O'Brien heads the cast of principals who will appear tonight, including Helen Chandler, William Janney, Joyce Compton and Frank Albertson.

Stepin Fetchit, who started at Loew's State several months ago, is now rated as one of the most popular screen comedians and this will be his first return to the stage since his meteoric rise in dialogue Fox pictures. "Screenland Melodies," the Fanchon and Marco stage idea, will revive many popular musical hits introduced in recent photoplays.

Gilda Gray to End Footlight Career Shortly

Gilda Gray's announced retirement from the stage, upon the completion of her engagement as the featured star at the Hillstreet starting Saturday, will not only deprive audiences of her lovely dancing and vibrant personality, but will mark "finis" on her stage production activities which have been little mentioned but much in evidence during her career.

In addition to Miss Gray's appearances before audiences, she has contributed much to the staging of productions, chiefly her own and more or less frequently others. Her present, and last stage offering was costumed, staged and lighted by the star herself, as were all of her previous productions.

The act presents, in addition to Miss Gray, ten dance artists picked especially to appear with the star. Her engagement at the Hillstreet is made doubly interesting by the fact that the night-life story of London, "Piccadilly," in which Miss Gray also stars, will be shown as the screen feature.

Stage Training Helps Meighan in Film Roles

Talking pictures chronicle another important aquisition in the person of Thomas Meighan, who takes the leading role in "The Argyle Case," which starts at Warner Brothers' Theater Monday. Although Meighan has been working in silent motion pictures for over ten years, he is aided by years of training on the stage before entering pictures.

In "The Argyle Case," adapted from the detective story which was written by Harriet Ford and Harvey J. O'Higgins, he is seen as the detective, Alexander Kayton, who eventually solves the mystery surrounding the murder of John Argyle.

The supporting cast of this production includes H. B. Warner, Lila Lee, John Darrow, Bert Roach, Zasu Pitts, Wilbur Mack and other prominent screen players. "The Hottentot," starring Edward Everett Horton, which has been amusing the patrons of Warner Brothers Theater during the past two weeks, is to be shown for the last times on Sunday.

Italian Father Hit at Belasco

One of the many laugh hits in "The Little Accident," now at the Belasco, is the patient anxiety of the Italian father at the hospital while waiting for the news of his sixth child. The role is splendidly played by Adrian Rosley.

Rosely, although he portrays an Italian in the "Little Accident," was born in France and lived most of his childhood in Russia. He began his stage career in America singing Italian opera, obtained a foothold on the dramatic stage by playing Japanese roles and later scored as a Frenchman. Crosby Gaige changed him into an Italian.

MUSIC BOX PLAYERS SELECTED

Harry Carroll Announces Opening Date for New Extravaganza

Harry Carroll is determined to present one of the most brilliant casts in musical revue annals when he starts the latest of his extravaganzas at the Harry Carroll Music Box Theater. September 15, next, has been definitely fixed as the opening date of the Carroll show.

The cast already includes Vera Marsh, Al K. Hall, Will, Den and Gladys Ahearn of the noted Ahearn family of musical comedy stars; Antonio De Marco, dancer, and Mitzi Mayfair, child dancer.

Jesse Greer and Raymond Klages, musical comedy song writers, are working on new melodies for the players. De Marco, besides appearing in the revue, will serve in the capacity of dance director. Bud Murray, veteran New York musical comedy and operetta stage director, will again be in that capacity.

Bowl Program Includes Many New Features

A musical portrait of Charles Chaplin, screen comedian, as conceived by Alexander Tansman, Polish composer, will have its Southern California premiere tonight at Hollywood Bowl, with the subject of the composition occupying a box of honor. The new work will be the means of reintroducing E. Robert Schmitz, French pianist, who won an ovation at Hollywood Bowl in 1926, when he made his Southern California debut.

The anticipated local premiere of Ottorino Respighi's latest composition, "Roman Festivals," only completed last year and heard in few centers to date, will take place tonight, after two postponements. The introduction of this new work is particularly timely because of the present vogue of the composer. Two of his compositions, "Fountains of Rome" and "Pines of Rome," have been heard here twice. Ten musicians and one instrument not in the usual orchestral category will be added to the great instrumental ensemble.

Screen Player Cast in Drama at El Capitan

Bryant Washburn, who will portray Walter Turnbull, the lawyer, in "She Couldn't Say No," in which Charlotte Greenwood will appear as guest star with the Henry Duffy Players at El Capitan, starting Sunday, is better known on the screen than on the stage, but made a reputation as an actor in the East before he went into pictures.

Washburn's performance in "Skinner's Dress Suit," made by the Essanay Company, brought him into prominence as a picture star and he was engaged almost immediately by the Paramount Company. He has starred on many screen productions and recently returned to the stage to appear in the leading male role in "Night Hostess."

In "She Couldn't Say No" he will play opposite Charlotte Greenwood, who will be Alice Hinsdale, the stenographer, who becomes a woman lawyer in a breach-of-promise case in a small town. Others in the cast of the comedy include Eddy Waller, Stanley Taylor, Edward McWade, William Robyns, William Turner, John Mackenzie, Wilbur Higby, Doris Brownlae and Jane Morgan.

Human Frailty Found in Play at Vine-street

An all too-common human frailty, it is said, launches "Expressing Willie," Rachel Crothers's comedy which starts Sunday night at the Vine-street Theater, on its whirlwind of gayety and laughter. In the play Willie, a young toothpaste king with a palatial estate on Long Island, leaves his home town to acquire the success which is his, so that he may marry his sweetheart, Minnie, a music teacher.

And, Willie, with his tooth-paste riches, is ashamed of his old-fashioned home-town background, and he is ashamed of his ever-faithful former sweetheart, Minnie. And, with charming naivete he takes it for granted that both Minnie and his mother will aid him in covering up his notorious past from his new-found friends, including the gay and sophisticated Mrs. Sylvester.

Franklin Pangborn is returning to the Vine-street stage to interpret the role of the tooth-paste magnet. The cast also includes the Tell sisters, Olive and Alma; Theodor Von Eltz, Frankie Raymond, Warburton Guilbert and Lurene Tuttle.

Midnight Show Promises Gala Entertainment

A number of the same popular stars who daily flash across the screen at Grauman's Chinese Theater in the "Hollywood Revue of 1929" will be presented in person Saturday night.

Heading this program as master of ceremonies is Walter O'Keefe, New York wit, raconteur, and song writer of wide following. The list of stars and artists whom O'Keefe will present to the audience includes the Brox Sisters, whose "Singing in The Rain" act is one of the film's most outstanding numbers; Karl Dane, Joey Ray, Charlie Kaley, the musical comedy star now under picture contract; Bobby Dolan, popular song writer and composer, and the Albertina Rasch Ballet.

This is in addition to the regular showing of the "Hollywood Revue," with its beautiful girls and settings, and comedy.

GRIFFITH TO MAKE FIRST SOUND FILM

Epic of Lincoln Will be Initial Venture of Noted Director With Talkies

Realization of an ambition of ten years came yesterday to D. W. Griffith, one of the foremost directors in the motion-picture industry, when Joseph M. Schenck, president and chairman of the board of directors of United Artists, announced Griffith's first talking picture will be "Abraham Lincoln."

D.W. GRIFFITH.

The announcement was made yesterday at a studio luncheon, at which both Schenck and Griffith outlined plans for the production, which, Schenck declared, will be an epic and that the director will be given unlimited financial support in his first attempt at spoken films.

JOSEPH M. SCHENCK

Griffith's production will not be based on any particular work on President Lincoln nor will any attempt be made to make a motion picture in the fiction sense, but a true story of the life of Lincoln. Ten years ago, Griffith said, he had his first ambition to make such a picture, but believed it not suited to silent drama. The talking picture, he states, will make it possible to screen a true story of the life of the great American.

"I consider it a sacred duty to screen Lincoln's life and I am sure that the story will fit the life of every American for he is the ideal American," Griffith declared.

According to Schenck, the decision for Griffith to film "Abraham Lincoln" was reached after a series of conferences with the director.

CREMATION HALTED BY RELATIVES

Body of Septuagenarian Examined Second Time to Settle Doubts of Kin

A cremation was halted yesterday to permit relatives to have a physician examine the body of Stephen Ackerman, who died suddenly this week at his home, 2519 North Beachwood Drive. He was 78 years of age. Dr. John H. Shaeffer of the county autopsy staff had performed one autopsy and reported that death was due to heart disease. The body had been sent to Mead & Mead, undertakers, 839 West Washington street. Mrs. Mabel Thomas of 1004 West One Hundredth street, a daughter, visited the Coroner on Tuesday, identified the body, and was assured that death had resulted from natural causes. She left, apparently satisfied.

Funeral services were conducted yesterday. Without explanation, Mrs. Thomas ordered the cremation postponed. It was learned by the Coroner's office that she questioned that her father died of natural causes, and she and other relatives engaged a private physician to conduct an examination before permitting cremation.

Too Many Other Women, She Says

There were too many other women in the life of Herman Holman to suit Mrs. Marie Holman, she told Superior Judge Rector yesterday and was granted a divorce.

Mrs. Holman testified that on one occasion a note was left in her screen door addressed to her husband which read:

"Hello Herman, I called to see you—give me a ring." It was signed Nora.
